NEXT TUESDAY!

The importance of the election to take place next Tuesday cannot be overstated. It is of vast importance to the taxpayers those who will follow us. It has not of the State that an honest and competent | been the custom of other nations to opman should be elected Auditor General. That officer may almost be said to carry the key of the Treasury in his own pocker. He is the sworn guardian of the people's money, and if he is dishonest or will corruptly lend himself in aiding and mostling the profligate rings that are constantly seeking fraudolently to filch money from the Treasury under the clouk of specious and improvident legislation, the wrong and injury that may be done by him is almost incalculable. An instruct- that claim. Now, when the fact is stated ive lesson of the amount of evil that may be inflicted on the people of the State by an inefficient or dishonest Auditor General is taught by the enormous robbery and embezzlement of George O. Evans. That diseraceful swindle is fresh in the recollecthen of all, and ought to impress its warning indelibly on the minds of the people Does any man of intelligence believe that tration could perform a feat so simple as versal freedom, equal rights and constitution-General M'Candless had had control of that when the people are compelled to the affairs of the Auditor General's office | furnish the money with which to do it since April, 1867, as John F. Hartranft | It ought to stop, and then the heavy and had, Evans could have perpetrated so crushing weight of taxation which now apt to obscure the human teason and blunt slupendous a fraud-that the Legislature oppresses the laboring man could be very the best impulses of the human heart; when would have assembled four times since Evans was appointed the agent of the State, and not one word of information be communicated to that body of the amount of money he had received from the general government, and what disposition had made of it? William M'Candless

terial, and his whole life is a guarantee of a law last winter, relating to the assessat he would never connive at peculation or a fraudulent appropriation of the public funds. Stanton, the radical candidate, was nominated by a faction or a ring emposed of a set of public planderers, well known at Harrisburg, whose open and notorious business for years has been to plunder the Treasury in innumerable and dishonest ways If Stanton should he elected he will be the more creature of this scheming and corrupt cabal, and will be prepared to do their bidding. How important is it, then, to the people to have an honest, high minded, conscientious man like General M'Candless to watch over and goard their money against the rapacity of this horde of public plunderers. Another reason why the coming election is an important one, and especially so to the Democracy of Cambria county, is, that it will be the duty of the next Legislature to apportion the State into Congressional districts. The Democracy of Cambria want a representative at Harrisburg who will take care of their political interests, and who will not permit them to be swallowed up in the greedy maw of radicalism If William H. Rose is elected that game will not succeed, but if through sheer and criminal indifference Samuel Henry, who is a bitter and uncompromising radical, should succeed, then as soon might we expect mercy and protection for the lamb from its old and hereditary enemy, the wolf, as to look for even-handed justice to be meted out to the Democratic party by such an unvield ing Republican as Samuel Henry. He is the peculiar representative of a power in the radical party that now controls the legislation of the country, both national that as unblushing and unprincipled a and State, and whose watchword is demagogue as he is universally admitted "Death to the Democracy!" If he is to be could receive so many votes in a elected, no man is so arrant a fool as not respectable political convention. The wonto know that it could only have been done | der ceases, however, when it is rememberby Democratic votes. Is there a Demo- ed that it was done in a Massachusetts crat worthy of the name in Cambria coun- convention in the year 1871. Although ty who will knowingly and designedly Ben has been floored, he will not stay contribute to that result? Suppose that down at the bidding of Massachusetts he is elected by the votes of good-natured, radicalism. He is an enterprising genius easy Democrats, and that his vote is the and full of expedients. Henry Wilson, pivot on which turns the political com- one of the Senators from that State, plexion of the House of Representatives, helped to drag Butler down. Butler will can any unreflecting Democrat who has now go for Wilson's Senatorial scalp with been seduced into his support exclaim, all his accustomed energy, and if he does "Thou canst not say I did it ?" Would not wear that trophy in his belt, we are he not in his shame and remorse rather teel like calling on the mountains to cover him and hide him from the swift wrath of a betrayed and an outraged party? How any Democrat who loves his party and its principles can willingly incur the such a heavy responsibility, is beyond our conception. It is no time to trade horses while crossing a stream, and every Democrat, when he casts his ballot next Tuesday, ought to feel as if the result of the election might depend upon his own vote. If there is one Democrat in Cambria, or a sufficient number of Democrats, after a calm review of the situation and the weighty responsibility resting upon him and them, who is or are prepared to be misrepresented at Harrisburg, then on his the storm-if they will deliberately put a weapon into the hands of the enemy with which to knock out their own brainsthe Democracy of Cambria, while it can and will survive the blow, will not forget

Reducing the Public Debt.

It is made a matter of constant boast by the radical press that the present ad- ficers as well as privates, and Senator ministration is paying off the public debt Schurz, will be read with interest. It is at about the rate of eight millions of dol- alike honorable to both parties. What lars a month, or one hundred millions a an impassable gulf exists between the high year. If this system should be continued and patriotic ground occupied by Schurz | the Democratic party and stick to it. for the next twenty-five years the national debt would be entirely extinguished. Can this policy of a hasty reduction of the public debt be sustained on any cor- is pouring oil on the troubled waters by rect principle and with a due regard for exerting his efforts to bind up the wounds the true interests of the people. We of the war, the latter is a political demamaintain that it clearly cannot. The public debt is a result of the late civil war and was solely incurred in the gigan- dering to a vile and unchristian spirit of tic efforts required for its suppression -That war was not fought alone for the present generation, but was waged also for the benefit of those who are to succeed us. The future will share in its advantages as well as the present-it was fought as much for posterity as for those now on the busy scene of action, and on no principle of justice ought the present generation,

through whose sacrifice of life and treas ure it was brought to a successful termination, be compelled to pay the entire debt incurred in bringing about that result. Every principle of equity would declare that a portion if not the whole of this heavy burden should be borne by press and impoverish their people by the speedy liquidation of a great public debt, contracted for war purposes, but to be content with the payment of its annual interest, leaving the principal to be taken care of by other men and other times,-One would suppose from the boasting tone of the radical papers that boundless praise is due to Grant's Secretary of the Treasury for reducing the debt eight millions of dollars a month, and they make that the radical party during the last fiscal year wrung from the people almost four hundred millions of dollars by means of the tariff, internal revenue, and other sources, it will be seen how very easy it each month towards the payment of the nation's debt. Any man or any adminisly continue the radical party in power.

ment of taxes in Cambria county, under perty may appeal from the decision of the phin, Somerset and Indiana counties .-The Cambria Iron Company had nothing to do with the passage of the law, so far approval. The law is merely discretionary, and was simply intended to afford a remedy in the courts to any property holder who felt himself aggrieved by the action a fair one for any person who sees proper to avail himself of it, and we pity the intelligence of the man who can be induced to vote against Mr. Rose because he was instrumental in procuring its passage. -No man can be imposed upon by a charge so utt.rly weak and contemptible.

THE most notable political event that has occurred for some time was the bottling up of Ben Butler last week by the Massachusetts Radical State Convention. Butler had set his mind and heart upon the Governorship of that State, as the stepping stone to still higher political preferment, but he was ruthlessly stricken down in the house of his radical friends and his Presidential aspirations rudely seattered to the four winds of heaven .-He made a bold and vigorous fight, and greatly mistaken in the man.

WE have heretofore urged upon the Democracy of the county the importance of voting next Tuesday in favor of calling a convention to amend the Constitution. We are firmly impressed with the absolute necessity of holding such a convention, and the people of the State have the opportunity now presented to them of expressing their wish on the subject through tion to them for their decision. We desire therefore to see a strong vote polled in favor of the convention and wish that tax-payer in the State is directly and personally interested, and for that reason it

Judge McCunn triot, stated that he would render his decision to-day. By what authority this New York Judge undertakes to go behind the requisition of Gov. Geary, and to investigate the merits of the case, is certainly a mystery to us, and we are very certain that such a thing was never done before. But as Geary and his Attorney General have from the very beginning treated this embezzlement as a very trifling affair-a mere seven days' wonder-it is possible that Judge M'Cunn, if he is well paid for graceful business?

These figures, it should be understood, are furnished by the carpet-bag officials themselves, in the false treachery of those who inflicted the radical ticket, votes against Universal for information as to the financial condition of the Southern States.

The Tactics of Deception.

The leaders of the Radical party appear to think that they are always sure of success when they resort to the tactics of deception. Their mode of warfare seems to be comprised in two general propositions : 1. Tell every conceivable lie concerning

2. Cover up the frauds and corruptions of the Radical party and keep the people blinded to the truth.

To carry out this plan of action is the whole duty of Radical orators and editors with now and then a rare exception. Although more than two months have passed gogue, intent only on widening the breach since the Democratic party, through its representative Committee, presented to the peobetween the north and the south by panple of Pennsylvania its reasons for demanding a change of officials, no one has attempted to gainsav them or show that they were not true. The enormous extent to which this finan-NASHVILLE HOUSE, NASHVILLE, Sept. 23 cial corruption is carried, will become mani fest to any one who compares the expenditure of the government during the six years immediately preceding the civil war and the six years immediately following it.

Both were periods of peace, and there can be no excuse for more than a small increase corresponding to the ratio in which the poplation has advanced.

But where the ordinary expenses for the fiscal year ending June 1, 1870, exclusive of Indian annuities, pensions and interest on the public debt, were $148,669,922.43, for the year ending June 1, 1856, the expenditures for the same purpose, were only $55,-918,188.72.

Here is shown the difference between the ordinary cost of carrying on our government when its agents are honest, and the cost of the same thing when its agents are so destitute of moral principle as to disregard all legal limitation upon their own authority. As an instance of the extraordinary increase in public expenditures we give the folowing comparative statement from the Atlantic Monthly, a literary publication with strong Radical proclivities. The annexed table is exclusive of the in-

NEARLY 6000 years ago, as near as we can recollect, a man by the name of Adam -we have forgotten whether his first name was Jonathan or Ichahod-was placed in a very nice truck patch on the banks of the Euphrates, and allowed to do pretty much as he pleased. He was industrious and economical; he fooled away no time in fishing or running after the girls, and being rather good looking and the most extensive young landholder in the county, he was very popular with all the young folks in the neighborhood. For some time he did fi st rare and la! quite a promising future before him; but like many a young buck at the present day, he finally got to gallanting his sweet-heart about through the orchard, and at let he got into a terrible scrape that brought shame and disgrace upon his whole family. And yet the people of the United States have not only this $210,000,000 interest to pay annually, but more than $200 000,000 in addition.
