A Bad Parallel.

THE Johnstown Tribune is anxious for an THOMAS A. MAGUIRE, a United States official at Washington, wrote from that city to M. M. ADAMS, Esq., of Cresson, a letter opening up the way to further correspondence, making it an object to him (ADAMS) to change his political faith and support Hon. DANIEL J. MORRELL for Congress .-Mr. ADAMS handed that letter and his reply to the then editor of the Freeman, by whom it was published. That was a matter entirely and exclusively between Messrs. MAGUIRE and ADAMS, and the publication of the former gentleman's letter and the latter gentleman's reply was nothing more than the publication in the Democrat and Tribune of Mr. PERSHING'S letter and Mr. M LAUGH. LIN's rejoinder, for which act nodody ever blamed either of them. The Freeman had nothing to do with the character of Mr. Ma-GUIRE's letter when its owner requested its publication. The Tubune does not pretend that we opened the letter, nor that we even read it. Then where is the parallel! Mr. M'Laugulin did open another man's private letter entrusted to his care. The whole difficulty arose out of that act, and the less Mr. M'LAUGHLIN or the Tribune stir it up the better for their own peace of mind and damaged reputations.

We desire no personal controversy with the Tribnne, and therefore shall not retort the dirty words applied to us; but simply desire for the Tribune a better judgment and a better spirit than it has manifested in this attempted parallel, and for Mr. M'LAUGHLIN a more correct, sincere and courteous apolo-

The Present Congress.

If there ever was a Congress that has ut terly and miserably failed to meet the pressing demands of the whole country, the present body is pre-eminently entitled to that unenviable notoriety. It has been in session six months, and proposes to bring its useless, and, in many glaring instances, corrupt labors to a close on the 15th of July. It has been essentially a Congress of huge legislative jobs, and as the Hon. S. S. Cox remarked a few days ago in a speech, the present administration in all its leading measures is emphatically a jobbing concern. In the House weeks and months have been wasted away in the gold panic investigation and in that other shameless proceeding, the corrupt sale of West Point cadetships both of which ended in whitewashing reports. The Georgia bill and other vindictive measures in relation to other Southern States, have consumed at least two months of the session. The tariff bill has occupied weeks and weeks of the time of the House, only to meet with an inglorious death and to be ruthlessly slaughtered in the house of its own boasted and peculiar friends. The odious income tax, against which the whole country protests, but which Grant's Commissioner of Internal Revenue (Delano) stoutly defends, was not and will not be repealed. On the great and important subject of currency nothing has been done, or is tikely to be done, during the present session, although there has been a vast amount of fine talk indulged in about funding the debt at a lower rate of interest. There has not these remarks, the following sensible and been much difficulty, however, in passing straightforward article from the Pittsburgh bills by which millions of acres of the public domain have been granted to a set of corrupt and voracious rail road corporations. The most shameless and gigantic swindle of this description has been the unparalleled grant of the public lands to the Northern Pacific Rail Road. Outrageous and infa- tage. mous as was this corrupt scheme, the Congressional vultures flocked to their prey. a still worse and more venal House, and bill, most villainous in its provisions, to enthe veto power has practically become obsoate a few days ago and as its leading feature vote, it is very certain of being enacted into a law before the final adjournment.

Even Simon Cameron has become ashamed and disgusted with the corruption and imbecility of his Radical friends in Congress, and

Black Against Wilson.

The February number of the Atlantic Monthly contained an elaborate and carefuly prepared article under the title, "EDWIN M. STANTON," written by HENRY WILSON, one of the Senators of the United States from Massachusetts. The writer had two purposes in view, the first of which was to wilfully and knowingly, defame and misrepresent the administration of James Buchanan, and to criminate and malign the reputation of certain members of his Cabinot at the outbreak of the late civil war, and especially to impugn the patrictism and devotion to the constitution of his country of one of the foremost and brightest men that Pennsylvania has ever produced-JEREMIAH S. BLACK, President Buchanan's Attorney General when the rebellion commenced; and, secondly, to even asperse and next to eulogize and defend EDWIN M. STANTON, who for a time was the succesor of Judge BLACE and subsequently Secretary of War under Mr. Lincoln. We would like to publish Senator WILSON'S article and Judge BLACK's reply, (the latter having just appeared.) in order that the excuse to bespatter us. Some two years ago bane and the antidote might go to our readers together, but the great length of the productions of both these gentlemen, and the limited space of our columns, forbid it.

That there has been an astonishing and persistent amount of wilful falsehood and bold and reckless misrepresentation written and spoken about James Buchanan and his Cabinet, and their official connection with the secession from the Union of the Southern States, we have all along been well aware The trath of History, however, and especially the official acts of any administration, of whatever party, in reference to so important and vital a question as the great finally misinterpreted or misrepresented by demagogues, under the special, and, in these latter days, hypocritical plea of that backneved, but much abused term, "Loyalty." It is well for the perfect vindication of his. tory that Judge BLACK is now living, and that he is gifted with the ability to write venomous essay of Wilson. We in Cambria county, the old neighbors and friends of Jerny Black, as he is familiarly called, feel a just and an honest pride in all that concerns his fair name and reputation. We feel that he is a part and parcel of us, where his earliest professional efforts were

In disposing of this correspondence, we will simply say, that in view of the terrible antly administered to HENRY WILSON, who dishonors the seat that was once immortalized by DANIEL WEBSTER-he who was so of the constitution"-Mr. HENRY WILSON deserves the heart-felt sympathy and commiseration of the American people.

The Fenian Raid.

An attempt was made in the early part of last week by certain misguided, but honest and enthusiastic, Irishmen, to invade the Dominion of Canada. The leader of the prominently in the same kind of an expedition three years ago, and which terminated quite as disastrously as the present. The whole affair has ended, as every man of common sense knew it would end, in a miserable and disgraceful failure. Gen. HONESTY IN POLITICS .-- Morrell, the present Radical member of Congress from the Cambria district in this State, has been torced upon the party for re-election by the of the anti-Morrell delegates, who put the Hon. Samuel Calvin in the field as their choice, says. "When we assert that corrupt means were employed in order to secure legates, and that there are those sitting in this Convention who do not honesely represent the people, we state what is too painfully apparent to all, and we firmly believe that nominations so made cannot command the suffrages of those who prize honesty in polities. On the contrary, those who believe purity essential in nominations and elections, will spurn the candidate placed before the people corruptly, as a nomination not fit to be made." This is the language of Radical delegates, not ours, and it is no dull shaft. It pierces the armor of the Radical party and shows by what means men are put upon their tickets. Mr. Morrell has in the Radical party, and these men have a candidate of their own and mean to support him. The Post cannot cover up this voting money into his own pocket, by inby him .- Phila. Age.
