Decided Against the Country.

Cambria Freeman. EBENSBURG, PA. THURSDAY MORNING, : JULY 14, 1870.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION

The Democratic electors of the several Elec-tion Districts of Cambria county, will please meet at their respective election houses, on SATURDAY, THE OTH DAY OF AUGUST, 1870. SATURDAY. THE 6TH DAY OF ADGUST, 1870. between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock. P. M., and elect two delegates each, to attend the County Convention to be held in Ebensburg, on MON-DAY, THE 8TH DAY OF ADGUST, 1870, to place in nomination a County Ticket, to be supported by the people at the ensuing general election, and to transact such other business as the inter-ents of the party may require ests of the party may require. By order of the Committee. F. A. SHOEMAKER, Chairman. Ebensburg, July 11, 1870.

IT affords us pleasure to state, as we have no doubt it will our readers to learn, that the able and eloquent Daniel Voorhees has been renominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Terre Haute district of Indiana. He has a hard road to travel, but as he has once before "made his calling and election sure" in the same district, we think it reasonably certain that he will do so again. At least, he deserves success.

On vesterday the Democratic Congressional Conference from Fayette, Westmoreland and Indiana counties, met at the Monongahela House, in Pittsburgh, and unavimously nominated Henry D Foster for Con We trust that John Covode will so gress. in fixing things with the Radical succeed conferees of the same district us to euchre all the other Republican aspirants and secure the nomination for himself. In that event, so far as his certain defeat can be anticipated, he will be "the right man in the right place."

IT is now said that Grant, notwithstanding the final rejecection of his pet scheme, the San Domingo job, will attempt, probably not at this session, but during the next, to reach the same result, by a joint resolution of Congress. Although Ben Butler has made several abortive attempts in this direction during the present session, it is confidently asserted, by those who are opposed to this Presidential swindle, that the project, whether attempted at this, or the next session, is sure to meet with the same merited fate as the lately rejected treaty.

In its highfalutin laudation of Major General (?) James Potts, the Johnstown Tribune will be. Ebensburg to a man will vote to con-tinue to live upon the remainder of the county. Let us be equally determined that when we support paupers it shall only be in the poor house.

A verdict against the people is the virtual meaning of the midnight vote of Tuesday's session, by which the Income Tax was perpetunted until the year 1872 It appears that this great wrong might have been avoided if it had not been for the absence from his seat, at the most important moment in the history of the Tax bil, of the venerable and distinguished Seer of Lochiel, Senator Cameron .-Why he descried the cause he had faithfully served up to the hour of its final issue, is not clear, though an explanation may possibly be found therefor in the concluding line of our Washington special despatches of Tuesday light. It reads as follows : THE TAX ON GR. SS RECEIPTS IS ABOLISHED "

The contest in the Senate finally turned on the question whether a few large corporate bodies should be compelled to pay a fair and impartial tax on their gross receipts, or whether they should be relieved from such -payment by the continuance of the tax on incomes. The railroad lobby never worked more energetically nor more successfully; the gross receipts are untaxed. Every selfish interest in the country arrayed itself in the Senate to defeat the almost universal protest of the people against the inicuitous Income levy. The President, regarding the claims of the hordes of assessors and collectors who had labored in his behalf, recommended in his late message that the tax be continued; the assessors and collectors themselves besieged Congress in their own behalf; and, finally, the tailroad corporations sent their lobbyists to insist on the abolition of the gross seccipts tax. It is believed that the patriotic Seer of Lochiel is more largely interested in the gross receipts of at least one railroad, than a y other person sitting in the been extravagant ; on gross receipts, however, he has been a pecuniary sufferer. It may be suggested that the Great Chief of Winnebsgo, who never deserts a friend or a principle, did not know that a final vote would be taken, on Tuesday night, on the continuance of the Income Tax ; but in contradiction of such a theory appears the Seer of Lochiel's well known powers of second sight, by which he is enabled to see as far into the future as it was, who prophecied, at the dawn of the Rebellion, that a Negro would, before the Secession question was entirely settled, occupy Jefferson Davis' seat in the Schate. At least up said he did, and, in confirmation of it, is not Senator Revels a Negro, and does he not occupy Jefferson Davis' Senatorial place ?

If the Great Seer could foretell the rise and progress of Revels ten years before either occurred, could he not foresee that in half an hour his vote would be needed to privent the country ? To suppose otherwise is to disbelieve in the theory of second sight, or to deny the gift of foretelling events to Senator Cam-

He pro know that his vote would be needed; and with this knowledge he deserted his colleagues at the last hour, and by such d sertion, the country must endure for two years longer responsibility rests upon Senator Cameron and upon no one else.

Potts and Conemangh County. Potts and Conemaugh County. "So long ago as 1851, he (Potts) was prominent among our then public-spirited citizens to get up the project of a new county, to be called "Conemaugh." He was delegated by our citi-zens to go to Harrisburg with their petitions and to represent them before the Legislature on this important subject. He remained there six weeks, using his efforts for that inudable measure. He had influence chough to have the bill reported favorably and mass through the Committee of the Whole, but the member then representing Cambria county, (Dr. William A. Smith.) who resided in Ebensburg, had the bill defeated on second reading.

The above paragraph is taken from a long editorial article in the Johnstown Tribune of July 1st. Now mark how a plain statement of facts will dispose of each and every one of the foregoing allegations. Of course I do not pretend to hold the ostensi- Republican of January 17, 1807 : ble editor of the Tribune responsible for uttering so many falsehoods in so brief a space. He is simply the victim of misplaced confi dence. The writer of this article represented Armstrong county in the House of Representatives during the sessions of 1850, 1851 and 1852, and what he now proposes to say, in denia! of the above statement, is as fresh and vivid in his memory as a thrice told tale. and is a brief review of legislative proceedings in 1851-"all of which he saw and part of which he was."

It is not true, but an unqualified falsehood, that Dr. Wm. A. Smith was the represeptative from Cambria county during the session of 1851, but it is true that he was the member from this county during the "session of 1850. The gentleman who mpre-Senate. John Linton, then a resident of Johnstown, but now a citizen of Rochester, Beaver conty, and as true and hopest a man as ever represented this county in the Assembly. He (Linton) defeated Dr. Smith in October, 1850, the district being then composed of Cambria, Bedford and Fulton counties, with two members-John Cessna, then a democrat, being Linton's colmen of less gifted minds see into the past. He league. On the 12th of February, 1851, Major Linton presented the bill then and afterwards known as the "Conemangh county" bill, and on his motion the bill was referred to a select committee consisting of Messis, Linton, Olwine, O'Neill, Ross and Fiffe. On the 14th of the same mouth, Mr. O'Neill, one of the members of the committee and at present a Republican member of Congress from Philadelphia, reported the bill as committed. Subsequently to this, petiinfliction of the odious Income Tax upon the tions in favor of the passage of the bill, as well as remonstrances against it, were presented at different times during the session.

I gather these facts in connection with "Conemaugh county" from the official Journal of the House for the session of 1851. which is before me as 1 write. No vote was ever taken on the bill during that session. the unjust and inquisitorial Income Tax The Major Linton himself permitting it to die an ignominious legislative death. Four or five years afterwards this same "Conemaugh county" project was resurrected by George S. King, of Johnstown, who then represented this county. It passed the House, but it was defeated in the Senate through the peculiar tactics and skill of Major Thomas A. tax bill, is all true, and is fully sustained by Maguire, then of this county, who was at

Then and Now.

It is well enough occasionally, says the Harrisburg Patriot, to remind the radical voter of the doctrines professed and theories taught in the recent past, by the political leaders whom he follows, lest in the rapid retrogression of his party from the liberal position which it once essumed, he might forget and eventually deny that he was ever a republican. With this object in view we reproduce a letter addressed by John W. Forney to Andrew Johnson, a short time before the close of the late civil war, which originally appeared in print in the Washington who, by the acts of Republicans are declared

WASHINGTON D. C., Jan. 7, 1867. His Excellency Andrew Johnson :

MY DEAR GOVERNOR : I cannot too heart ily thank you for your letter, dated Nashville, December 30, 1864, received on Wednesday evening. There is not a word or sentence in the article from the Nashville Times, which you enclose, that does not meet my warmest approbation. I have read and re-read your letter and it, and have shown both to several intimate friends. I hope soon to be able to indorse both in my two newspapers-The Chronicle and the Press. After a pretty thorough canvass 1 thick the Senators and Representatives from Louisiana will be admitted; and, it this is so, it is easy to anticipate that those of Tennessee will also be received. The only person that I find opposed to your theory, and who is now hesitating as to the true course to be pursued in reference to the admission of Louisiana, is Mr Sumner, of Massachusetts. the white men of the North, the earnest, deter He may probably be followed by Wade, Wilkinson, Chandler and a few more; but Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, is open and determined in his course, and I think he will carry with him a number. The at tempt to embarrass the admission of such States as Tennessee, after having gone through such suffering as yours, and after having reorganized their States from the very foundation of principle and law, would be a sad proceeding.

The fact is, my dear Governor, we cannot resist peace, should the Southern people lay down their arms and demand to come back into the Union under the terms of the am nesty proclamation-agreeing to the abolition of slavery by the amendment of the Constitution, and consenting to the restoration of the old Union. Any party that opposes such an appeal would come to confusion, nor can we allempt to embarrass such questions as those presented in the case of Louisiana and Tennessee, by legislation on the subjet of legro suffrage, because that question belongs o the States-and it will look very odd if the egislators from the free States should enleavor to confer the right of suffrage upon the as yet illiterate negroes, just delivered the people. from slavery in the South, when, in nearly all the free States, the negroes are wholly disfranchised. Two More Heads Off.

On yesterday week, in the House, the contested seat in the third Louisiana district was considered. The vote for Bailey, Democrat, was 17,524, and for Darrel, Radical, 8,593-showing Bailey's majority to have been 8,931. It is quite unnecessary for us to say that Darrel was awarded his seat by the usual Radical vote, as in such cases made and provided, and that Daniel J. Morrell, as in duty bound, stood up to the work like a true Radical and voted to admit Darrell. On the very next day, the celebrated case from Missouri, of Switzler, Democrat, against Dyer, Radical, the sitting member. was called up. The report of the majority of the committee on elections declared Switzthis decision by a committee composed of a majority of Radicals, partizanship triumphed as usual and Dyer was given his seat by a strict party vote of 108 to 55. It is about as easy for a camel to pass through the eye tempt by the very men who assisted in of a needle as it is for a Democrat who has been fairly and honestly elected to Congress to get his seat, when a Radical is determined to usurp it. But "there is a good time coming," and the day is not far distant when justice will assert her admitted rights.

[For the Cambria Freeman.]

MR. EDITOR-Without suggesting, much ess dictating, the name of any person as a fit candidate for Assembly, I desire to say a one with southern principles, as understood and claimed by the leaders of the removal project. 1 do not propose to enter into a iscussion of that contemplated outrage further than merely to say that the candidate, whether he may prove to be a resident of the northern, middle, or southern portion of the ounty, must be a man who, on the removal issue, is "pure and beyond reproach." That he will be so I do not entertain a shadow of doubt, if the Democrats of the several lection districts will see to it that no man who is not somest and competent, and who is not ident fied or in any way connected with what are known as political "Rings," is sent as a delegate to the convention.

There is another subject, however, of great public concern, and one in which the Democratic party of the State generally and the Democratic party of Cambria county especially, is deeply interested. I refer to the apportionment of the State into Senatorial and Representative districts, which must be done under the constitution by the Legislature to be elected on the second Tnesday of next October. This business is no "fool's play." but is always surrounded with grave and innumerable difficulties, which no man except one of brains, and who can give a reason for the faith that is in him, is competent to solve. That we have men in Cambria county who are fully capable to represent faithfully and intelligently her political interests in this regard and to retain her separate representation in the House in the FROM St. Petersburg to-day we have a future, as it has existed since 1857, cannot be questioned, but it is high time to sound the note of alarm. As I said before, I am that the health of her beloved Minister at the advocate of no man specially nor is this communication addressed to you with the design of advancing or promoting the personal or political prospects of any one aspirant, whoever he may be, for the Legislature. A YOUNG MAN SHARES HIS FORTUNE WITH A DISINBERITED BROTHER, -Tenyes, fifteen--years ago, says the Kansas City Times, there lived in St. Joseph a family by a stern, though kind old gentleman, whom fifty years had touched lightly. He was wealthy, but what he prized above all, was the pride of his old age- two noble boys, G. orge and Frank, aged respectively eigh teen and twenty. The war came on-the terrible strife in which brother was arrayed against brother, and father against son. Mr. Adams was an uncompromising Union man, and his eldest son, George, espoused his father's cause. Frank joined the forces in defense of the sunny South, under William Y. Slack.

When the father learned of the course taken by the younger, his rage knew no bounds. He sent him word to return, or he was no of his love. His son replied that no inducement would cause him to surrender his principles. The old gentleman drew up his will eaving his youngest son penniless. The war continued, each of the brothers fighting valiantly in defence of their different banners. Peace once more blessed the land, the eldest son returned home, while the younger located in this city, and by his courteous bearing and close attention to business gained hosts of friends. His whereabouts were unknown to either father or brother, and, though he loved them both, his pride would not permit in to return to a home from which he had been cut off in a moment of passion. The old gentleman was gathered to his fathers. and the eldest son became sole heir to his fathers wealth. George was no sooner in possession of his property than he made diligent search for his brother, and after a time traced him to this city. The meeting be tween the brothers occurred only last week, and was both cordial and affecting. The eldest caused a deed of half his estate to be made out in favor of his younger, brother, and forced the acceptance upon him. Such a spirit is notle, grand and magnanimous. therefore we give St. Joe the credit, as stated above. The incident is true, as persons in both cities can testify.

The rapid cooling and condensation of heated air that supported it, and the extra weight of a bundred and eighty pounds, caused it to descend almost as fast as it went up, landing the two passengers with a heavy concussion on the eaves of a house from which they fell, bruised, gashed, and fainting, to the ground. At first they were supposed to be killed, but prompt medical attendance soon resuscitated them, and their hurts proved not very serious.

The emotions of a man hanging by his feet and hands alone and moving rapidly through the air, at an elevation of four or five hunonger heir to his broad acres or a recipient dred feet, may be better imagined than described. > ANOTHER ENGLISH HORBOR .- The Ux bridge massacre is succeeded by the revelation of a series of murders which throw all atrocity far into the shade. The London correspondent of the World gives an account of a "baby farmer" who has succeeded in murdering forty infants whom confiding mothers had entrusted to her charge. fiend is a woman named Waters, with mapy an alias, living in the suburbs of London .---Her numerous pseudonyms were necessary to her business. She wanted a child "as young as possible," so that it would know none but herself and husband "as its parents." She had a home in every way calculated to "make a child happy." It may readily be imagined that there were many mothers in London willing enough to dispose of their children on such easy terms. In
