JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 12, 1870. Dear Freeman—The Prussians, like the sun, will probably re-cross the line about the middle of September, after which the weather will be cooler both here and in Prussia. I almost wish it was cooler here now, for the removal makes the atmosphere warm enough hereabouts. On last Saturday the bonds were bursting all around, and there are some frightful collisions. Whatever differences may exist in regard to the question of removal, we should all avoid sonalities, as it is certain we will all have to live together and mingle together in the trans-action of business, no matter what the result may be in October.
The Zanfretta Troupe performed in Union

Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. The tight-rope performances, just previous to the opening of the theatre, attracted immense crowds of people, more espe-cially on Saturday evening.

There will be an immense animal and circus show here on next Saturday, 17th inst., which will probably be the last exhibition of the kind for the season.

In Allegheny city, during a discussion growing out of the proposed election of a City School Superintendent, a letter was read from one Mr. Pryor, which pitched into the bad grammar of all our County Superintendents. Unfortunately, the letter itself violated so many rules of grammam that Mr. Pryor deemed it brudent to retract his accusations. The fact is, our Superintendents are generally competent—I am sure our County Superintendent is—and the standard of qualifications in teaching is high, but the sabries are so low that qualified teachers will not touch, and their places have to be supplied with incompetent persons. In regard to the English language itself, I doubt whether any person living can write it correctly. Language person living can write it correctly. Language is not like mathematics—an exact science. The boot speakers and writers constitute the standabout eleven hundred during the same and for grammatical accuracy, but these differ among themselves. Take the rules for capitalallong themselves. Take the rules for capital-lzing, punctuating, or forming compound words, and one will find printers and teachers disagree, and even grammarians dispute among them-selves. My rule for writing—and I am acknowledged to be a tip-top grammarian—is this: If I can express my ideas to as to be correctly un-derstood, I call this good grammar. The steel works located here are not yet in operation, and will not be for some months.— The buildings are up and some of the machine-ry is in place, but no rails have yet been made except a few test rails that were made in the iron works. The impression abroad that the steel works are in operation is a mistake.

The new woolen factory in Woodvale, a very large building, is being pushed as rapidly as the supply of hands and material will allow, but it will not be in operation for probably a year yet.

We see it noticed that un erratic individual climbed a steeple of a church somewhere and stood on the cross, dancing around like a pup-pet. The same feat was performed here one day last week. One of our youth went up to the top of the Methodist church steeple, the height of 170 feet, and stood on the top of the rod for some time; then threw himself off and came to the ground without any hurt. ALTOONA CITY, Sept. 13, 1870. Friend Mac-On Friday last some of the residents of Third Avenue, in the Fourth Ward, witnessed a most dastardly and cowardly outrage perpetrated by a creature in human shape whom it would be base slander to call a man.— The individual in question met one of his neighbors on the sidewalk, and without a word of revocation, struck him a terrible blow with its clenched fist, feiling the unfortunate man o the earth and rendering him for a time perfectly insensible and to all appearances lifeless. Not satisfied with his fiendish work, the brute, like a savage as he is, trampled his unconscious victim until he was a perfect mass of bruises, and only desisted when the frantic wife of the unforth Lite man reached the scene and suc-ceeded in rescuing her husband from the grasp of his brutal assailant. He was then carried to his home, more dead than alive, but fortunately for all concerned, the application of the proper restoratives brought him back to consciousness. though at present writing he is still in a very precarious condition.

Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, Bishop of this Diocese, while on his way home from the Eternal City, did Altoom the henor of tarrying with us dur-ing Saturday. He was cordially welcomed by a large concourse of his spiritual children, men mutual young and talented friend, Mr. James P. Marphy, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the congregation, and it is needless to say that it did honor alike to his head and his The Bishop briefly replied in his usual felicitous and happy manner, after which the Mountain City Cornet Band strück up "Home, Sweet Home" in honor of the Bishop's safe re-turn from his long voyage. The demonstration throughout was in the highest degree creditable to all concerned.

An interesting little daughter of Mr. James Kees, of the Fourth Ward, met with an accident the other day which resulted in the breaking of one of her legs near the hip. The child was being carried at the time in the arms of her aunt, a young sirt, when the latter was tripped up by a small dog, causing her to fall on the board walk with the result stated. Another warning gainst keeping worthless curs about the hous The Democrats of this city have buckled o r armor for the campaign, and are full of life and fight. The able, incorruptible and popular Spær is our candidate for Congress, and with those honest, upright and indomitable Demo-crats, Messas. Petriken and Crawford, our nom-inees for the State Senate, we think we have a ticket that ought to be and can be triumphant-ly elected, and we are bound to do our level best in that direction. With such candidates, among the most deserving and popular Democrats in the district, it is no wonder that new life and vigor and determination to win has been infused into the Democratic pur Our Radical City Council is voted by all class-

The corteous invitation extended by your cor-respondent "Soltero" to attend the picnic at Wilmore an Saturday next, will be accepted by one at least of those to whom it is specially directed, and that one is your humble correspondent. T. I. M., who auticipates much pleasure in meeting friend "Softero" and other members of the Freeman press gang whom he hopes will be to the fore on that occasion. Presuning that you too will be there, I bid you not to be surprised if you find Altoona abundantly represented at Wilmore on that day. T. I. M.

Johnstown, Sept. 13, 1870. Dear Freeman-As politics monopolize the attention of almost every individual in this town, and in fact throughout the entire south of the county, just now, you will pardon me if I occu-py a little space in your paper by briefly refer-ring to the style in which the half dozen gentlemen who compose the "removal ring" in this place are trying to force our citizens, who are opposed to the movement, into supporting their candidate and the cause they profess to be fighting for. I need not allude to the attempted arguments which are brought to bear by their hired or ambitious public speakers. The laboring men, who comprise a majority of the voters in this section, can easily weigh and dispose of such pulpable misrepresentations as that, in the event of the seat of justice being removed to this town, the county expenses can be arranged at a very economical saving of $20,000 per year. No same man in this community would look for anything but extravagance and reckless expenditure from the of men who have set themselves up as the Moloch before whom all must how. These astute and honorable was the most paly and despirable of whom ble men, the most noisy and despicable of whom have only recently become residents of the town, are trying to pursue a course by which town, are trying to pursue a course by which they expect to overawe the timid and thus drive them into supporting their measures for self-aggrandizement. "A man," say they, "who will not support home interests should be driven from amongst us." What interest, in the name of sense, will it be to the poor and laboring classes of Johnsto'vn if the county seat should be removed here? A court house and jail must be built, and the men who are running the machine, and who alone it would benefit. the machine, and who alone it would benefit, would not be satisfied with ordinary structures, for the better the buildings the more the value of their property would be enlanced. These men I allude to are the owners of property in the immediate vicinity where the buildings are proposed to be erected. The benefit which the laboring class will receive is simply this; inreceive is simply this; increased taxes, higher rents, and enhanced prices of living. Why do not these gentlemen take some steps towards improving our market building, and our borough fail, build a council chamber, or tear down the declared nuisance of two consecutive grand juries—called a horchamber, or tear down the declared nuisance of two consecutive grand juries—called a borough lock-up? If a desire to build up and beautify our town is the prevailing reason for urging the measure, why not remedy these respective nuisances? Will the county people place any reliance in their promises when they know that they have no facilities for marketing now? Ten chances to one the profits of half a dozen business visits to this place will be lost in reging times for backing their wagons accidentpaying fines for backing their wagons accidentally upon the sidewalk or stopping for a moment upon the street crossing.

As I am pressed for time I will bring this article to an abrupt conclusion, but will refer to

An Established Institution.—The American Life Insurance Company of Philadeiphia is emphatically an established institution. It has been in operation for more than twenty years, and has had an agency in Cambria county for over seventeen years. It has a capital and accumulations of about three millions of dollars, all securely invested according to the laws of this and other States in which it does business. It has among its Directars such emibusiness. It has among its Directars such eminent men as J. Edgar Thompson, President of the Penna. Railroad, Ex-Gov. Curtia and Senator Cattell, and has in the last two years paid losses to the extent of over six hundred thousand distance.

Mr. J. Frank Condon, Special Agent of this Company, will be at the Mountain House in this place during the present week, and the citizens of Ebensburg and vicinity, as well as persons attending Court, are respectfully invited to call upon him and have the plans of this Company, and the merits of life insurance generally, explained to them.

AT IT AGAIN .- The irrepressible James F. Campbell, recently editor of the Altoona Vix-DICATOR, has turned up once more in the capacity of a journalist-this time as editor of the SUNDAY WORLD, a large eight paged and very readable Democratic newspaper just established In Pittsburg. We hope the enterprise will prove a permanent success, as the paper is ably conducted and eminently sound in the right cause besides being one of the cheapest papers ($2 per year) published in the State.

BACK AGAIN - Vallie Barker we see has reached home once more, but didn't bring those goods we thought he intened to buy, His store is still pretty full, however, of such articles as are needed in every family, and down to first cost are the prices at which he is now offering everything in order to close out his present stock and make room for the new goods that will be coming to come some of these days soon. Now is the time to invest money to advantage with V. S. Barker.

Good people all you should call at Huntley's great big store, where you can buy, if you will try, as many goods, or more, than you can find of that same kind, if you're not blind, though you hunt the county o'er.
