EBENSBURG, PA. THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 20, 1871.

Democratic State Nominations.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: GENERAL WILLIAM MCANDLESS, OF PHILADELPHIA.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL: CAPTAIN JAMES H. COOPER, OF LAWRENCE COUNTY.

BEN BUTLER has announced himself as a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts.

It is now said that Geary signed the bill restoring the Spring elections, on the 28th of June. If he did so, even at the eleventh hour, then some good can come out of Nazareth.

A STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION, to nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, will be held at Harrisburg on the 9th of August.

We have seen it stated very generally in the papers, that the last Legislature increased the salaries of the President Judges from thirty-five hundred to five thousand dollars a year.

ACCORDING to the most reliable information, the casualties growing out of the New York riot on the 12th instant were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Count. Includes: Members of the National Guard killed (2), Members of the National Guard wounded (18), Number of civilians killed and died of their wounds (56), Number of civilians wounded (80), Of the 250 or 300 Orangemen in parade, none were either killed or wounded.

Bowen's Pardon.

On the 13th of June, in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, C. C. Bowen, a Radical member of Congress from the Charleston (South Carolina) district, who was succeeded on the 4th of March last by one De Large, a colored gentleman, was convicted of bigamy and sentenced two years to the Penitentiary.

Let them parade until they are tired. The public sentiment will condemn them. It is ready to do so now if you do not change it. Public opinion is against them, but if you violently interfere with them, it will be against you.

It must be distinctly understood that no respectable and intelligent Catholics took any part in this riot. On the contrary, they did all they could to prevent it. The chief actors in it, but unfortunately not the only victims of it, were men of the lowest order—the willing but deluded tools of a few demagogues—who would scorn the counsel even of an archangel just as readily as they did that of the Archbishop and the Priests.

The exciting topic of the day is the Irish riots in New York. The excitement in Philadelphia yesterday, resulting therefrom, especially in the neighborhood of the newspaper offices, has not been equaled since the battle of Bull Run.

The New York Riot.

A terrible and bloody riot, resulting in the death so far of 56 persons, and the wounding, more or less severely, of 98 others, took place in New York on yesterday week, the anniversary of the Boyne, which occurred in 1690 between the armies of William III. and James II., ending in the total defeat of the latter.

While every citizen must feel that the procession of Orangemen, in view of the religious animosities it would engender, was absolutely without excuse, he must also feel that it was the duty of the government to exert its whole strength to insure them in a right they could justly claim.

Too much credit cannot be awarded to Archbishop McCloskey and the Catholic priests of New York, for their earnest efforts at preventing any interference with the procession by the Irishmen who were opposed to it.

BY JOHN T. HOFFMAN, GOVERNOR. Having been only this day apprised, while at the capital, of the actual condition of things with reference to proposed processions to-morrow, and having in the belief that my presence was needed, repaired hither immediately, I do make this proclamation.

Under this caption the New York Sun, edited by Charles Dana, long known as one of the most prominent Radical leaders, speaks in this wise of the attempt to saddle the Catholic Church with the recent riots.

The New York Riot.

They Radical press, which is eagerly fanning the flames of religious intolerance, in the hope of making some political capital out of it, falls into the egregious blunder of assuming that the principles represented by "Orangemen" are those of all Protestants.

They did this in the well-known oration of Edward Fitzgerald, the Emmets, and many more of names known to fame in the struggle for Irish liberty, were Protestants. When the victims took their places in the criminal dock, it was Curran, the Irish Protestant, who defended them with a blaze of eloquence, some snatches of which were familiar to all school boys.

A SMALL BOAT DRAWN BY FISH.—A letter from Easton, Pa., speaks of a novel use made of sturgeons by Mr. L. Phillippi and Col. J. R. Sturges, of that place. They caught a couple of the fish to draw a small boat, in harness, and attach them also to two imitation swans, which float above them and prevent their diving.

Dr. Morris, says the Western Sentinel of the 22d ultimo, delivered a negro woman of a female child, near Graham's meeting-house, in Forsyth county, N. C., last week, which is a curiosity worthy of Barum's Museum.

SENATION IN HIGH LIFE.—Mrs. E. G. Wharton, widow of the late Major H. W. Wharton, of the United States Army, residing in Hamilton Place, in Baltimore, was arrested on Monday night, week, on a warrant issued from the Criminal Court of that city, charging her with poisoning Gen. Wm. Scott Ketchum, a retired officer of the United States Army; also with poisoning Eugene Anson, book-keeper in the banking house of Alexander Bowers & Sons.

DEBT WRONG TO THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Under this caption the New York Sun, edited by Charles Dana, long known as one of the most prominent Radical leaders, speaks in this wise of the attempt to saddle the Catholic Church with the recent riots.

—A writer in the N. Y. Tribune argues that the President has not the power of pardoning the bigamous Bowen, for the reason that the District of Columbia has a territorial constitution, under which the Government is vested with the power of pardoning common criminals sentenced by the courts of the District.

They have a two-tailed calf in Perry county. Berks county can boast of a stalk of oats six feet seven inches in length.

—The Democracy of Columbia county have concluded to abandon the Crawford county system of making nominations.

—The Pacific express came on Saturday morning made the distance between Millin and Harrisburg—forty-nine miles—in fifty-eight minutes. The train had been detained and was run at this rate of speed to make up for the last time, which was successfully accomplished.

—The following is the latest marvelous story from the West: Samuel Dunn, of Livonia, Michigan, was, eighteen years ago, a hard drinker and tobacco chewer; but he formed a resolution at that time to drop both habits, and has kept it ever since.

—On Thursday last the first narrow gauge passenger engine ever built in America, the Montezuma, was shipped from Philadelphia to "its place of labor beneath the shadows of Pike's Peak."

—A large fire broke out in Bellefonte on Sunday night last, burning nine stables, one dwelling, the post office, six stores and two law offices. Loss about $40,000, with some insurance.

—The Kn-Klux Committee have discovered another outrage. A radical editor has been clobbered somewhere down in Alabama, for publishing a scurrilous article about a young woman who had a "big brother."

—A powder mill in Paris exploded on Friday doing terrible damage and causing great excitement, as a large number of men, women, and children were at work in it. It is reported that 60 were killed and a great many wounded.

—One tablespoonful of pulverized cubets and two tablespoonfuls of white sugar rubbed together, and a half-teaspoonful of the mixture taken three or four times a day, will cure colds and relieve a cough.—Philadelphia Medical Independent.

—The new departure of the Democratic party has been a thorn in the sides of the Republicans, but not half so keen as the well-grounded apprehension that in October next they themselves will have to make a new departure.

—It is reported that a photographer who took several photographs of a dead child in Fall River, Mass., recently, found chiefly defilement and six or seven negative plates, the child's mother, who has been dead for some time. There is a sensation in Fall River in consequence.

—Early in May Senator Morton wrote to a friend in Indiana, whose name we have, that in six weeks he would be in the State Department, when he would be able to serve him. Where is the hitch? Has Ulysses gone back on his friend, that he is thrown into the dog days without the coveted portfolio?—Pittsburgh Post.

—There is a Mrs. Leininger, widow, 96 years old, living in Reinholdsville, West Calocalo township, Lancaster county, who, July 7th, bound wheat upon the premises of John G. Metzinger, in Reinholdsville. Mrs. L. is exceedingly active, works in the garden, does ordinary housework, and enjoys excellent health.

Four or five persons were killed by lightning and falling timbers, and many more or less seriously wounded. The loss of property cannot fall below two hundred thousand dollars.

—The Radicals are delighted because some Democratic papers do not endorse the ninth resolution of the State platform. It may cool their enthusiasm to learn that of all the supporters of the Democratic State ticket these very papers are among the most earnest and active, and in no sense will they withhold any effort looking to its success.

—A wedding ring which belonged to Pauline Barnam, an English lady who was lost in the steamship Anglo-Saxon, wrecked off Chance Cove, N. F., in 1861, was recently restored to her relations by a St. John's, N. F., fisherman, who found the ring in the entrails of a codfish. The lucky fisherman received a present of $60 for restoring the highly prized memento to the lady's son.

Montgomery, Alabama, boasts of a mule who used to draw a horse cart. It asserts that, no matter where the mule is when the fire bells ring, he takes the nearest route, under full gallop, for the engine house, places himself in a position for the harness, and as soon as he is hitched up, speeds away to the fire with all his might.

—In a town in Ohio, not long ago, the women went in bands of two and three with their knitting and sewing into dram shops of the place, and spent the whole day by their work, and talked politely upon various topics. Husbands and friends came in, saw how things looked, and had not the courage to step to the bar and drink. The result was every shop in the place was closed.
