The District Court Bill.

On our first page will be found a certified copy of the bill extending the powers of the District Court of Johnstown. By a misprint in the heading, it is made to appear as the Act under which the present District Court exists, whereas it is only the bill for extending its jurisdiction which was defeated in Committee last winter.

About the beginning of the session of 1869. Daniel M Laughlin showed the original bill to some of our citizens, stating that it was all they required, and that the passage of that bill would settle the question and restore harmony and good feeling in Johnstown .---That bill was partly in the handwriting of Mr. M. Laughlin and Lartly in that of Cyrus Elder. The same bill, so presented, became a law, without any change except to reduce its jurisdiction from five hundred to two hundred dollars. It was thought the question was then settled finally and forever. At the next session, however, the bill on our first page was presented. We call the attention of honest men of all parties and of every locality to this bill, and ask a careful perusal of its provisions. The law was plainly unconstitutional-a bill of the same character having been vetoed by the Governor a short time before for that very reason, It makes, as will be seen by reading it, two Sherifts, two Prothonotaries, two Registers, two Recorders, and two District Attorneys in the same county, contrary to the plain provisions of the Constitution; and, what is worse, it gave Johnstown and the districts within the jurisdiction of the District Court the right to select both sets-a a thing that no honest man in Johnstown could want. And yet, because this bill, absurd as it was, met with the opposition and fate it deserved, Potts, M'Laughlin, and Barnes are determined to involve the county in half a million dollars of expenses and remove the seat of justice from the centre to
