A Tennessee Wonder.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial thus describes Nicksjack (from Nigger Jock's) Cave, twenty-one miles west of Chattanooga :

The Cave is probably the largest in the State, and to explore it even but a short distance is enough to satisfy one that it is 'grand, gloomy and peculiar.' Its mouth is about one hundred feet wide and 'near forty feet high. It is arched overhead with pure granite, which presents a smooth surhundred feet of the cave is a large room arched overhead, and a portion of it having a smooth illoor of dirt. It is a very popular place for balls, pic-nics and Fourth of July assemblages, the temperature always being delightful. Tradition tells of a large number of interesting and horrible affairs connected with this cave. Dead men, and dead men's bones, have been found in its gloomy recesses. ### BEE HIVE The undersigned has secured letters patent of the United States, dated December 14, 1869, for an improvement in the construction of Bee Hives, and claims for his invention advantages possessed by no other heretoford patented. The principal feature of this Bee Hive is the arrangement by means of which it is thorough ly ventilated, thus precluding the possibility of the bees smothering, the comb moulding or the honey souring. This desirable end is accomplished by a vertical perforated tube, running centrally through the hive and open at the top and bottom. All persons interested in apiculture will at once see the great advantages secured in this improvement. The ventilator is for the increase of bees.

The peculiar construction of the box, particularly in the arrangement of the inner compartments, whereby it can be cleaned at any time without disturbing the bees, is another valuable improvement which will be obvious to any person who examines this Hive. An examination of the workings of the bees or the condition of the interior can be made at any time, as the sides are cased with glass. Bees can be trasferred from a different hive to the mproved one without any difficulty whatever. It would require too much space to enumerate here all the advantages claimed in this invention, but full information will be promptly fur nished by applying in person or by letter to the patentee .- I am now prepared to dispose of territory for the sale of the Improved Bee Hive in any portion of the United States.
