CHERRY TREE, Pa., Nov. 6, 1872. Friend McPike-During the past week quite a number of incidents have transpired, some of them very pleasant in their character. On last Thursday several friends of the Baptist minister, Rev. J. J. Davis, gave that gentleman a surprise donation party at his residence. Much praise is due the lady managers who arranged the entire programme and carried it through so successfully. According to previous arrangement the minister and family were invited out to dinner, and while absent the house was taken possession by those participating in the affair. From ten o'clock until noon the arrivals were frequent, each one bringing with them not only some dainty preparation for the table, but "something nice for the minister." Groceries, dry goods, clothing, fancy arti-cles and provisions of all kinds found their way to his store room. By twelve o'clock the table was spread with a bountiful supply of the delicacies of the season and the minister sent for. You may imagine the surprise depicted in his countenance, Mr. Editor, upon his arrival home to find his house occupied in such a wholesale manner. He was allowed no time, however, to express his amazement, but was conducted to the head of the table, where, after a blessing having been asked, his wonder and astonishment were increased by finding beneath his plate the snug little sum of seventy-four dollars. After all had partaken of a hearty repast, they assembled in the sitting room and were addressed by the Rev. S. F. Crowther in a few pertinent and very appropriate remarks. The friends immediately after this quietly took their departure, leaving the minister and his happy family to rejoice over their bountiful supply of presents and the spirit of friendship manifested so agreeably by their neighbors toward themselves. On last Monday afternoon we had a very pleasant Sabbath School union. The Presbyterian S. S. and United Brothren S. Ex-Sheriff Harter, of this place, and Jos. R. Cruse, Esq., of Huntingdon, are about entering into the mercantile business at Cookport, six miles west of this place. Success attend them.

The election yesterday passed off very quietly giving Greeley a majority of seven in this place. There has been eighteen votes less poiled this election than at the State election four weeks ago. Cannot explain. Dr. A. R. Lovelace and the ex-Sheriff were prevented from voting yesterday on account of having bet upon the result of the election previous to voting.

The camp is situated about one-half mile from the borough line, located as it is the heart of a dense wood affords a striking contrast to its surroundings. The quarters of the men are very comforta-One-third of the building has been arranged as a sleeping apartment, being fitted up with two rows of bunks one above the other, well supplied with bedding, and each bunk capable of accomodating two men. A stove placed in the centre of this room makes it quite warm and pleasant, even in the coldest weather. The remaining twothirds of the building is used as a kitchen and dining room and is well arranged and withal very comfortable. In addition to the main building, there are several others, inluding stable, granery and office, the whole presenting an appearance of life seldern found in a forest. There are at present twenty-nine men on this job and were I not already trespassing upon your time and space would give you a brief sketch of the manner in which these men are divided in order to accomplish the greatest possible amount of work in the least possible space of time, but shall defer until some future period when local items are not so abundant.

THE HORSE DISEASE. - If the prevailing dis-THE HORSE DISEASE.—If the prevailing disease among horses is as hard on the animals as the several names given it are to spell and understand when they are spelt, it is as much a wonder to us that any of the afflicted brutes ever get over the first attack as it would be if any sensible person in this vicinity should go elsewhere than to C. T. Robert's elegant bazaar when wishing to invest money in a first class watch, clock, jewelry or fancy goods of any kind in his line of traffic. The man who don't know enough to buy from Cham, must be af-flicted with something worse than the epizootic.

ONE noticeable feature about the great Boswith which so many of the stores destroyed were packed to their utmost capacity. So great a loss of the raw material cannot but enhance the value of woolen goods, and the inference to be drawn from this fact is that the somer people buy their winter supplies of flannels and other woolen fabrics the less they will have to pay for them. V. S. Barker has a complete as-sortment of woolen goods and made-up cloth-ing unaffected in price by the Boston fire, and now is the time to buy them.
