SAM'S DEGACY. A DEATH BED SCRNE.

Sam is a colored "man and brother." He came north during the late war. He got as far as Connecticut and bired out to a Radical farmer as a farm hand. Sam was free-that is, he was free to work early and late for very little pay. He got his board and clothes, such as they were, and occasionally, on a holiday; he found himself master of a shinplaster, of a small denomination. Once, his employer, aware that Sam was calculating to go to Hartford to attend a colored celebration, opened his heart and tendered the grinning contraband a twenty-five cent shinplaster. Now, Sam had an indistinct idea that, notwithstanding his master's Between 13th and 14th Sts., Altoona. protestations of love for his unfortunate race, there were other colored men working in the same neighborhood with himself who were infinitely better off than he was, and one especially, who worked for a "copperhead," had a small sum laid away in one of the Hartford saving banks. So Sam had grown to be suspicious that his master was not treating him so generit will certainly be no fault of the new firm at the old stand of Spoemaker & Co., High street, Den't forget to call and we'll not forget to give you full value for your money. Ebensburg, Jan. 28, 1871-tf: Ously as his sen-iaudations might seem to imply, and when he was proffered the twenty-five cent bill he plucked up his courage to say, "Golly, massa, I knows I's a culled pussun, and am not waff much anyhow ; but seein' this chile ain't had noffin' for about six months, 'pears to me you might raise it to a half a dollar."

This stroke of audacity on Sam's part subjected him to a severe lecture, in which his employer figured as a benefactor, and Sam as an ungratuful creature who could not realize or appreciate what had been accomplished for his race. After this Sam almost thought it his duty to decline the twenty-five cent piece, but when he thought of the dusky city charmers whom he might wish to treat to ice-cream, he smothered his feelings of sympathy, pocketed his money and started for town to IRON AND NAILS, participate in the emancipation celebra-

Some time after this Sam's master was taken sick, and supposing that his life was near an end, sent for Sam to come to his bedside. The negro made his appearance. and with a joyful face drew near, expecting something vastly to his benefit would occur. What it would be he had not the remotest idea, but judging from his own feelings he thought that nothing less than a pretty good fiddle would be at all appropriate for a death bed present,

"You know," said his employer, "you have been a faithful servant to me, Sam?" "Yes, massa," (Sam's ebony features developed into a broad grin. He now heped for a pair of cowhide boots in addition to the fiddle)

All such goods as Spices, Brushes, Wood and Willow Ware, Shoe Blacking and Stationery will be sold from manufacturer's printed price lists, and all other goods in my line at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Pitts-burgh current prices. To dealers 1 present the peculiar advantage of saving them all freight and drayage, as they are not required to pay freights from the principal cities and no drayage charges are made. Dealers may rest asously as his self-laudations might stem to sured that my goods are of the best quality and not to be computed. It challenges trial, and conmy prices as moderate as city rates. By doing a fair, upright business, and by promptly and satisfactorily filling all orders, I hope to merit the patronage of retail dealers and others in I's a culled pussun, and am not waff Cambria county and elsewhere. Orders respectfully solicited and satisfaction guaranteed THOMAS CARLAND. n all cases.

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

> Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this efliseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries,

As a remedy it is adequate, on which the I may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering vinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Ten-der lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multi-tudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured. Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as inemorable as the greatest it has ever effected. turkey would set on eggs.'

HOW HE SET THE TURKEY.

Mrs. Stowe, in one of her stories, gives the following sketch of a worthy minister, who evidently understood the good book better than he did the turkey business. "Huldy,' says the minister, one day to his new help 'you sin't experienced outdoors, and when you want to know any, thing you must come to me."

"Yes, sir,' said Huldy.

"Now, Huldy,' says the parson, 'you must be sure to save the turkey eggs so sectual remedy for all that we can have a lot of turkeys for Thanksgiving."

"Yes, sir,' says Holdy, and she opened the pantry door and showed him a nice dishfull she'd been savin' up. Wal, the snown that it defectually control them. The testimony of our best citi-zens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. " 'Do, Huldy ?' says the parson, 'why there is the other turkey out there by the door, and a fine bird, too, he is.'

"Sure enough, there was the old Tom turkey a struttin' and a sidlin' and a quitterin' and flutterin' his tail feathers in the sun, like a lively young widower, all ready to begin life over again,

""But,' says Huldy, 'you know he can't set on eggs.

The National Guard is remembered in a few complimentary remarks.

In his message of February 10, 1870, the governor gave his reasons why the "act to allow writs of error in cases of murder and manshaughter" should not pass the legislature, and his views as then expressed remain unchnoged.

The message also recommends legislation converning sheriff's proclamations for elections, railroad consolidations, capitol and Cords and Manilla Ropes, and many other capitol grounds, revision of the civil code, and coal mines.

The governor is evidently in favor of dompulsory vaccination ; he deprecates the want of proper sanitary laws in our state, and refers the legislature to statistics demonstrating the necessity of a compulsory vaccination law, besides quoting the opinions of eminent physicians. He also suggests the organization of a state board of health, and denominates it as a measure that will result interest sanitary reforms. The removal of the quarantine station is suggested, and as a co-operation of the states of New Jersey and Delaware is necessary, the Governer recommends that two commissioners be appointed to confer with similar commissioners from the other states in relation to the removal of the station. The removal of the powder magazine to a more isolated district is also deemed desirable.

The importance of the board of public charitles is recognized, and mention is made of the death of a number of distinguished citizens of the state.

The executive's power of pardoning is Virginia Street, near Caroline Street, mentioned as an embarrassing and responsi ble duty. During the past year one thousand and twenty-three applications for par-don were made, sixty of which were granted, The only dealer in the city having the right to less than six per cent, of the entire number, Nothing is said, however, concerning the case of Dr. Schoeppe. The wisdom of the legislature in passing an act authorizing the commutation of terms of imprisonment is commended and its salutary effect noted.

The message closes with some general remarks upon questions not affecting the interests of the state, and in this connection are not considered worthy of special mention.

STEWED OYSTERS - We suppose that nine out of ten housekeepers will contradict us point blank, in a statement that nine out of ten of them do not know how to stew a dish of cysters. By the ordinary routine, that nearly every one follows, either the oysters are stewed and shrivelied out of all semblance of themselves in shape, size and flavor, or which spoils it. "IT ISN'T CATCHING,"-The following little story, too good not to be repeated, is told at the expense of a young lady school teacher, not a thousand miles from this place, who is very properly anxious in re-

Shoe, Dusting, Varnish, Stove, Clothes and and varied assortment of gard to the prevention of small-pex in hor school, and therefore strictly enforces the Cooking, Parlor and Heating Stoves rule that whenever a case of sickness is reported in the family of any one of her pupils, the pupil must bring a certificate from the family physician statiog that the disease is not contagious, failing in which the pupil must remain away until all danger is over. A few days ago she was informed that one of her pupils, a little girl, of Teutonic extraction, had sicknesss in her family. On being questioned, the little girl admitted that "she had sick at her house;" that her mother was sick, and that she had "marks on her face." She was accordingly sent home. She returned in a few days, however, and reported that her "father was sick now." .OWN, She was again sent home, with orders not to come again without a certificate from the family physician. The next day she returned to school and shyly siding up to the teacher, with her finger in her mouth and her little bonnet swinging by the P strings, she said : "Miss, we've got a lectle baby at our house, but mother told me to tell you it isn't catchin'." The teacher said she was very glad it wasn't "catching," and told the pupil to take her 80at.

An amusing colloquy came off at a supper table on board of one of our Mississippi steamboats, between a Chicago exquisite, reeking with oil and cologne, who was cursing the waiters and assuming very consequential airs, and a raw Jonathan seated by his side, dressed in homespun. Turning to his vulgar friend, the former pointed with his jewelled finger and said: "Buttab, sah !" "Yes, I see it is," coolpointed with his jewelled finger and said: "Buttab, sah!" "Yes, I see it is," cool-ly replied Sonathan. "Buttab, sab, I say," fiercely repeated the dandy. "Yes, sir; I know it—very good and a first rate article." GRattab. Ltall was," thurder.

" 'That'll do the thing, Huldy,' said the parson.

" 'I don't know about it,' says Huldy. " "Oh, yes it will child-I understand," says he.

"Just as he spoke the basket riz right up and stood, and they could see old Tom # long legs.

" .I'll make him stay down, confound him,' says the parson, for you see parsons is men, like the rest on us, and the doctor had got his spunk up.

"You jist hold him a minute and I'll get something that'll make him stay, I guess,' and out he went to the fence and brought in a long, thin, flat stone, and laid it on old Tom's back.

"Old Tom, he wilted down considerably under this, and looked railiy as if he was goin' to give in.
