

BARNUM'S BRICK MAN.

As an illustration of Barnum's habit of making everything tell to his account, Barnum relates the following anecdote as an illustration:

"One morning a stout, hearty looking man came into my ticket office at the Museum, and begged some money. I asked him why he did not work and earn his living? He replied that he could get nothing to do and that he would be glad of any job at a dollar a day. I handed him a quarter of a dollar, told him to go and get his breakfast and return, and I would employ him at light labor at a dollar and a half a day. When he returned I gave him five common bricks.

"Now," said I, "go and lay a brick on the sidewalk at the corner of Broadway and Ann streets; another close by the Museum; a third diagonally across the way at the corner of Broadway and Vesey street, by the Vistor House; put down the fourth on the sidewalk in front of St. Paul's church, opposite; then with the fifth brick in hand, take up a rapid march from one point to the other, making the circuit, exchanging your brick at every point, and saying nothing to any one."

"What is the object of this?" inquired the man. "No matter," I replied; "all you need to know is that I'll give you fifteen cents wages per hour. It is a bit of my fun, and to assist me properly you must seem to be as deaf as a post; pay no attention to any one, but attend faithfully to the work, and at the end of every hour by St. Paul's clock show this ticket at the Museum door, enter, walking solemnly through every hall in the building; pass out and resume your work."

"With the remark that it was 'all one to him, so long as he could earn his living,' the man placed his brick and began his round. Half an hour afterwards at least five hundred people were watching his mysterious movements. He had assumed a military step and bearing, and looking as sober as a judge he made no response whatever to the constant inquiries as to the object of his singular conduct. At the end of the first hour the sidewalks in the vicinity were packed with people all anxious to solve the mystery. The man, as directed, then went into the Museum, devoting fifteen minutes to a solemn survey of the halls, and afterwards returning to his round. This was repeated every hour until sundown, and whenever the man went into the Museum a dozen or more persons would buy tickets and follow him, hoping to gratify their curiosity in regard to the purpose of his movements. This was continued for several days—the curious people who followed the man into the Museum considered more than paying his wages—till finally the policeman, to whom I had imparted my object, complained that the obstruction of the sidewalk by crowds had become so serious that I must call in my 'brick man.' This trivial incident excited considerable talk and amusement; it advertised me, and it materially advanced my purpose of making a lively corner near the Museum."

contenance a benignity such as never anything human wore. It was stone but it seemed sentient. It ever imaged of stone thought, it was thinking. It was looking toward the verge of the landscape, yet looking at nothing—nothing but distance and vastness. It was looking over and beyond everything of the present, and far into the past. It was gazing out over the ocean of time—over lines of country waves which further and further receded, closer nearer and nearer together, and blended at last into one unbroken tide, away toward the horizon of remote antiquity.

It was thinking of the wars of departed ages, of the empires it had seen created and destroyed; of the nations whose birth it had witnessed, whose progress it had watched, whose annihilation it had noted; of the joy and sorrow, the life and death, the grandeur and decay of five thousand slow-revolving years. It was the type of an attribute of man—a faculty of his heart and brain. It was Memory—Retrospection—wrought into visible, tangible form. All who know what path is in the memories of days that are accomplished and facts that have vanished—albeit only a trifling score of years gone by—will have some appreciation of the pathos that dwells in these grave eyes that look so steadfastly back upon the things that were and forms that moved in a vague area which even poetry and romance scarce knew of—and passed one by one away, and left the stony dreamer solitary in the midst of strange, new age and incomprehended scenes. The Sphinx is grand in its loneliness; it is imposing in its magnitude; it is impressive in the mystery that hangs over its story. And there is that in the overhanging majesty of this eternal figure of stone, with its accusing memory of the deeds of all ages, which reveals to one something of what he shall feel when he shall stand at last in the awful presence of God.

SAVED BY AN INSULT.—Two painters were employed to fresco the walls of a magnificent cathedral; both stood on a rude scaffolding constructed for the purpose, some eighty feet from the floor. One of them was so intent upon his work that he became fully absorbed, and in admiration stood off from the picture, gazing at it with delight. Forgetting where he was, he moved backward slowly, surveying critically the work of his pencil, until he had neared the end of the plank on which he stood. At the critical moment his companion turned suddenly, and almost frozen with horror, beheld his imminent peril; in another instant the enthusiast would be precipitated upon the pavement beneath; if he spoke to him it was certain death—if he held his peace death was equally sure. Suddenly he regained his presence of mind, and seizing a wet brush, flung it against the wall, splattering the beautiful picture with unsightly blotches of coloring. The painter flew forward and turned upon his friend with fierce imprecations; but startled at his ghastly face, he listened to the recital of his danger, looked over the dread space below, and with tears of gratitude, blessed the hand that saved him.

SOBER MEDITATION BY MARK TWAIN.—In Mark Twain's new volume of reminiscences of foreign travels, "The Innocents Abroad," he for once abandons his persistent habit of making fun of everything, and thus discourses of the Egyptian Sphinx: After years of waiting, it was before me at last. The great face was so sad, so earnest, so longing, so patient. There was a dignity not of earth in its mien, and in its ELEVEN YEARS Of experience with a constantly increasing demand for Roback's Medicines is sufficient acknowledgment of their intrinsic merit, and places them the very first in rank for curing the diseases for which they are recommended. Sold by all Druggists.

COSTIVENESS, Or Constipation of the Bowels, should always receive prompt attention, as it pre-disposes the system to disease. The timely use of such a valuable cathartic remedy as Roback's Blood Pills has saved much sickness, disease and death, and many persons to day are indebted to these pills alone for their existence, as the certificates in our possession will attest.

DROPSY, And Dropsical Swellings, are always relieved, and often permanently cured, by the alternative effect which the timely use of Roback's Blood Purifier, when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, is sure to produce.

DINNER PILLS. All persons of bilious habits, after eating or drinking too freely, will find great relief in the use of Dr. Roback's Blood Pills. They aid digestion by stimulating the stomach, thus softening the bowels, remove sour eructations, etc., which follow from eating too heartily.

ERYSIPELAS Often arises from the myriad condition of the entire system, and no better remedial course is found than Dr. Roback's Blood Pills and Blood Purifier.

CONVALESCENTS, Or persons recovering from Fevers or any of the malignant forms of disease, will find Roback's Stomach Bitters invaluable as a tonic and stimulant for removing all the prostrating effects which follow disease. It invigorates the great waste long felt for a safe and reliable tonic and appetizer.

LIVER PILLS Are Pills that have a direct and powerful action on the liver, and relieve any inactivity or congested state of that important organ upon which depends the whole process of digestion. The importance, then, of procuring a Pill that shall have such direct action without the ill effects of mercury, is manifest to every one.

MELANCHOLY Is one of the many diseases of the nervous system arising from a low state of the constitutional health or severe prostration after long illness, and requires a powerful invigorating remedy like Roback's Stomach Bitters to restore the nerves to their natural vitality.

REVERE THE MEMORY OF FRIENDS DEPARTED! MONUMENTS, TOMBSTONES, &c. The subscriber still continues to manufacture of the best material and in the most workmanlike manner, at the Loretto Marble Works, all kinds of MONUMENTS AND TOMBSTONES, as well as TABLE and BUREAU TOPS, and all other work in his line.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" to be a valuable medicine in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, and all the ailments of the stomach and bowels.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia. Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to comment my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the efficacy of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart far from my usual course to express my great confidence in the medicinal quality of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a most valuable and valuable preparation. I do not say it will cure all diseases, but I say it will cure those which arise from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION. Hoofland's German Bitters are counterfeited. The genuine has the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825. THEY CURED YOUR FATHERS AND MOTHERS, And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no laxative prep or purgative, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are the greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint, DYSPEPSIA, Nervous Debility, JAUNDICE, Diseases of the Kidneys, ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Headache, Vertigo, Dizziness, Disruption for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, Fluctuating or Intermittent Breathing, Fluctuating or Intermittent Heat, Sore Throat, Suffering in a Lying Position, or Weakness before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Debility of the Skin and Eyes, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Head, Nervous Headaches of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits. All these and a host of other Diseases of the Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts of the most valuable medicinal plants from which these extracts are made in a pure and healthy manner. All the medicinal plants from which the extracts are taken are forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the medicinal purposes of these Bitters. There is no alcohol or substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence the only danger of their use is in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with a small quantity of Alcohol. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some tonic is required to assist the process of digestion. These remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, and are the only ones that will cure the most obstinate and dangerous cases of the diseases named, while the others are mere decoctions of roots in some weak tonic, and are of no medicinal value. Hoofland's German Tonic is a safe and agreeable remedy ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while it is strengthening, invigorating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY, Hoofland's German Bitters is a most valuable medicine in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, debility and want of nervous action, in the system. It is a most valuable and valuable preparation. I do not say it will cure all diseases, but I say it will cure those which arise from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coates street.
