CARROLLTOWN, Aug. 1, 1872. Dear Freeman-Every day brings a raft of raitmen through our borough, homeward bound, many of whom have made their secand trip down the river within the past two or three weeks. "THE CIRCUS IS COMING," shouted the small lovs of Ebensburg as they througed the streets on Wednezday last, for on the walls were placarded the gorgeous bills of a circus company, with pictures of Sinewy Arabs whirling on flying trapezes, piling in huge pyramids and indulging in those athletic feats of ground and lofty tumbling which all the aforementioned small boys immediately imitate in secret places, to be pounced upon by terror-stricken mothers who appreciate not in the least the efforts of the would-be-acrobats. Then there are horses and riders, clowns and ring-masters, all glittering in the brightest of colors, and, in short, the whole thing tells that the circus is coming. OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

THE FIFTH THING. Another great want in the Common Schools is the want of parental co-operation. The most careless observer can perceive this want. The father is busied about his out-door employments and the mother about her in-door occupations, and the children often are left to shift for themselves. Parents who will accompany their children to the circus, the theatre, or the pic-nic, seldom accompany and the parent never enters the school-room door. This is not right. Parents can aid pupils in many ways to climb the hill of sei-

1st. They can aid them by smiles and good words. When children learn that their efforts at school please their parents, they will be the more willing to push forward in study, And a smile, or a kind look, or an encouraging word, costs nothing. It is cheap help. 2d. They can aid them by asking questions about their studies and their progress; the number of lessons; the manner of reciting; the time of reciting; whether their lessons are already prepared, or whether they must yet learn them. All these little questions make a deep impression on the young mind. 3d. They can aid them in purchasing suitable books, enough of them and furnished at classes without suitable books, and these ronize the firm.

A very learned man ays that he was provoked to study Latin, be ause, when a boy, he found a Latin line in Harvy's Meditations" which he did not understand, and which the author had not translated. So the gift of a Latin grammar may beduce the recipient to study the lan-

More will be said on this subject when we come to text books. It is introduced here incidentally, in connection with parental co-operation.

Parents, take this subject into deep and thoughtful consideration. If education is worth anything-if schools are of any usethen parental co-operation is necessary .-Your children are your own. They are growing up very rapidly. In a few years they will fill your place in social, civil and religious life. Aid them, encourage them in acquiring such a knowledge of the arts, the sciences, manners and morals, as will enable them to discharge their duties intelligently when you have passed away. Rob Roy,

ORIGINAL TO RELIABLE MOWING & REAPING MACHINES CTNA MANUFACTURING CO.SALEM

> PAMPHLET CONTAINING FULL DESCRIPTION Mowing Match.

From the Raxenna (Onio) Democrat, July, 1867 A very spirited and interesting Mowing Match was held on the famn of C. H. Bostwick, Esq., near Compbellsport, in this county, on the 15th . inst. There was a large attendance of speciators, and more than ordinary interest manifested in the friendly competition. An agreement had been entered into, between the parties representing the different machines, that only Common Maclifnes (such as are ordinarily offered for sale, and not made for special occasions) should be allowed to enter the contest each machine should mow an equal amount of grass, and one-team and driver should be used for all, in order that the trial might be a fair one, and the merits of the machines alone lay claim to public favor. The "ÆTNA" Mower, made by the ÆTNA Manufacturing Co. of Salem, Obio, for which Peter H. Bean appeared as agent, proved to have the lightest draught, and this, with its simplicity of construction and beauty of design, combined with its powerful cutting qualities, made it the favorite of the
