EBENSBURG, PA. SATURDAY MORNING, : APRIL 29, 1871

COMMITTEE MEETING.

The members of the Democratic County Com-mittee of Cambria county, are requested to meet at the Court House in Ebensburg, on Monday the first day of May next, at one o'elock. P. M. A full attendance is requested. R. L. JOHNSTON, Chairman.

UNDER the new Apportionment bill the counties of Cambria, Clearfield, Clinton and Elk compose the XVIIIth Senatorial Dis. trict, in which district a Senator will be elected at the general election in October .--In our next issue we will vindicate the just claims of Cambria county to the nomination.

ONE day last week, while Hon. George W. Woodward was about to take the cars at the Philadelphia depot of the Northern Pennsylvania Rall Road, he had his pocket book stolen containing about $600 and a draft for $1,700. The thief and his accomplice made their escape in a buggy. The Judge will probably lose his greenbacks, but can stop payment of the draft.

THE Washington Correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, Radical, sent the following dispatch to that paper one day last week :

POPULAR FEELING .- Last night, when the President visited the National Theatre, some one called for three cheers, but failed to elicit a response.

Occurring where this did, it cannot but be regarded as the fatal handwriting on the wall. How true it is of Grant that "Yesterday he might have stood against the world. Now none so poor to do him reverence."

THE Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee has issued the fellowing call for the meeting of the State Convention, to nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General: HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC STATE COM MITTEE OF PENNSYLVANIA, PHILADELPHIA, April 24, 1871 .- The delegates chosen to as could have been expected under all the the Democratic State Convention will as semble in the Chamber of the House of Rep resentatives, at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, May 24th, 1871, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, and for the consideration the present session. It is claimed, and we proper credits, many million of dollars of matters relating to the organization of the believe correctly, that taking the vote for remain due from Ex-Collectors of Internal party and the advancement of its principles. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock, a. m. By order of the State Committee. W. MUTCHLES.

The Apportionment Bill,

Contrary to general expectation, the committee of conference on the Apportionment bill, after several fruitless attempts to arrive at a satisfactory agreement, made a report to their respective Houses on yesterday week, which was promptly adopted. In the Senate the vote stood 27 in favor of the the report to 4 against it, and in the House 67 for to 30 against it. The bill as passed will be found in another column. There is no more difficult and embarrising duty in our State legislation than the preparation and passage of a fair and just apportionment bill. That a perfectly satisfactory bill has ever heretofore been passed, is contrary to all experience. Some counties that are Democratic and others that are Republican. must, from their peculiar location, be denied what their electors naturally claim to be their just and equitable representation. The present bill is unfair in two particulars. It attaches a close and doubtful county like Perry to the strong Radical county of Dauphin for three members. Dauphin should formally announced as 'a candidate for rehave had two members on a deficiency of election. The declarations of his selfish 2,000 taxables and Perry one on a deficiencv of 1.600. If Warren was entitled to a separate member, surely Perry, which contains almost 1,000 more taxables than War- zan legislation, to which we refer, was deren, was unquestionably entitled to the same favor. The worst feature in the bill, is the monstrous and unnatural union of Washington, Beaver and Butler for four members. No valid defence can be made in favor of this connection. If Crawford county, with a deficiency of about 8,000, is to elect one Senator, who will maintain that Washington, with a deficiency of a little more than 4,000, was not fairly entitled to two representatives. Butler and Beaver ought each to have had one. The true principle that ought to underlie any fair Apportionment bill is, that where a Republican constituency is given either a Senator or a Representative on a large deficiency, the like offices have been multiplied beyond all premeted out to a Democratic district, for precisely the same reason. But even with the two objections referred to, the bill is as just circumstances. It is a vast improvement on the infamous gerrymander of 1864, or the unjust and iniquitous bill which was passed by the Radicals through the House during ury, it appears that after deduction of all Governor in 1869 as the basis, the bill will give the Radicals a majority of one in the the revenue and postal system, which all Senate and six in the House. We direct the attention of our readers to below. It is an able and well written production, and clearly sets forth the sins of commission as well as these of omission of the weak and inefficient leadership of Grant. It will repay a careful perusal :

WASHINGTON, April 20, 1871. Our presence and official duties at Washington have enabled us to become acquainted with the action and designs of those who control the Radical party, and we feel called upon to utter a few words of warning against gress and the Executive. On the Legislature : next day, and only inco hours before Congress ceased to exist, a Radical member from New York modestly asked that Foster should be sworn in. When the Speaker asked for his certificate of election he was informed that Foster had not that convenient document with him, but that it was well known that he had been elected. The House failed to see it in that light, and very properly refused to admit him on hearsay evidence. It was a very smart dodge on the part of Foster to attempt to pocket his pay for the entire session, for merely occupying his seat fico hours. His little mistake in this instance will teach him that when he returns next December he must not forget his papers.

----Butler and Farnsworth.

The closing hour of the late Session of Congress was signalized, as well as disgraced, by a vulgar personal controversy between Butler and Farnsworth (both high priests in the Radical synagogue) that could only be paralleled by a wholesale indulgence in pure billingsgate by two hags in a New York or London Fish market. Farnsworth has been after Butler for more than a year with a sharp stick, exposing and holding up to public infamy his plundering and rapacity, while he (Butler) was connected with the army, as well as since he has been in Congress. On the occasion referred to, Butler had obtained the consent of the House to make a personal explanation in reference to the difficulty between himself and Garrett Davis in the Senate chamber, a few weeks Bedford and Fulton 1 Northampton ago, at which time Senator Davis pronounced | Berks..... him to be "the universally recognized blackguard, coward and scoundrel in the United Bucks.....
