In his great speech in St. Louis, on last Monday week, Senator Schunz used the following strong and emphatic language in reference to his opposition to the corrupt scheme of General GRANT for the annexation of San Domingo:

One of the Transactions of Harrison Allen, 'the Ring Candidate for Auditor General Wh Became of the Two Thousand Dollars.

It will be remembered that Harrison Allan was the leader in the Senate in the attempted nime million steal. He was the very first to record his vote in favor of that project, and it has been asserted that he tions with the White House came to me, has been engaged in humserous other jobs each one separately, soliciting my support at Harrisburg. Two years ago last winter I was interested with Messrs. Henry Fisher, Adnah Neyhart, Joshua Pierce, M. G. Cushing, Jas. Porshall, and J. L. Grandin, all of Tidioute, Pa., in a pipe for running oil from the wells

Upon getting there I saw Mr. Allen, and told him to use his influence in our hands of the whole business, as will be favor. He said that there were already seen from the following letter addressed to several applications for pipe charters in Warren and Venango counties, and on account of the competition it would be impossible for us to obtain an exclusive charter, but that he thought the better way for a protection would be to kill all pipe charters which other parties might seek to obtain, and that this would be accomplished in committee, but to do so it would require some money. Tasked him how much. He replied that it could be done for two thousand dollars ($2,000). I told him that having no authority to make such an arrangement I would have to return and consult with the Company. He said that so far as he was concerned he did not want a dollar, neither would be receive it, but for his services in the matter and the right to lay our producing oil, he wanted us to agree to give his share of the oil run by us. THE BINGHAMPTON LIE. The End of the Parce.

[From Saturday's New York Tribune.] There's no end to the richness of this mpaign. That the Binghampton monkeys should raise a bray loud enough to make every Grant editor in the United States prick up his ears was droll enough. But they had one plump, comfortable sensation, that was really worth while. A vouthful editor, S. C. Carpenter, to wit, urning with the wildest ambition to be known, had sworn that he had seen Horace Greeley's declaration, in Horace Gree- to be fit for no more valuable service. Here is the document as it appears recognized by what he knows of Greeley's handwriting, and by The Tribune bending (this letter being an answer to a letter of Carmichael, asking his views on the Confederate pension question), expressed the views of Mr. Greeley as favorable to the passage of a law providing that the General Government pay pensions to Southern disabled soldiers, although be (Greeley) doubted whether Congress would pass such a bill; that deponent read the letter carefully, and this was its true expression and meaning; and it was freely discussed between Carmichael and deponent. That this letter was, according to deponent's best recollection, dated in August or early September, 1871. Deponent saw a letter from Horatio Seymour on the same subject at about the same time. Mr. Seymour expressed himself in opposition to making the pension question an issue then.

And now comes the richness: MR. P. B. ROGERS-Dear Sir: There appeared in the Binghampton Daily Redican of July 19 an affidavit made by S. Carpenter, stating, among other things, that I had seen a letter written by Horace Greeley of New-York to Lewis Carmichael of Unadilla, in which letter Mr. Greeley said he favored the pensioning southern disabled soldiers, &c. The last time I talked with Carmichael in relation to Greeley and political matters was no later than Nov. 15, 1871. Several gentlemen residing in Unadilla, of unquestioned integrity, who have seen all of 'armichael's letters from Greeley, inform me that no such letter was written by Mr. Greeley; therefore I concluded I may be mistaken, and that my impression of the purport of the letters was obtained from rmichael personally, in stating what he had written to Mr. Greeley, or intended to write. At the time of Carmichael's visit to the Herald office, I did not regard the matter he was working up as possible, and gave him but little attention. I make this tatement thinking I may be mistaken, and hope for a public production of the whole rrespondence between Carmichael and Greeley, UNTIL WHICH TIME I RETRACT THE STATEMENT MADE IN MY AFFIDAVIT!!

Ex-Mayor Bowen, of Washington, Cheated Out of $25,000. He Styles Grant a "Blackleg" Suit to be Commenced in the Washington Courts Next Term. The Presidential Tweed—Demoralization and Dishonesty at the White House and Long [From the Auburn Democrat.]

The following letter was written to Geo. L. Watkins, Esq., who resides in Scipio. of the United States, Sayles J. Bowen. It will explain itself well as one of the disparty have elected to the Presidency, and ing to do again:

Washington, July 18, 1872. G. L. Watkins, Esq.—My Dear Sir:-I was much pleased to receive from you your kind and encouraging letter of the 15th inst. You are right in stating that I know something of General Grant's business qualifications as well as his character for honor, honesty and truth. I had a busiapplied to the use designed, but that he ness transaction with him in which he of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Weller, of would guarantee that the charter should cheated me out of $21,000 with a coolness | California, Judge Bullitt, of Kentucky not interfere with us whatever, and that and deliberation that would do credit to and Colonel Walker, of Indiana. We he would protect our interests. All of which any blackleg. In the mail that carries this received messages from other gentlemen, letter I send a copy of the Transcript, a paper published in this city, containing an article relating to the transaction alluded to, every word of which is true, as I stand ready to prove by Grant's letter and the original contract in my possession. Indeed, the Transcript has dared the Grant papers here and elsewhere to deny a single allegation in the article, which they have not had the temerity to do, as everybody in Washington knows it is true in every feature. I intend to prosecute Grant before our Courts, and have made arrangements to commence suit against him at the next term, when the whole matter will be shown up to the world in evidence that cannot be disputed. This affair is only an index to Grant's private character. He is a miserly, sordid man, and will resort to anything, evasion or invasion of law and justice, or anything else that an honorable person would despise, to put money in his pocket. By his speculations in Seneca stone rings and other scandalous jobs, through his people would be happy and prosperous made him more honest, decent, sober, his presents, and farming out of official positions, he will leave the Presidency on the 4th of March next as rich as a Jew and as infamous as he who betrayed his Lord and master for thirty pieces of silver. His habits are of the worst possible kind, and his associates of the lowest order. Indeed, his instincts are low and vulgar, and he is never so well satisfied as when in company with horse jockeys, smoking cigars, drinking whisky, and 'talking horse." Demoralization and corruption are the order of the day in all sections of the country, and GREELEY AS AN ABOLITIONIST .- "Gree- these have their origin in the White House ley is the most radical abolitionist in the and at Long Branch. Wonderful Self-Control.-A State Convict Pretends to be Dumb and Does Not Speak for Two Years .- The Auburn Advertiser of July 20th says: Two years ago George Scott, one of a gang of desperadoes in New York city, committed a robbery for which he ought to have received ten years in prison. When he was arrested he feigned to be deaf and dumb. Upon his trial he made much of his infirmity, and the result was that he succeeded in escaping with a sentence of only two years.-Leing transferred from Sing-Sing to Auburn Prison he still kept up appearances, by means of which he escaped from doing heavy work, but was assigned to duty in Shoe-shop No. 1, as waiter, being supposed was sharp, ready and intelligent, and generally well-behaved, though hot tempered. Keeper Bacon, underwhom he was placed, had him always under strict surveillance, but never was led to suspect by anything in his conduct that he was not deaf and dumb. Indeed, he says, that he once saw Scott, who always went in the shop by the name of "Dummy," so roused up and maddened by something that had occurred that he thought he would go crazy, yet he gave no sign that he was otherwise, in respect to hearing and speaking, than he seemed. About two months ago Dummy's time was up and he was discharged. To give him a start in life again, Keeper Bacon hired him to do some gardening. Principal Keeper Gallup did the same. He worked in this way for two or three weeks. While at his work children would talk to him and play around him, yet he was apparently oblivious of their presence. But Dummy had a tongue and could use it. and his hearing was as keen as anybody's, One day he fell in with a fellow convict, who had just been discharged from prison, and they went off up the street together, talking glibly. Captain Russell, foreman in one of the departments of the prison shoe shop, who was on the street, overheard their conversation, and, on another occasion, it happened that one of the keepers met Dummy at Louis Schuch's and talked with him for a long time.

-Sir James O'Connell, brother of Dan'l O'Connell, died in London on Monday last. —A Richmond man has worn the same pair of linen trousers forty-nine summers. They have been in style seven times. -Two married men of Whitehall, Ill.,

recently eloped with one married woman;

and three divorce suits are on the tapis in -A Stewart county, Georgia, hen has got herself into no end of trouble by setting on fourteen eggs and hatching out twentyfour chickens, with seven eggs to spare. Swindlers selling bags and carpets by some of our neighboring counties, duping the innocent and unsuspecting. Look out for them. -General Milo S. Hascall, of Indiana, who was a Grant elector four years ago, has written a letter announcing his inten-

sample at half price, are traveling through tion of supporting the Liberal Republican candidates. -And now it seems that there has been a fraud of from $15,000 to $50,000 in the Freedman's Bureau. It is doubtless all ight, though the money is gone and noody knows exactly where. -Two boats were capsized in the Niagara River recently, two men being in one and two children in the other. They were all carried over the falls and no trace of the bodies can be found.

-Hartranft has been in office but six years, yet the State has lost through his negligence, if not criminality, over two millions of dollars, to say nothing of the robberies of the State Treasury he has winked at.

-Col. John H. Keatly, formerly of this county, says the Hollidaysburg Standard, always a Republican, and potent in the councils of his party in Iowa, where he has resided for several years past, has declared for Greeley and Brown —Ex-Governor Joseph E. Brown, whose advent into the Chicago Convention that nominated Grant, and whose speech on that memorable occasion was hailed with such vociferous applause, heads the Greeley party in Georgia. So we go. -Four counties in Iowa-Allamakee, Clayton, Dubuque, and Jackson, are credited with 5,000 majority for the Reform ticket. If other portions of the State vote in parallel columns with these, Grant will lose Iowa by a alceided majority. -Hartranft is a better mathematician than soldier. He, assisted by Kemble and Evans, figured the State out of over $2,- 000,000 in less than three years. Addition, division and silence—Evans, Kemble and Hartranft—the "rale of three" that did the business for us. -John Cessna has been named for renomination to Congress by the Radicals of Fulton county, and the New York Eccning

Post says "If the Republicans nominate him again, they will again deserve defeat. Ir. Cessua is not a fit man for Congress. The Post people are evidently posted in elation to Mr. Cessna —At Pocahontas, Ark., a fortnight ago, a yoman, while passing a house, was torn in pieces by a pack of dogs. A day or two after another person was attacked by the same pack and narrowly escaped. The local paper says the proprietor has since agreed to keep his dogs tied up, which indicates a very accommodating spirit, —Mrs. Doreas Zahnizer, of Jefferson township, Mercer county, died recently, in the nineticth year of her age. She was born in Westmoreland and went to Mercer when twelve years of age. She lived to see her fourth generation, children, grandchildren, and great-grand-children, numbering in all two hundred and sixty. -A terrible steamboat explosion occured on the Mississippi river, two miles above McGregor, Iowa, at 1 p. m., on Tuesday last. The raft boat James Melburn, bound up, exploded her boiler with fearful effect, Of twenty-five persons on board only ten were saved as far as could be ascertained. and several of these are badly sealded. -Near Warsham, about five miles west of Cincinnati, on Tuesday evening, a col- The only dealer in the city having the right ored girl, Mary Alice Craig, killed her stepfather, Wright Smith, also colored, by striking him on the head with a hoe. Smith was a local Methodist preacher. The girl has been arrested. She alleges that the act was in self-defence, as Smith, the murdered man, attacked her with a razor. -Gen. Lemuel Todd, one of the Con-ressmen-at-Large on the Radical State icket, was an original Know-Nothing. He organized that party in Cumberland county, and was elected to Congress as its representative. He has never renounced his faith in the narrow, bigoted, intolerant spirit which made war upon a race of men because they happened to be born in other lands, and destroyed their property because they were not of his religious faith. A terrible accident occurred about 1

'clock Monday morning, on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, one hundred and thirteen miles east of Denver, Col. A westward My stock consists in part of every variety: bound passenger train, consisting of two leeping-cars, one first-class and one secondclass coach, and the baggage and express creek. The entire train, except the sleeping-cars, was wrecked. Five persons were killed outright and a number were wounded, some of whom will probably die. The killed were all in second-class cars. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a waterspout bursting over the creek and washing out the supports of the bridge.

-There was born on the 27th ult., near Academia, Knox county, Tenn., an infant having two well-developed heads, with distinct shoulders and upper extremities, but uniting a little above the chest, forming one body with two well-formed inferior extremities, corresponding to each head, and a blighted one with three toes. The child or children was still-born, but measures have been taken for the preservation of the human curiosity. The father is a well-to-do farmer-merchant, named Caldwell, and is a highly-respected citizen of Academia, Mrs. Caldwell being the daughter of a well-known citizen of Knox county The account of the great physiological wonder is entirely authentic.

A REMARKABLE FREAK OF LIGHTNING. On the evening of the 4th of July Mr. J. Ford, of Brandywine Hundred, while taking his family riding in a two-horse carriage, was overtaken by the fearful thunder-storm of that evening. Mrs. Ford sat on the back seat, with her little son, some 4 or 5 years old, upon her lap. The lightning struck Mrs. Ford's hat, set fire to the ribbon that
