Things Worth Knowing.

LEMON HONEY .- Take one pound of leaf sugar, six eggs, the juice of three lemons. the grated rinds of two, and a quarter of a pound of butter. Put the sugar, butter and lemons in a saucepan, and melt slowly over a gentle fire; when they are dissolved, stir in the eggs which have been well whisked; stir GRAPE PILLS. rapidly until it is as thick as honey. It will keep twelve months at least, and is very component Parts Fluid Extract Rhunics on either jelly-cake or pastry.

Good Rolls.-The famous Parker House (Boston) rolls are made in the following described manner : Make a hole in two quarts of flour, and pour in one pint of curd milk that has been boiled; with a cup of butter melted in it. Add a quarter of a cup of sugar and one-half a cup of good yeast. Let it stand without mixing two or three hours. Salt to taste. Then knead it, and set it to rise again in the pans before baking. The rolls require about fifteen minutes to bake in a quick even.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Obio Farmer says that he saved the fruit of one of his plum trees from the curculio in the following manner: Early every morning while the tree was in bloom, corn meal was strewn over the ground benerth the branches, and the whole flock of poultry were allowed to gather it up. The ground was thoroughly scratel e! over, every day, and meal, insects, and everything edible picked up. Later in the season, a brood of chicks were ccoped beneath the tree, and the operation of sowing meal | HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S continued. This tree, and this alone, was loaded with fruit, and that so heavily that the branches had to be propped up. Not a plum matured on any other tree.

FIVE WAYS TO DESTROY ANTS .- 1. Pour hot water as near the boiling point as possible, copiously down their burrows and over their hills, and repeat the operation several times. 2 Entrap the ants by means of parrow sheets of stiff paper, or strips of board. covered with some sweet, sticky substance. The ants are attracted by the sweets, and sticking fast, can be destroyed as often as a sufficient number are entrapped. 3. Lay fresh bones around their haunts. They will leave everything else to attack these, and when thus accumulated, can be dipped in hot water. 4. Pour two or three spoonfuls of coal oil into their holes, and they will abandon the nest. 5. Bury a few slices of onion in their nests, and they will abandon

UTIGIZING FURNACE SLAG.-The new methods of utilizing the slags of furnaces bid fair to become of much practical importance, and to convert what is now a source of great annoyance into a product of positive commercial value. The slag is, of course, to be collected in troughs or moulds of proper size and shape. But the great difficulty has heretofore been in the glassy character of the product. It is now stated that if the surface of the melted slag, after it is run into moulds, be covered with earth or ashes, so as to prevent too rapid cooling-which, in fact, should extend over a considerable period-and if proper precautions be ob-

SAW-DUST AS A MANURE, &c -The com mon practice of throwing this article into the streams on which saw-mills and shingle-mills are situated, is reprehensible. It would not pay to spread it upon a muck swamp, but upon any sandy land, or light gravelly loam, deficient in vegetable matter, it would prove a good dressing, and in time would show good results. The best use we have ever seen it put to, was bedding for animals in stables. It is an excellent absorbent, and will keep cows clean even better than straw. It is also a very light, handy article in the hennery, and more cleanly to handle than muck in common, open privy vaults. The article is merchantable in cities, and is quite extensively used upon floors in eating saloons, and for other purposes. At country mills it can generally be had for the carting, as mill owners are glad to get rid of it. It is a good substitute for straw, and this is now worth so much for manufacturing purposes, in many parts of the country, that no thrifty farmer can afford to use it for bedding.

THIRST QUENCHED WITHOUT DRINKING .-It may not be generally known to our readers that water, even salt water, imbibed through the skin appeases thirst almost as well as fresh water taken inwardly. In illustration of this subject, a correspondent has sent us the following abridged quotation from a "Narrative of Captain Kennedy losing his Vessel and his Distresses afterwards," which was noticed in "Dodsley's Annual Register for 1769."

"I cannot conclude without making mention of the great advantage I received from soaking my clothes twice a day in salt water and putting them on without wringing. It was a considerable time before I could make the people comply with this measure, although from seeing the good effects produced. they afterwards practiced it twice a day of their own accord. To this discovery I may with justice attribute the preservation of my own life and six other persons, who must have perished if it had not been put in use.

"The hint was first communicated to me from the perusal of a treatise written by Dr. Land. The writer absorbed through the pores of the skin producing in every respect the same effects as would have resulted from the moderate drinking of any liquer. The IMPROVED ROSE WASH saline particles however, which remained in our clothes, became incrusted by the heat of the sun and that of our own bodies, lacerating our skins and being otherwise inconvenient ; but we found that by washing out these particles, and frequently wetting our clothes without ringing twice in the course of a day, the skin became well in a short time. After those operations we uniformly found that the violent drought went off and the parched tongue was cured in a few minutes after bathing and washing our clothes and at the same time we found ourselves as much refreshed as if we had received actual nourishment. Four persons in the boat who drank salt water went delirious and died; but these who avoided this and followed the above practice experienced no such symptom."

Lanman and Martha, his wife, whose maiden name was Thrasher, now living in Leonold township, Perry county, Indiana, have faithfully followed the scriptural injuction to multiply and replenish the earth. John Lanman was born in Caswell county, North Carolina, May 30, 1783, and his wife was born in Bedford county, Virginia, near the Bull Run battle ground, March 9, 1783, and are consequently aged 88 and 83 respectively. They were married in Breckinridge county Kentucky, March 3, 1808, moved to Perry county, in 1812, before the battile of parations, and do not need to be propped up by Tippecance, and first paid taxes to the

KA-FOOZLE-UM.

In ancient days there lived a Turk, A horrid beast within the East, Who did the Prophet's holy work, As Babs of Jerusalem. He had a daughter sweet and smirk,

Complexion fair, and dark blue hair, With naught about her like a Turk, Except the name, Ka-foozle um. Oh! Ka-foozle-um! Ka foozle um! Ka-foozle-

Oh! Ka-foozle um! The daughter of the Baba!

A youth resided near to she; His name was Sam, a perfect lamb; He was of ancient pedigree, And came from old Methusalem. He drove a trade, and prospered well, In skins of cats and ancient bats ; And ringing at the Baba's bell-He saw and loved Ka foozle um. If Sam had been a Mussulman

He might have sold the Baba old, And with a verse of Alcoran Have managed to bamboozle him; But, oh, dear no ! he tried to scheme, Passed one night late the area gate, And stole up to the Turk's hareem To carry off Ka-foczle-um.

The Baba was about to smoke, His slaves rushed in with horrid din, "Mashalla! dogs your house have broke, Come down, my lord, and toozie 'em !" The Baba wreathed his face in smiles, Came down the stair and witnessed there The gentleman in three old tiles, A kissing of Ka-toozle-um.

The pious Baba said no more Than twenty prayers, but went up stairs, And took a bow string from a drawer, And came back to Ka foozle um. The maiden and the youth be took, And choked them noth, and, litt'e loath, Together pitched them in the brook Of Kedron, near Jerusalem.

And still, the ancient legend goes, When day is gone from Lebanon, And when the eastern moonlight throws A shadow on Jerusalem, Between the wailing of the cats, A sound there falls from ruined walls, A ghost is seen with three old hats A kissing of Ku-foozle um.

Oh! Ka-foozle-um! Ka-foozle um! Ka-foozle-Oh! Ka foozle um! The daughter of the Baba! -New York Sun.
