Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, PA. SATURDAY MORNING, : Oct. 21, 1871.

THE majority for Stanton, the republican candidate for Auditor General, is about 18," 000. Will give the official vote in our next.

THE PRESIDENT JUDGESHIP .- The official vote for President Judge in this district foots up as follows-Mr. Dean's majority being 913 in the three counties:

	Dean, R.	Banks, D.	Taylor, I
Cambria,	2 208	2 818	890
Bigir.	3 441	2 597	576
Huntingdon,	2,777	2 080	823
	8,426	7.495	1,789

THOUGH the friend of labor against capital, the friend of Democracy against aristoeracy-has been defeated, no blame can be attached to the honest sons of labor in Cambria county. The Democrats of Gallitzin, Millville and Cambria city stood up nobly to their integrity; and even in Washington township it was not the honest miners who scratched Mr. Rose, but the dishonest politiclans. All honor, then, to the workingmen of Cambria county! They know their true interests and "knowing dare maintain." We suggest to them the propriety of putting their grievances in the form of a petition, accompanied by a bill prepared by some competent hand, and test the love of the Bank "ring" for the laboring man.

ONE of the most singular results of the late election is the fact that in Philadelphia, where the aggregate vote polled was 112.-000, the entire vote cast on the question of a Constitutional Convention was only 17,-600, of which five hundred were against it. It may safely be said that nearly one-half the time of each session of the Legislature is devoted to the consideration of private or special bills, originating in the interests of the numerous corrupt "rings" with which that city is oursed and plundered. Hence the members of these "rings" were bitterly heatile to a convention, which, if its work is well done, would cut up their villainons husiness by the roots, and then Othello's occupation would be gone. The desired reform, however, will be attained, since the project of calling a convention has been endorsed by an overwhelming maj rity.

"The ingratitude of the people of Ebensburg."-Johnstown Echo.

"The vote in Ebensburg against the Demo cratic nominee for the Legislature is a sample of 'ring' gratitude."-Johnstown Democrat.

The foregoing extracts from the Democratic press of Johnstown contain a fitting rebuke to Ebensburg and is well descrived. The old office-holders' "ring" combined with the "Bank Ring" to defeat Mr. Rose. Not only men who have unsuccessfully aspired | the distant shores of Lake Michigan. to office, but others who have been elected to office by the Democratic party of the county, opposed Mr. Rose as well as most of the candidates on the county ticket. These professed Democrats, together with some others who preferred greenbacks to principles, were admitted into the "Bank Ring" and worked in season and out of season to accomplish the defeat of the Democratic candidate. The names of these men are embalmed, and although they may be tolerated, they can never be trusted by the Democracy of the county, who will not soon forget their treachery and ingratitude to the party that has heretofore trusted, honored and sustained

The Vote of the County.

It is said that every dark cloud has its silver lining, and however much the defeat of WILLIAM H. ROBE, our candidate for Assembly, is to be regretted, it is yet a source of gratification to know that the Democracy of Cambria county in their support of the State ticket maintained their political in tegrity unsullied and unimpaired. It is proof conclusive, that whatever force and effect local and personal causes may have produced on their better judgment-whatever influence political and personal animosities may have exercised over them-when a State ticket is presented to them composed of competent and unobjectionable men, they masses, know their duty and willingly and manfully ticket was about 5,300, or 400 less than was polled at the Governor's election two years 100. That this majority could have been increased at least 150, is perfectly apparent. the estimation of an honest public. At the last election the Democratic vote in Clearfield township was 100 less than it was at the Presidential election three years ago. In Allegheny township it was 52 less. In some other townships in the northern portion of the county there was a failure to poll the full Democratic vote. In Cleerfield township it was simply hexcusable, and in deliberately forego the exercise of a privilege which is justly regarded as the dearest right sion are patiently longing and waiting for. we who enjoy it free and untrammelled feeling of pride and satisfaction. The Chicago Fire. The country has not yet recovered from the severe and terrible shock it experienced from its centre to its circumference, by the sudden and appalling calamity which has befallen Chicago, the fairest city of the great Northwest. Almost literally may it be said, Chicago was, but is not-it has vanished, rolled together like the heavens and the earth in the awful vision of the Apocalypse, "as a scroll in the flames." The human mind may conceive, but no pen can adequately describe, the ruin, woe and desolation that have swept over that doomed times, no conflagration can compare with it in the fearful sweep and extent of its devastation. Beside its ravages, those of all other fires are dwarfed, as the boy is to the giant. The two most extensive and disastrous fires of modern days were those of London in 1666 and Moscow in 1812. The great Lon don fire lasted during three days, extended over five hundred acres of ground, and destroyed thirteen thousand houses. The conflagration of Moscow covered four hundred acres and consumed twelve thousand bouses. The Chicago fire burned over sixteen hundred acres and destroyed fifteen thousand houses. No fire which has ever occurred in the world has been attended with such a pecuniary loss as that suffered by Chicago, nor was there in either London or Moscow such an amount of rich and valuable merchandize or so many costly and magnificent buildings destroyed. It is a pitiable, dreadful sight, and her naked, homeless and starving peo. ple have called on a charitable, sympathizing world for help and succor in this, the hour of their great calamity. Their appeal has not been made in vain. The great heart of the nation has been touched as though by magic and has nobly, generously responded to the cry of suffering thousands, by profusely showering upon them its best and most acceptable gifts. Strong men and delicate women and helpless children will not be permitted to starve and perish in a land overflowing with plenty and abundance. This is creditable to humanity and makes one think better of his species. Money, clothing and provisions have flowed and will continue to flow in a steady stream into the CHICAGO, October 15 .- Peshtigo, Wis. dates to the 12th record the utter destruction of the town. Four hundred dead bodies have been recovered, and it is thought that 300 more are in the river, where the intense heat caused death by inhalation while the rest of the body was under water. Incidents of the Chicago Fire.

While Madison street, west of Dearborn, and the west side of Dearborn were all ablaze the spectators saw the lurid light appear in the rear windows of Speed's block. Pretime to dress himself leisurely, appeared on the extension built up to the second story of two of the stores. He coolly looked down the thirty feet between him and the ground, while the excited crowd first cried jump. and then some of them more considerately looked for a ladder. A long plank was soon recent storms and floods in China, repre- found and answered the same as the ladder, while these preparations were going on there suddenly appeared another man at a fourth story window of the building below, which had no projection, but flush from the top to the ground-four stories and a basement. His escape by the stairway was evidently cut off and he looked despairingly down the fifty feet between him and the ground. The crowd grew almost frantic at the sight, for it was only a choice of death before him -by fire or by being crushed to death by the fall. Senseless cries of jump ! jamp! of sympathy, for the sight was absolutely agonizing. Then for a minute or two he disappeared, perhaps even less, but it seemed so long a time the suppositoin was that he had fallen suffocated with the smoke and heat. But, no; he appears again. First he throws a bed; then some bed clothes, apparently, why, probably even he does not know. Again he looks down the dead, sheer wall of fity feet below him. Then he mounts the window sill. His whole form appears, naked to the shirt, and his white limbs gleam against the dark wall in the bright light as he swings himself below the window. Somebody-how none can tellhe drops and catches on the top of the windows below him, of the third stoops and drops again, and seizes the frame with his hands, and his gleaming body once more straighten, and hangs prone downward, and then drops instantly and accurately upon the window sill of the third story. A shout more of joy than applause, goes up from the breathless crowd, and those who had turned away their heads, not bearing to look upon him as he seemed to drop to sudden and certain death, glanced upon at him once more. with a ray of hope, at this daring and skillful feat. Into this window he crept for a stairway, but appeared again presently, for here was the only avenue of e cape, de perate and hopeless as it was. Coce more he dropped his body hanging by his hand. The crowd screamed and waved to him to swing over the projection from which the other man had just been rescued. He tried o do this, and vibrated like a pendulum from side to side, but could not reach far enough to throw himself upon its roof. Then he hung by one hand and looked down; raising the other hand he took a fresh hold and swung from side to side again to reach the roof. In vain again he hung motionless by one hand, and slowly turned his head over his shoulder and by a rattlesnake last Tuesday, and swals gazed into the abyss below him. Then gathlowed seventy two grains of carbonate of ering himself up, he let go his hold and for icated in the slightest degree. Such a man | Of course it killed him.
