LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, Jan. 25, 1870.

Dear Freeman-I was greatly pleased with the speech of Hon. Edgar Cowan, published in your last paper. It is to the point. Why don't our folks down here get such men as Ed. Cowan, here get such men as Ed. Cowan, Judge Black and Brick Pomeroy to lecture here instead of Anna Dickinson and that ilk? I beieve we have not had a democratic lecturer in our town yet.

A gentleman came to town the other day to get his life insured. He said he had the "heart disease" and was afraid he would die unless he was insured, and offered a hundred dollars to the agent if he would save his life. The insu-rance agent informed him that he couldn't save his life, but if he would die he would insure him that his family would get a certain amount of money. "But," said the applicant, "that would be insuring me to die, and I want no death in-surance company to deal with. E. & C. T. TURNPIKE COMPANY .- During the last session of the Legislature a proper bill, or act, was prepared in this place, the object of which was to incorporate a company to construct a turnpike road from Ebensburg to the Cherry Tree, in Indiana county. It was a local or private bill and contained precisely the same provisions that are always found in special legislation of the kind. The bill was sent to John Porter, Esq., the member from this county, who secured its prompt passage through the House. It then went to the Senate for concurrence, but, for some unexplained reason, the Senator from this District, Harry White, refused to permit any final action to be taken in reference to it, and hence the project failed. As the construction of this road is a matter of vital importance to this place, as well as to the best interests of the entire northern acction of our county. Another bill of the same character will be forwarded to Har-tec with the presence of a woman risburg in a few days, and it will then be seen whether Harry White's narrow and contracted views on so plain a question have undergone any change. We feel justified in saying that the bill will pass, even if White attempts to

Soon the streets became a mass of fiving hu-man beings, all hastening towards No. 16 fligh street—OATMAN & Co.'s Cheap Cash Store— which from early morn till late at night is con-stantly crowded with ever coming multitudes. Why do people gather in such impenetrable masses at OATMAN & CO. S? What brings them from the remotest corners of Cambria county and parts adjacent? Yea, verily, glad tidings of great joy had been vouchsafed to them !-The fact had reached their cars that OATMAN & Co, were almost giving dry goods and dress goods away for the ready cash. They had been informed that that was the place of all places to get the most wonderful bargains in hits, caps boots, shoes, clothing, fancy goods, notions, ladies' and gent's furnishing goods, etc. Unto them had been revealed the gratitying intelligence that when and buckwheat flour, bacon, lish, sugars, syrups, coffee, ten, tobacco, cigars, cannod fruits, oils, queensware, glassware, and hundreds of other articles, could be had mere-ly for the asking and the smallest possible conalderation in the way of money or country pro-duce. They had been told and believed that fully 15 per cent, on the dollar could be saved by buying any and all kinds of goods, and pay-ing the cash down, at the cheap store of M. L. Oarman & Co. Of course they would come-who wouldn't come? The most skeptical be-lieve—the most incredulous are convinced that such a corrilice of winter course as has never such a sucritice of winter goods as has never been known or heard of in the annals of Ebens-burg is now going on at this renowned cheap cash store. And that's what's the matter.

One hour afterwards he was found suspended to a tree with a large placard on his breast bearing this sad inscription : "Brought to an untimely end by the cheap goods and groceries of M. L. OATMAN & Co."

How to Do Ir.-If one-half the money that is spent at eating and drinking saloons, at thea-tres and balls, was spent at Hess & Brother's tres and balls, was spent at Hess & Brother's Ready-made Clothing Emporium, No. 241 and 243 Main street, Johnstown, people would go better clad and feel better—nay, they would be better. A penny saved from deliberate non-sense is as good as a penny carned, yet if men have money to spare let them go to theatres, anting saloons, and to Hess's also for the best clothing ever made. Be sure to go to the last place first however. place first, however.

"THRUE FOR YEZ."-It is not often that we can endorse what the Alleghanian says, but when it proclaims that Geo. Huntley runs one of the largest bardware depots in Western Pennof the largest hardware depots in Western Penn-sylvania, and that he is a clever gentleman and sells hardware, tinware, etc., at prices unsur-passed for cheapness, we cannot but say amen to the several propositions. Mr. H. is the right man to patronize when in want of any article in his line of traffic.

The comer that is to smash the earth to smith-The congrithat is to smash the earth to shifth-ercons in June next is rapidly approaching, and the only mode of escape from being squelched is to go to Jas. J. Murphy's Ready-made Cloth-ing Store, Johnstown, and get a new outfit from top to toe. Comets respect well dressed people, and the place to get well dressed at the very lowest figures is at No. 100 Clinton street, where you can get the cheapest and best comet suit
