JOHNSTOWN, Aug. 15, 1970.

Johnstown, Aug. 15, 1870.

Dear Freeman—A trip up the Monongabela valley last week convinced us that there is a vast amount of wealth in those beautiful hills yet, besides what has already been dug out.—There is a coal mine every half mile, pouring out its mineral wealth into thousands of boats. If the Rhine was as well supplied with coal, neither France nor Prussis would have to depend on England for a supply of fuel. There are also many boats built along that river, and consequently there are many saw-mills. The oak timber is brought down stream, while the pine is brought up from the mouth of the Allegheny by tug boats. Innumerable rafts lie along the shores, adjacent to steam saw-mills, and lumbering is quite a business the whole way along the slack water, a distance of ninety miles. We went up on the Belle, a little boat that used to run on the Allegheny, built on the stern-wheel principle. This boat runs in opposition to the U. S. Packet boat, a side wheeler. We should have said that one line of boats runs against the other. We returned in one of the U. S. Steamers, Captain Elisha Bennet, who had on hard a goodly number of preserves. We should have said that one line of boats runs against the other. We returned in one of the U.S. Steamers, Captain Elisha Bennet, who had on board a goodly number of passengers, besides one hundred and fifty hogs on the boiler deck. The aroma arising from these unwashed swine was not very agreeable, as every berth smelled like a pig-pen. There was immense growling as well as grunting till we got to Mo-Keesport, where the quadrupeds were landed. We stopped off a while at Brownsville, a little town built on a steep hillside and overreaching the summit, which is level. South from this place, one mile from the river on the Washington county side, is the calebrated "Krepp's Knob," the highest point of land in this State west of the Allegheny mountains. The bridge at that place on the National Road, was built in 1833 by La Baron & Dearmond. It is yet a substantial structure, spanning the river and resting on two piers and supported by two abutments. George Hogg, who was then a stockholder, was no relation to the hogs that came down the river on the boat. Robert Clark, Caleb Hurd, Daniel Moore, J. L. Boroman and Peter Humrickbons were also stockholders then. They have gone "over the river" long since. Brownsville is a well balanced place, morally speaking, having four churches and four distilleries. There are also foundries.

since. Brownsville is a well balanced place, morally speaking, having four churches and four distilleries. There are also foundries, boiler making establishments and machine shops. A large Union school house is located on the summit of the river hills. Bridgeport is just across Dunlap's creek from Brownsville, on the north side, while West Brownsville is on the opposite side of the Monongahela. It is a hard country around this place, as everything visible is made of limestone. The houses and horses, the sheep and cows, the potatoes and cabbages are all limestone, as also the hearts of the landlords. Brownsville, called after the color of limestone, is twelve miles from Uniontown and twenty from Connelsville, the nearest railroad points. The young people—the boys railroad points. The young people—the boys—along the river make a living by rowing skills through the waves made by the steamers, and by cheering whichever boat leads up or down. They are prolific sprouts of the devil's nursery in this part of the great creation. A vast quantity of marketing comes down the river on these boats to Pittsburgh for a distance of ninety miles. The trip can be made in ten hours, and in the night time, thus saving time and getting one's produce to market while sleeping. Altogether, the slackwater is a good institution. There was a pugilistic contest in the 6th ward, Johnstown, on last Saturday night, commenc-ing in a beer saloon and ending outside the boring in a beer saloon and ending outside the borough limits. Two men, whom we shall call A and B, which by the way are the initial letters of their names, took a pious notion to have a fight. One is a Scotchman and the other an American born Dutchman. Both are stout men, and when not under the influence of liquor are quiet, hard-working men. From outward appearances, we would have bet on the Scotchmen but the result was different. The fight man, but the result was different. The fight was agreed upon at the saloon, and a large was agreed upon at the saloon, and a large crowd repaired to the place chosen for the contest (Grubtown) after night and through the rain, to witness the contest, which lasted only a few minutes. Mr. A came home quite used up, and sent for the doctor to repair damages. He alleges foul play and threatens B with another round as soon as he gets well. So I may report progress again.

General Potts has withdrawn from the canvas this fall and a convention is called to meet at Cresson on next Saturday, to nominate an entire ticket. The removal cause is injured more by its friends than its enemies. They change from side to side too often. Some time ago I was roundly abused for not being a friend of removal. I changed tactics and argued removal; when, behold you, my removal friends ck to the ticke under this. The schools, which have been closed for some time, opened again on last Monday. The teachers are rejoiced, as there is now a prospect of their getting something to eat. ROB ROY.

A JUST COMPLAINT.-The editor of the Norris-A JUST COMPLAINT.—The contor of the Normania agriculture o er in full, and if it should meet the eyes of any of our delinquent patrons, we hope they will consider it specially designed for their edifica-tion, and that it will forthwith move their bow-els of compassion and induce them to loosen their purse strings and pay us what is justly and honestly our due:

Our complaint is all against a certain class of readers of our paper—men who receive weekly at their homes and firesides the labor of our hands-our time-our brain-in fact our very

It is mingled there in this printed sheet which seeks them every week, until the weeks grow into weary months, and months are lost in years.

Some count one, two, three, four, five years—a Defender every week—a change of interesting matter every time—a thousand subjects of interest every week—dellars worth of ground adinterest every week—dollars worth of good advice and general information—all gone to them from them to us nothing.

Not a cent. Not one dollar of credit on our books. Two, four, six, eight, and in many cases even ten dollars charged against them. Charged against two, three, or five hundred careless subscribers. Each one thinking his little sum of no great value to anybody.

Each one saying to himself, my account can run a few months longer, and no one intending wrong us at all. But you do wrong us, gentlemen. You are keeping us out of four or five thous-and dollars of our own money and forcing us to pay interest for a like amount.

You also oblige us to pay hundreds of dollars in letters, envelopes, postage and time required in soliciting you to pay.

Are you aware of that?

Do you know that every letter costs us four or five cents in eash?

Are you aware that five hundred letters cost us two or three days' extra labor, and at least twenty-five dollars in money?
Don't some of you remember that we have had to send you alone eight or ten letters?
Yes, and it is all wrong.

Yes, and it is all wrong.
We are wronged by it.
And you did not know it.
We know you did not.
And we trust you will not wrong us any more,
but proceed at once to send us our money.
Please do so and oblige us.

MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE.-Not a little excitement was created in our town, last Sunday afternoon, by the report that the dead body of a man had been found on Chimney Ridge suspended from the limb of a tree. The news spread rapidly, and in a short time a large number of people had assembled at the scene of suicide. The body was first discovered by C. G. McFarland and G. W. Deal, in a thick grove, a short distance cost of the rocks, and some twenty or and G. W. Deal, in a thick grove, a short dis-tance east of the rocks, and some twenty or thirty yards below the path leading along the brow of the ridge. It was suspended by a rope from the limb of a small sapling, and from the place selected and all the attendant circumstances, the self-murder must have been coolly and deliberately planned and executed. The body was in such an advanced state of decomposition was in such an advanced state of decomposition as to render the features entirely unrecognizable. An inquest was held on the remains by Esquire Leet, but nothing was elicited that would lead to their identification. From the fact that, with the exception of a few straggling gray hairs, the head was entirely bald, he is presumed to have been a man pretty well advanced in years. His dress consisted of a black hombarine sack coat, dark cloth vest and pants, vanced in years. His dress consisted of a black bombazine sack coat, dark cloth vest and pants, over and undershirts, and boots. His hat, a soft, low crowned felt, somewhat worn, together with a barred, unhemmed cotton handker chief and an empty pint flask, were found on the ground at his feet. His pockets contained a thimble, penknife and six inch rule, but nothing that would indicate who he was, where he came from, or his motive for self-murder.

ONE CENT PAYMENT FOR A SEWING MACHINE.

—Every reader of the Freeman who is not already aware of the fact, will learn by this week's paper that our next door neighbor, M. L. Oatman, has become agent for the renowned Grover & Baker Sewing Machine, one of the best, if not the very best, machines that American ingenuity has ever invented. Mr. Oatman has several of these machines on exhibition at his store room, and rather than miss the effance of making a sale, he will agree to accept in payment one cent the first day, two cents the sec-Carie 8., a seven year old daughter of a brook at Sulphur Springs, near the line sand a young lady friend, in attempting to the part of th

"THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES: Its Character, Conduct and Results;"—by Hon. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS—is the title of a valuable work the second volume of which has just been is-sued by the "National Publishing Company," Philadelphia, Pa.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Pive years have elapsed since the close of the bloodiest and most gigantic war known to modern history, and in that interval men have had an opportunity of thinking over the events which passed before them in such quick succession that reflection, was impossible; and as a natural consequence each section has manifested a great desire to hear what the other has to say of its motives and conduct in the great struggle. This has led to the production of numerous histories and narratives on the Northern side, but until recently no authentic or really meritorious history had appeared on the side of the South. The demand for such a work was keenly felt, and there was a very general feeling of satisfaction experienced throughout the country, when, three years ago, it was announced, that the Hon. A. H. Stephens, the Vice-President of the late Southern Confederacy, was about to issue a history of "The War Between the States." The promise then made is now fulfilled in the second and concluding volnow fulfilled in the second and concluding vol-ume of his great history, which lies before us. Mr. Stephens was for many years a prominent actor in the scenes of legislation which imme-diately preceded the war, and knows much of diately preceded the war, and knows much of the secret history of those stirring events which precipitated the great struggle upon us. The character of his mind, his habits of thought, and splendid powers of analysis, together with his great honesty and truthfulness as a statesman, rendered him in the eyes of the whole country the proper historian of the events in which he acted so constitutions a part. The indeptitation acted so conspicuous a part. The indomitable energy which, in the midst of failing health, he brought to the preparation of this work, was remarkable, and has resulted in the production of the best history of the war we have yet seen, and the only Southern history of real merit that has yet appeared.

has yet appeared.

The history of the earlier days of the Confederate Government, and particularly that por-tion of its existence at Montgomery, as a "Pro-visional Government," is given to the world for visional Government," is given to the world for the first time in these pages. Mr. Stephens took part in the Provisional Congress, as a del-egate from Georgia, and was entrusted with many important duties. His statements con-cerning these affairs are of great value. His narrative of the Conference between President Lincoln and the Confederate Commissioners at Hampton Roads, is the fullest and most valua-ble wat given to the public. Mr. Stephens was Hampton Roads, is the fullest and most valuable yet given to the public. Mr. Stephens was the principal negociator on the Southern side in these proceedings, in the history of which the people of the whole country are so deeply interested. The vexed question of the non-exchange of Prisoners of War is laid bare before the reader, and the peace movements in the South are thoroughly explained.

The present volume is a payration of the

The present volume is a narration of the vents of the War, and is as graphic and entertaining as a romance, while possessing all the higher qualities of a veracious history. It will be certain to find its way into the library of every man who desires to hear both sides of the question, and future generations will regard it as the principal authority on the Southern side. It is for sale by subscription only, and agents are wanted in every county.

7,915 gether ..... It is a fact, and the numbers prove it, that the sales in 1869 were more favorable to our rivals than in former years. It is also a fact that we sold forty thousand machines more last year than two years before. It is a fact again that the increased sale is owing to the great and growing popularity of our (Singer) Family Sew-ing Machines. With them you can sew beaver cloth or leather with great strength and evenness of stitch. This ready instrument can be promptly set for fine work, almost for all that tender fingers are able to perform.-Pittsburgh

We cannot refrain from adding our testimosewing machines may be as good—better they cannot be. In our household the Singer Sewing Machine has become a treasure above price, and judging from the way Mr. C. T. Roberts, the agent here, is disposing of these machines, they are finding a place in many other households that cannot fall to be made happier and better for so agreeable an innovation.

Frazer.-The cheap and flourishing Drug es tab 1shment on the corner of Main and Frank-lin streets, Johnstown, is well worth a visit from all, and especially from those who wish to purchase pure drugs, good dye-stuffs, the best of punts, or the finest perfumeries, notions and fancy articles. Mr. Frazer has the advantage of a large acquaintance and long experience in the business. He fully understands his busi-ness-knows what to keep, where to buy, how to preserve and how to sell his goods. Being a pioneer druggist, a good citizen, and a ciever dealer, he descrives and should receive a large share of public patronage.

New Machine.-W. F. Altfather, corner of Main and Franklin streets, Johnstown, is agent for a new Sewing Machine called the American Button-hole, Overseaming Family Sewing Ma-chine, which goes far ahead of all the Sewing Machines. It can sew leather or cloth, and can tuck, hem, quilt, bind, fell, overseam, em-broider and work button-holes. Those who need Sewing Machines should by all means call upon Mr. Altfather, as these machines cost no more than others, while they are far superior in all the attributes of a first class sewing machine.

Leopolds .- When anybody in this or surrounding counties wishes to dress like a gentle-man for a small amount of money he goes to Leopold & Brother, No. 241 Main street, Johnstown, at whose immense Clothing Store there is enough goods and enough bargains to satisfy the wants of innumerable buyers. If made-up garments are sought for they are the men to consult; if clothing made to order is desired, they know full well how to fill the bill. In either case entire satisfaction is guaranteed.

The Best Chance.-N. F. Carroll, No. 215 TO CLOSE OUT MY ENTIRE STOCK Main street, Johnstown, offers the last chance Main street, Johnstown, offers the last chance for bargains in summer goods, which are going off like hot cakes at agrailroad hotel. Such bargains in dry goods, dress goods, fancy goods and trimmings are seldom offered. Also, cheap groceries, fresh and pure, at the bargain store of N. F. Carroll, opposite the Opera House. Five dollars a day can be saved in buying cheap dry goods and groceries from Carroll. Try your luck when you go to Johnstown.

That's So !-The difference between six dozen and a half dozen dozen is just about the num-ber of hats sold every day at Cohen's Hat Parlor, No. 227 Main street, Johnstown, where those in need of nice, fushionable hats, can be accommodated, in quality, style and price. They have hundreds, nay, thousands of hats and caps of all sizes which they will freely exchange for greenbacks, and people with the greenbacks will find to their interest to make the exchange.

Cheap!—Know all men these presents that Mayer's Clothing Store, No. 214, Opera House, Johnstown, is the place where masculine wearing apparel is sold for a mere song. It is astoniabled to the check of the control of ishing to see what a bundle of goods can be ob-tained from Mayer for a few dollars. No one can fail to be pleased with the quality, style, finish, make and price of any article bought at this first class establishment, where slop-shop garments and exorbitant prices are unknown.

Leopold Mayer, Opera House, 212 Main st., Johnstown, has 100 webs of calico, 100 webs of light summer goods, besides shawis, silks, satins, delaines, chintzes, merinoes, laces, skirts, bonnets, hats, frames, etc., beyond computation, which he will sell at the lowest possible figures for cash. Remnants of goods at half price. He solicits a call from all who live in and all who visit Johnstown, believing that he can please all tastes and suft all pocket-books.

A Kissing Scene.—"Oh! kiss me and go," said the maid of his heart, as she proffered her lips as his pay to depart; "the morn is approaching, my mother will know, my kindest and dearest, just kiss me and go!" And the smack that he gave her was tarnation loud, as they parted that morning at the steps of the door, and soon the brave "lovyer" was lost in the crowd that was rushing pell mell to Shoemakers' cheap

Murphy, of Johnstown, has some very fine selections of dress goods at the Mansion House corner, which he is selling at cost and carriage, in order to make room for a large invoice of fall goods. Now is the time to get the best of good bargains in dry goods, dress goods, trimmings, fancy articles, cloths, etc. Buy from Murphy and you will make money by saving it. That prince of dry goods merchants, John J.

The Time o' Day!—It matters not what time of day it is, you will find James J. Murphy, 109 Clinton street, Johnstown, ready and willing to sell cheap ready-made clothing of all sizes and patterns, qualities and fashions. This is the place to procure seasonable sapparel that will stand the wear and tear and give entire satisfaction in fit, make, texture and price.

The Very Best.—Munson's Copper Tubular Lightning Rod, with Spiral Flanges, has been erected on thousands of buildings in all parts of the United States; and in a test of thirteen years, no Instance of their inefficiency has occurred. It has received the first premiums at many State Fairs and Institutes, and was never beaten in any scientific contest. It has been endorsed by over five hundred Professors of Colleges and scientific men, as the best rod over invented, possessing all the elements re-quired to protect buildings from lightning. Its power surpasses twenty iron rods, or a solid copper rod an inch and a half thick. It does not get out of order, but will endure as long as the building stands on which it is erected. No holes are made in slate or tin roofs, and in every respect the utmost satisfaction is guaranteed.—
The attention of Architects and Builders is respectfully called to the merits of this rod.

KANE.—At his residence in Gallitzin township, this county, on Friday last, Aug. 12th, after an filness of only a few days duration, Mr. RICHARD KANE, aged about 55 years.

We cannot state the age of the deceased with certainty, but from our intimate personal acquaintance with him, we presume it to have been near about what we have given it. Mr. Kane was born in the County Derry, Ireland, and had been a resident of this county for the last twenty years. He was one of nature's noblemen, and his sudden death is sincerely lamented by his wide circle of acquaintances and friends. "TunnehHill," where he lived and was greatly respected, did not number among its greatly respected, did not number among its citizens a warmer hearted or more generous man than Richard Kane. ## and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies thereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the benoficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did: Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system. I do not mean to be without it when-
