JOHNSTOWN, Aug. 19, 1872. To the Editor of the Freeman:

DEAR SIR-I suppose you are already aware that the Cambria Iron Company's Bog was laboring and groaning till it brought forth a scabby little fledgling which has, by common consent, been dubbed the Daily Vice. Very fit and appropriate name, that! The Elders and the Boys could not find any responsible party to take charge of their progeny, so, after much hunting, they found an irresponsible political weathercock, to whom they paid four hundred dollars, with instructions to sing, in the loudest key, all the beauties of the C. I. Co., all the virtues and noble, manly attributes of Mr. Morrell and of his right and left bowers, as well as the immeasurable advantage the Company's store is to Johnstown. The programme so far has been fully and faithfully carried out, for not only does this irresponsible weathercock place Morrell and his elderly and boggy satellites in the advance guard of enterprise and energy, but he writes and speaks of every body and every thing connected with the C. I. Co,'s works and store as if they were the beacon-lights of progress, before whom all Cambria county hould erouch, and fawn, and "bend the pliant hinges of the knee.

It is not many years since Mr. Morrell ran for Congress against Col. Linton; so, by way of illustrating the instability and weathercockism of the irresponsible political hack of the Vice of '72, I will quote from the Altoona Vindicator of '68, which was edited by the self-same pliant sycophant that now runs the Vice:

"Mr. Morretl is a moneyed fron king and bondholders' pet. He is prolific of words and promises, but the thinking men of this community demand something more than mere words. They have asked for bread and he has given them a stone. The bare necessaries of life were always marked higher at D. J. Morrell's store than the same quality of goods were disposed of by up-town merchants. Mr. Morrell is not the man to represent the people; he is one of their oppressors. He has proved himself a failure as a legislator; he is a consummate hypocrite. The Cambria Iron Company desires to employ labor at low rates. employ labor at low rates, to buy farm products for the smallest prices, and monopolize the iron trade. Mr. Morrell is an artful dodger and is well skilled in the use of two faces, and has no interest in the workingman, except in-asmuch as he may be instrumental in furthering his ambitious designs or increasing his store of wealth. He would proscribe a man that would not vote according to his dictation. He is a political upstart that will stop at nothing which fraud or corruption can suggest or

All the above, and very much more, can be found in the columns of the Altoona Vindicator. 1 will not for the present quote from the files of the old Democrat, wherein Mr. M. was caricatured and blackguarded with all envy could suggest, but will do so very soon. The man who during and after the war held up Mr. Morrell to public gaze as all that was tyranical, low, debased and brutal, is now giving us column after column teeming with fulsome flattery-in short, making Mr. Morrell the saviour and supporter of Cambria county, an upright and honest politician and a guiding star in the political horizon, the true and trusted friend of the workingmen, etc., etc. This worthless changlling of the Vice must be possessed of more brass than from Hon. D. J. Morrell to start his Vice-Hartranft and Buckalew, promising his support to both. The former sent a copy of the

M., Thursday, Other May at the town of th a faint idea of the fearful calamity in as few words as possible. About four o'clock, P. M., Thursday, 9th of May, a fire broke out in the western part of the town. A flerce wind was blowing at the time, and all efforts to check the flames proved futile. In less than two hours this once beautiful town was laid in ashes. The extent of ground over which the destructive element raged is about thirty acres, in the central part of the town, including all the stores and hotels, save one of each; all the banks and offices, including two printing offices; all places of business except public buildings. One-third in area of the solidly-built, and nearly the entire business part of the town, is in ruins, and certainly three-fourths of the wealth of the place is utterly d stroyed. The fire raged with such relentless fury that the terror-stricken people had to flee for tacir lives, and consequently but little personal property was saved. Indeed, many escaped with no other The fire raged with such relentiess tury that the terror-stricken people had to fice for their lives, and consequently but little personal property was saved. Indeed, many escaped with no other clothing than that upon their persons at the time. To a large number of the sufferers it is a total loss of everything they possessed, and they are left houseless and homeless, without a thing in the world and dependent upon the public for brend. Others upon whom the calemity is not so severe are greatly in need of aid to enable them to take another start in the battle of life. The loss will not fall short of a million of dollars, and the total amount of insurance will not exceed one bundred thousand dollars. one bundred thousand do!lars.

Generous public, that in the past has responded so nobly to the cry for help from foreign lands, and to the appeals of our own countrymen who have suffered like direful calamities, we call upon you, in behalf of this suffering but hopeful people, FOR AID SUBSTANTIAL AID. Your charities will confer a lasting favor upon them, and we sincerely hope that in the exercise of your liberality and generosity, it will be like the quality of mercy, "not strained, but twice blessed blessing him that gives and him that takes." your liberality and generosity, it will be like the quanty state of the Relief Comseed-blessing him that gives and him that takes."

MUTUAL Fire Insurance.

The Mutual Plan guarantees to the mutually The Mutual Plan guarantees to the mutually insured the greatest security for the least possible cost. The premium notes are the capital. On this no dividends are paid to the stockholders, but it is simply assessed to pay deficiencies arising after the payment of losses and expenses—which in the COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY, during the total 12% years of its existence, have averaged but 6½ per centum up to the premium note, being lower than the rates paid in the best solvent stock companies during the same period of time. In insuring at stock rates, the insured must pronounce to binself the same period of time. In insuring at stock rates, the insured must pronounce to himself that he pays every year enough—1st. To form an accumulated fund for emergencies; 2d. To pay large dividends to the capital invested in the Company; 3d. Runs the risk of a "Chicago fire" coming and wiping his Company out of existence. In a Mutual Company he keeps his own reserve in hand until needed, and pays no dividend to capitalists.
