GENERAL VON MOLTRE, the Chief of Staff of the Prussian forces, was born in Mecklenburg, in the year 1800 .-His father was an army officer. He was educated at the military school of Copenhagen and entered into the service of Denmark .--But afterward when the annexation of Schleswig-Holstein, where his father owned property, was under consideration, he accepted the German side of the dispute, and took service with Prussia, in 1822, gradually rising to a position in the staff ten years later. Shortly afterward he visited Turkey, and was invited by the Sultan to assist in the efforts that monarch was then making to improve the military standing of the Turkish army by the introduction of European reforms .--He seems to have been engaged in the service of different States for several years subsequently. It was not until 1853 that he acquired his present position in Prussia. He published a report of the Austro-Italian war of 1859, with reference to a plan of an expedition which he had projected, but he states peror, who had an army that "he could rely on," remered his plan nugatory. When at length the Schleswig Holstein question developed into a war, his services under Prince Frederick Charles, commanding the Allies against Denmark, were of the greatest service. His highest abilities were, however, not exhibited until the breaking out of the war between Prussia and Austria. His knowledge of technical detail and the science of war enabled him to take part in drawing up with Bismark the plan of that wonderfully successful campaign, and he expressed himself as never for a moment lacking cenfidence in it. He took a personal part in the battle of Sadows, and arranged subsequent negotiations which resulted in peace. Prussia has thorough confidence in his abilities, and he shares with her great his abilities, and he shares with her great as above. War Minister a held on the popular heart, although personally reserved almost to tac- GEO. C. K. ZAHM JAS. B. ZAHM ituralty, and devoted to her favorite science, his writings upon which are of great and recognized value. MARSHAL M'MARON, who is to command the armies of France, was born in Sully in July, 1808. He derives his descent from an Irish family, who risked and lost all for the last of the Stuart Kings. The McMahons, carrying their national traditions, ancestral pride and histo rical name to France, mingled their blood by marriage with the old nobility of their adopted country. This member of the family entered the military service of France in 1825, at the school of St. Cyr; was sent to the Algerian wars in 1830; while acting as aide de-camp to General Achard, took part in the expedition to Antwerp in 1832; attained to the rank of captain in 1883; and after hold-ing the post of aide-de camp to several African generals, and taking part in the assault of Constantine, was nominated Major of Foot Chasseurs in 1840, Lt. Colonel of the Foreign line in 1842, Colonel of the Forty-first of the line in 1845, and General of Brigade in 1848. When, in 1854, General Canrobert left the Crimea, General McMahon, then in France, was selected by the Emperor to succeed him in the command of a division ; and when the chiefs of the allied armies resolved on assaulting Sebastapol, September 8, they assigned to General McMahon the perilous post of carrying the works of the Malakoff. From his brilliant success on this occasion he was made to wear the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor; and in 1853 was nominated a Knight of the Grand Cross of the Bath. General McMahon, who took a conspicuous part in the Italian campaign of 1869, received the baton of a Marshal, and was created Duke of Magenta in commemoration of the victory. He represented France at the coronation of William III. of Prussia, in November, 1861, was nominated to the command of the Third corps d'armie October, 1862, and was nominated Governor General of Algeria by decree, Sept. 1, 1846

AN OLD MANUSCRIPT .- At Upsala, in Sweden, there is a curious and renowned old MS., commonly known as the Silver Handwriting. It is a translation of the Bible into the original Gothic, and the best authori ties claim that it was written toward the end of the fifth or the commencement of the sixth century. It was discovered in the sixteenth century, at Verden, on the Ruhr and its authenticity was at once established It was taken to Prague, but the Swedes took it away in 1648, and carried it to Stockholm; thence it was taken into Holland, and was brought back again for Sweden by the Chancellor de la Gardie, for $400. He had it magn ficently bound in a solid silver d ver and in 1669 presented it to the University of Upsala. It is written in silver, on c imson parchment. The headings and a and a full assortment of Gent's FURNISHING few principal passages are in gold. It is Goops. rich in Byzantine tracery of symbolical devices. It numbers 330 leaves, with 20 lines to each dage. Only two punctuation marks are used throughout-the period and the

THE COW TREE .- On the parched side of a rock on the mountains of Venezuela, grows a tree with dry and leathery foliage, its large woody roots scarcely penetrating into the ground. For several months in the year its leaves are not moistened by a shower-its branches look as if they were dead and with ered; but, when the trunk is bored, a bland and nourishing milk flows from it. It is at sunrise that the vegetable fountains flow most freely. At that time the blacks and natives are seen coming from all parts, provided with large bowls to receive the milk, which grows yellow and thickens at its surface. Some empty their vessels on the spot, while others carry them to their children .one imagines he sees the family of a shepherd who is distributing the milk of his flock. It is named the palo de vaco, or cow

NEW REMEDIES FOR BURNS .- Two new remedies for burns are added to the long list. The first is charcoal. A piece of vegetable charcoal laid on a burn at once boothes the pain, says the Gazette Medicale, and if kept applied for an hour cures it completely. The second one is sulphate of iron .-This was tried by M. Joel in the Children's Hospital, Lausanne, Switzerland. In this case, a child, four years of age, had been extensively burned; supparation was abundant and so offensive that the ward was uninhabitable. M. Joel ordered the child a tepid bath, containing a couple of pinches of sulphate of Iron. This gave immediate relief to the pain, and being repeated twice a day-twenty minutes each bathe-the to fill all orders in his line at greatly reduced suppuration increased, lost its odor, and the prices. Desirous of patronage from all former child was soon convalescent.

The undersigned has secured letters-paten of the United States, dated December 14, 1869, for an improvement in the construction of Bee Hives, and claims for his invention advantages poesessed by no other heretofore patented. The principal feature of this Bee Hive is the trangement by means of which it is thoroughy ventilated, thus precluding the possibility of the bees smothering, the comb moulding or the honey souring. This desirable end is accom- HARDWARE, plished by a vertical perforated tube, running centrally through the hive and open at the top and bottom. All persons interested in apiculture will at once see the great advantages seured in this improvement. The ventilator is for the increase of bees. The peculiar construction of the box, particularly in the arrangement of the inner compartments, whereby it can be cleaned at any time without disturbing the bees, is another valuable improvement which will be obvious to any person who examines this Hive. An examination of the workings of the bees or the condition of the interior can be made at any that the rapid movements of the French Em- time, as the sides are cased with glass. Bees can be trasferred from a different hive to the improved one without any difficulty whatever. | most reasonable terms it would require too much space to enumerate here all the advantages claimed in this invention, but full information will be promptly fur nished by applying in person or by letter to the patentee. I am now prepared to dispose of territory for the sale of the Improved Bee Hive of the Baltiin any portion of the United States.

A BALLAD OF THE PERIOD.

The auld wife sat at the ivied door (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese,) A thing she had frequently done before, And her knitting reposed on her aproped

The piper he piped on the hill-top high (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.) "HI the cow said, "I die," and the goose said,

And the dog said nothing, but searched for The farmer he strode through the dim farmyard (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese,) His last brew of eider had turned out hard-The connection of which with the plot one sees

The farmer's daughter bath frank blue eyes (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese,) She hears the rook caw in the windy skies, As she sits at her lattice and shells her peas.

(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.) If you try to approach her, away she skips Over tables and chairs with apparent ease. The farmer's daughter hath soft brown hair (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.) And I met with a ballad, I can't tell where,

The farmer's daughter bath ripe red lips

Which mainly consisted of lines like these PART II. She sat with her hands 'neath her dimpled checks (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese,) And spoke not a word. While a lady speaks There is hope-but she didn't even sneeze.

The sat with her hands 'neath her crimson cheeks (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.) She gave up mending her father's breeks, And let the cat roll in her best chemise. she sat with her hands 'neath her burning cheeks (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)

And gazed at the piper for thirteen weeks; Then she followed him o'er the misty leas. Her sheep followed her, as her tails did them (Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.) And this song is considered a perfect gem; And as to the meaning, it's what you please. -Chambers London Josernals

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE, -Lord Eldon once speaking of circumstantial evidence, remarked; "I remember once, in a case while I was counsel, that the evidence did not appear to touch the prisa oner at all, and he looked about him with perfect self control, evidently feeling himself perfectly safe. At last a surgeon was called who stated that the deceased had been killed by a shot, a gunshot wound in the head, and he produced the matted hair, and stuff cut from and taken out of the wound. It was all hardened with blood. A basin of warm water was or taken down without the use of ladders. brought into the court, and as the blood was gradually softened, a piece of printed paper appeared, the wadding of the gun, which proved to be part of a balled.
