

Queen Elizabeth. A First-Class Dictionary—An Interesting Sketch of Her Life and Personal Habits—Her Last Words—“Kill Horace Greeley.”

The New York Leader is responsible for the following little sketch of a good woman who has “passed in her chips”.

Queen Elizabeth is dead. It doesn't matter how we got the information. This is none of our fight, this quarrel between the Associated Press and its rivals. We've received the news, and that's enough.

She had no small vices. She did not smoke or chew, or belong to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Queen Elizabeth was a virgin—a virgin on seventy; and yet the fire gleamed as brightly as ever in her cream-colored eye.

She had no small vices. She did not smoke or chew, or belong to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

A HUMAN MATCH.—Lighting gas with the finger is a feat any body may perform. Let a person, in his shoes or slippers, walk briskly over a woolen carpet, shuffling his feet thereon or stand upon a chair with his legs upon four tumbler to insulate it, and be there rubbed up and down the body a few times with a moff, by a second individual, and he will light the gas by simply placing his finger to the tube.

GROCEWORK MARKS.—Smear the soiled places with glycerine, by means of a feather, then apply cotton wadding; lastly, cover with oil silk.

Another Victim to Criminal Evidence. In 1917 a quarrel took place between a stevedore of Blackhawk, then lying at the wharf of the boat, named W. W. was so badly wounded as to die in a few hours. The murderer's jaw broken by a kick from his victim, permitted to go to a surgeon and dressed and, afterward to go to the hospital, a reward of six hundred dollars on his head, he was nowhere to be seen, although he was known to have been in the crew who were engaged in the work. In spite of this, the authorities, through their own efforts of the authorities, discover any trace of the guilty and the matter was finally forgotten, except by a few zealous officials. Memories were kept sharp by the murder of the Wayne county towards jointure to the Chicago case. To this worthy, hope long deferred, came at last, when one morning thirteen years after the date of the murder, he was found in his charge Edward who had been locked up for the night before. His appearance, and inquiry, the janitor declared to identify Murphy, in fact, he had finally succeeded in doing so after a long and weary search. Other was brought from Detroit, and similar consultations, arrived at similar conclusions.

Prevention of Cholera.—The means of preventing cholera is to dip the article first into a very weak solution of sulphuric acid, to immerse them in linseed oil, and to allow the excess of the oil to drain off. By this process most articles are usually preserved from either cholera or typhoid.

JANESVILLE, Wisconsin, is still a smart town. The latest story of the youth of six summers who made the task by his aunt for some time, "Now, Johnnie," said she, "I am not telling the truth; I see it in your eye." Pulling down the lower lip of the organ which had well-nigh become varicose, Johnnie explicitly replied, "You can't tell any thing about me, but you are always a little suspicious."

How to GET RID OF RATS.—Some dumb men, who don't believe in using mule brutes, give the following for driving away rats and mice: They wash in their holes and run, and they wretches get it on their feet and get out of it; they lick it and get it on the more they see of it the less they do so they clear out almost as soon as application is made. To get rid of the same person use hair-oil and take their leave.

To Mend China.—Take a very thin lution of gum arabic in water, and let it plaster of Paris until the mixture is of the proper consistency. Apply with a brush to the fractured edge of the china, and let it dry in three days. The china cannot be broken in the same joint, and the whiteness of the enamel renders it valuable.
