POETICAL EXTRACTS.

Oh, Absalom! my son! my son! His fleece was white as snow; He stole a pig and away he run To the bay of Biscay, O.

The boy stood on the burning deck, And smoked his pipe of clay. And bet his money on a bob-tailed nag, When the moon had gone away,

I'm lonely since my mother died-The ice is round us still -So I'll peel a bag of taters, O, With the sword of Bunker Hill.

It is the hour when from the boughs I kissed my Moliy Ann, So rua, Elijah, and hurry up, Pomp Or any other man.

Oh what are the wild waves saying? I cried the whole night through; And a voice replied far up the height; A little more cider, too.

The harp at nature's advent strung Is coming through the rye! Then kiss me quick and go, my honey, Said the spider to the fly.

My Willie's on the dark, blue sea, With five hundred thousand more, And my days are gliding swiftly by To the old Kentucky shore.

A RACE FOR LIFE ON A RAILROAD.

TY MILES AN HOUR-A THRILL-ING NABRATIVE.

Correspondence Grand Rapids (Mich) Engle. * * To make it an intelligible matter to the reader, let me say that the Buffalo, Corry and Pittsburgh road intersects the Lake Shore road at this place -The station at the junction is called Brocton. Now let it be understood that from this point to Mayville, at the head of Chautauqua Lake, a distance of only elevation of 700 feet. From the station to the summit the grade is about 80 feet to the mile, with curves which increase the distance to four miles. It is over this read that the immense quantities of jet uleum are brought.

On Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock, Junction. Here, by some cause as yet unexplained, one of the oil tanks took fire. oil cars were cut off, and the locomotive, tender, and a box car containing two valroad, the engineer supposing that the exert over physical conditions. brakemen on the oil cars would arrest the men flat upon the floor, and yet almost miraculously not throwing the engine from

The whole heavens were illuminated, and the landscape way lit up as by the noonday light. Onward and downward flew the engine, and behind it flew and thundered the huge fiery demon. Twice its prodigious weight was driven against the fugitive, as if instinct with a purpose to drive it from the track. It seemed as if to the heroic engineer and fireman there was a perfect environment of peril. The speed of the engine was such that it ceased to pump; then again, the Cincinnati express was due at the Junction at this time. The engineer of the oil train whistled "open be sold at the suit of E. The engineer on this train saw the fire when it first broke out at the summit, and supposing he could clear the junction, before the flaming terror reached it, he, too, put his

Her fastidious husband remonstrated in vain against this onseemly exposure. Believing that if she saw her practice as others saw it, she would desist, he so directed their afternoon walk as to bring the nursery window into full view from a central part of the town.

Stopping abruptly, he pointed to the offending linen flapping conspicuously in the breeze, and asked sarcastically: "My dear, what is that displayed from our window?" "Why," she proudly replied, "that is the flag of our Union!" Conquer-AN ENGINEER CHASED BY FIRE AT SEVEN- ed by this pungent retort, he saluted the flag with a swing of his hat, and pressing his wife's arm close within his own, said as they walked homeward, "And long may it wave."

STRANGE COINCIDENCE. - The Syracuse Courier tells of a singular coincidence which happened in the family of a respectable citizen of that city. The birth of a little child occurred some nine months since. Its mother was ill at the time of about ten miles, a train is carried over an | consumption. | Since the child came into the world it has followed the physical condition of its mother with marvelous precision. Would she be taken with vomiting, the child would be afflicted in the same manner; did her health improve for a few weeks, marked improv ment was noticed. in the child; when her health declined, a train of six oil cars and two passenger the child's would also begin to decline at cars reached the summit on its way to the nearly the same time. A short time since symptoms of the child were of a similar The passenger cars were at once detached character. Finally the mother died, and and the brakes stopped them. Next the only a few seconds after breathing her last, the child followed her into eternity.
