Or have people lost confidence in the public school system? We notice that Bishop Potter of the Episcopal church, who a few years that more than 500 pupils in this vicinity are

Our regret at this state of things is some what all eviated by the cheering news from the State elections. Bayonets did, as they always have done, made converts to the side persecured. Sympathy will go to the weakest side, or the side deprived of right. Any cause will gain strength by persecution. History abund antly proves this. Even the Republicans of New York City and State are indignant at the President for sending a standing army to control the elections, and now attribute their defeat to the tact that all the government offices in New York are filled by persons living out of the State. We hope the Federal authorities will learn a lesson from their defeat in all the States where coercion was attempted.

The father of Mrs. Rockett was one of the first settlers of Cambria county, having come to the Alieghenies when they were covered by trackless forests and the abode only of beasts of prey. Her husband died many years ago, leaving her with seven small children to make her way through the world, and right bravely clid she accomplish her labor of love. She lived to see three of her children borne to the tomb, the youngest of whem died only a few weeks ago. The care, auxiety and deep solicitude she manifested for her son in his last illness, an the polgnant grief which pierced her heart when he was simmoned from earth forever, no doubt hastened her own death, and led to the early union of both we hope in a happy eterni-ty.
