A THRELLING STORY.

Ten Years a Captive Among Indiens.

There arrived in this city yesterday morning Mary J. Phillins, who has been for the last ten years not only a captive among the Indians, but the slave of a revengeful tribe, whose hatred of the white race was exhibited in maltreating her to a degree which would have ended in the death of almost any man. The woman has two ears which are not ears, both having been cut and slashed until they resemble pieces of flesh attached to her head without purpose. Her fingers are broken and crippled; she is lame from a dislocation of the hip which she received five years ago, and she stated to our reporter that her body bore numerous scars to show the dog's-life which she led.

She says nearly eleven years ago, when she was twenty-two years of age, her father, mother, a brother, aged sixteen. her sister, Hentietta, and herself, left their home in Illinois, to go to California. At Leavenworth the mother died and was buried. They concluded to go on, and fell in with a Government train, but, in consequence of trouble with the teamsters, they left it and followed one day behind. Several days after they were joined by another party, named Fuller, which consisted of four persons, and the children were quite small, a boy named William being about seven years old .-The third night the party were attacked by a large band of Indians, who swooped down on them so silently that both the men and one of the women were murdered at the first cry. The youngest Fuller child was wounded, and the savages dashed its brains out to still its wails of pain, Mary's brother escaped during the fight, but was next day bunted down and killed, the Indians taking great pains to parade his scalp before her face. This left Mary, the Faller boy, and his sister and mother captives in the hands of the brutes. Mrs. Fuller soon after was horribly maltreated, taken a little ways out of camp, and there shot to death with arrows, her screams being heard by the living captives.

The Indians selected what they wanted out of wagons and then set fire to them the next day, while the captives were received with kicks and cuffs, and Mary was especially ill-treated. The lad was a smart and active boy, and the Indians soon made a favorite of him. In the fifth year of his captivity the lad, then a boy of good size, got lost from a hunting party, or detatched himself in the hopes of escaping, and several days afterward was found dead, having been frezen to death. The girl was made to cook, carry treated because she could not use her jury, but performed the service in such a bungling manner as to leave the woman a bad cripple. She made several attempts to escape, but was each time recaptured and made to feel the weight of their vengeance. A party of United States soldiers, in the fall of 1866, came near capturing her, one of the men coming within a few feet of her in charging the Indians during a fight. About two months ago she received an intimation that negotiations were pending for her ransom She had twice been sold and was then about 200 miles below the mouth of the Yellowstone river. In a week or so after getting the first news she was carried away many miles to a military post, the name of which she cannot speak, and there exchanged for two guns, a supply of ammunition, a keg of whis'y, and a supply of cloth and beads, and was sent down the river on a steamboat.

She arrived in La Salle county three or four weeks ago, and is now on her way to Ulster county, N. Y., where some of her mother's relatives reside. The woman had well nigh forgotten the English language when exchanged, and now speaks it very badly, frequently using an Indian word to give emphasis to her meaning Her complexion is very dark, but her hair is light, and she has a demeanor which is lady-like and gentle, despite her years of ill treatment and slavery .- Detroit Free Press, May 11.

A FAMILY GENEOLOGY ACCORDING TO DARWIN .- If there be any truth or sense in the new and wonderful theory advanced by Darwin, then the genealogical table of some particular family traced back to about the time of the transition state from monkey to man, would be curious and interesting. It might read as follows:

The human founder of our family was the illustrious Colonk, a well-known warrior of his day, and the first fully develeged man in our line of ancestors. Co. lonk was one-sixteenth monkey and the rest man-monkey proportion only perceptible on the closest scratiny. Rodinka's father was Longolib, one-eighth monkey and seven eighths man. Longolib was the oldest son of Champo, who was a quarter monkey and the rest man. Although bearing only the proportion of one-quarter monkey in his composition, BOOTS AND SHOES there was, nevertheless, a good deal more monkey than was really desirable. As a man he could never attain distinction, and he was no kind of a march for a regular full-blooded or even half-blooded gorilla monkey, either in the forest or in a fight. Chimpo's father was Gwineb, half-man gorilla monkey, a very curious specimen. Maspoke a broken buman language onebale. ## WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Dennis McFlynn has been thinking about "woman's right-," and his excited imagination finds vent in poetry. Read it: Hurrah! for the time that is comin'.

Whin ladies shall vote like the min; Och, won't the polls be a bloomin' Wid fithers and crinoline thin?

Election day thin I am thinkin' Will be the great day of the year, Whin lasses an' lads will be drinkin' Together the candidates' beer.

What's the use to wrangle wid Biddy About who the living shall make? An' sure if 'twill plaze her I'm riddy

To give up the hod for her sake, An' be staying all day at the shanty

To 'tind the domestic affairs, A boilin' the bafe an' pertaties, An' mendin' the rips and the tairs. Thin whin election approaches,

An' the lassies are marchin' the strate Wid big bands of music and torches, An' Biddy is standin' the trate, I'll be on the side walk hurrahin' For my own darlin' Biddy McFlynn

Wid a child in my arms, and a drawin' A cab wid another one in. And whin she is makin' her spaches

Before the great min of the land, Sure thin I will lind her my braches, An' sit by her side on the sthand; An' afther she's done wid her talkin' Och, thin, how the people will cheer,

And off to the polls be a walkin' And votin' for Biddy, my dear. An' whin all the votin' is over An' Biddy's elected, sure thin

I'll live like a pig in the clover, Wid Honorable Mrs. McFlynn; The shanty I'll quickly be lavin' An' livin' wid illigant taste, Wid a horse an' a shay for me drivin'

An' a nagur to wait on the baste, It's niver a lie I am sphakin', But thrue every word that I say, It's mesilf 'twould niver be takin' The rights of the ladies away.

If a lassie, thinkin' it proper, Should shoulder the morter an' brick, Bad luck to the thail that wud sthop her, I'd black his two eyes purty quick.

The way is for all to kape aisy, An' give to the ladies their way; They trip up and vote like a daisy, No matter what blackguards may say. An' thin should they office be sakin', Or twirlin' the pick or the sphade, An' for us the livin' be makin',

Who cares, so the livin' is made?
