The Truth About the Siamese Twins.

These "twin brethren" were born about the year 1825, at Bang Meklong, a village of fishermen, situated at the mouth of the river Meklong, and distant about thirty miles from the populous capital of Siam.

The land of their birth is a land where the religion of Buddha has taken the firmest root. The practical rules of conduct which the great Messiah of Brahminism taught have sunk deep into the hearts of the people of Siam; and there is no tenet on which Buddha laid greater stress than on that which upholds the sanctity of every form of animal life.

Perhaps in other countries such twins may have been born, but they have probably been destroyed or severed by a surgeon's knife, to take their chance of living or dying, as the Fates might determine. But in Siam, maternal affection, being strengthened by the maxims of religion, allowed no interference with this whimsical freak of nature; and so the Twins, who belonged to the humblest ranks of life, grew up to the age of seventeen or eighteen years amidst the fishermen of their native village.

In the midst of these agitations, there arrived an American vessel in the roadstead at Bangkok, laden with a large quantity of condemned guns and other military stores, which the astute Yankee had bought up in a Government auction at Calcutta, and expected to sell at high prices to the Siamese authorities who, as he imagined, would be only too glad to procure European weapons to turn in case of need against European intruders.

By some piece of good luck, the disappointed mariner fell in with the Twins, and, having once enticed them on board his craft, he was not long in weighing anchor, and went whistling down the Gulf of Siam, quite alive to the value of the prize he had secured.

MURDER WILL OUT.—A paper published at Burlington, N. J., affirms that the following is a true story, and can be substantiated by persons now living in that town. Some time ago a gentleman of considerable wealth in that vicinity, and who was supposed to keep a large sum of money in his desk, was aroused from sleep at midnight by the sound of some one forcing open one of the lower doors of his house.

Mr. Moses has been for eight years cutter at Wood, Morrell & Co.'s establishment, and now desires to inform his friends and the public generally that he has commenced business in Supper's building, on Clinton street, with a stock of goods adapted to the fall and winter, which he is prepared to make up in the latest styles and at moderate prices for cash, hoping by attention to business to merit a share of public patronage, and maintain that success which has heretofore attended his efforts in producing good fitting garments. Give him a call. Johnston, Sept. 2, 1868.-f.
