THREE MEN KILLED ON THE RAILROAD. A terrible accident occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad near Nineveh staticn, a few miles from Johnstown, on Thursday morning, by which one man working on repairs was instantly killed and two per-sons in the same employment were so zeverely injured that they died soon after .---There are two versions as to how the accident happened, one of which is that the men had gone from one track to the other to avoid an eastern bound freight, and while thus imagining themselves in a secure position, the Pittsburgh Express west came dashing along and struck them. The other account states that the above passen-after the first section had passed the point of accident the men resumed their places on the track, unconscious of the fact that the express had been divided. A short distance cast of Nineveh, while rounding the curve, the engineer of the locomotive attached to the second section noticed the men on the track a short distance ahead.

The whistle signal of danger was sounded, but the repairmen seemed to be confused and scarcely moved. The air brake was

The subtle foe of the human race is attacking me at every callent point, and soon the citadel of life will be taken. The thread on which my existence has been so tenuated by continued tension, and it must quote from memory will apprize you of what WHAT HATH THE ANGEL WRITTEN?

"The year in his robes of glory Has glided adown the West, And, reaching oblivion's portals. Has silently sunk to rest. In the scene depicted before me,

A warning voice I hear ; What hath the Angel written In the Book of Life this year?'

Time draweth his sable curtain O'er city and village and plain ; The night-bird out in the forest, Is hooting his sad refrain ; His notes, as they float on the night-winds, My ears all sorrowful hear-They tell what the Angel hath written

In the Book of Life this year. "The busy murmur of voices Has died on the busy street, And the solemn silence is broken,

By snows that drift at my feet ; These passing emblems remind me, Of coffin, and hearse, and bier, And of what the Angel hath written, In the Book of Life this year."

I have served the State forty years and have not been remunerated. I have known you for twenty years to serve the public faithfully, and you have not been repaid, while men in the meanest occupations of life have grown rich. I have ceased to have faith in humanity. Truly Republics are ungrateful. Life is a frand, hope a delusion. Let us put our capital together and set up in another world. Good bye ! ROB ROY.

-THE JOHNSTOWN POST-OFFICE .- Pending the re-inauguration of President Grant and the formation of a new Cabinet, things have got lively in Johnstown among the seekers after the loaves and fishes. The post-office is the matter in dispute. Geo. Geddes is the present P. M. Who G. G.

But it seems to be the prevailing impression that now is about as good a time as any other to name his successor. Accordingly a host of applicants for the office have loomed up. First is Al. Letriken, who served satisfactorily as deputy P. M. under Mr. Chandler. Next, according Cincinnati Express. Adams, who to the Voice, is John M. Bowman, but that gentleman indignantly repels the insinuation. Then Mrs. Keemle's name graces the list. Mrs. Ogle was suggested as a n, was overcome by sulphurous suitable person, but she has made it public that she has enough to do to attend to the ng. and but for the timely inter- duties pertaining to the Western Union telegraph office. Mrs. Harriet Orr, formerly Mrs. McCague of this place, and for a time

There are many more who would not object to take that $2,000 a year situation. The stoppages from Pittsburg to Altoona on this account were very many, and the train was several hours late on arriving at the latter place. The peculiar movements of the train greatly excited the passengers and filled them with painful amazement. The con-

PEOPLE'S LITERARY COMPANION --- We have reason to believe that the publishers of bis paper, E. C. Allen & Co., of Augusta, Maine, are swindlers and sharpers. Last aunmer they induced Robert Sauford, a poor but we believe an honest man, to canvass for their paper in this county, and owing to the premiums offered in the shape of some large ingravings, quite a large list of subscribers which has caused him to keep his bed over was obtained. The papers were sent on as per contract, but their premiums are non est. They have been written to several times. and no kind of an answer can be obtained. They are as silent as the grave, paying no attention to the letters of Mr. Sanford, or to those written them by their swindled subscribers. The paper in itself is thoroughly sensational and worthless, and but for the premiums offered, not one copy would be sub-scribed for here. If the publishers will not make their promises good, made through their authorized agents, they must take the onsequences. They now have the floor for an explanation.

We clip the above from the Indiana Democrat, and will only add that the same game was very extensively practiced in this comthe innocent agent in the work of victim- paper is gotten up for the home and the izing many of our people. MR. EDITOR-As the County Auditors Yearly subscriptions only $1.50. will soon meet, I ask the privilege of saying a few words through your paper. The people believe when they elect a man to an ofe that he will discharge its duties. This has not been the case with the County Auditors of late years. They generally employ some person to act as clerk, who receives the same compensation as each of the Auditors. In this way the county pays four Auditora instead of three. I ask whether this is right or wrong. I do not believe the same thing is done in any other county in the State, and it is time that it was stopped in this county. Either of the County Auditors would consider it an insult to say that he is incompetent. Then where is the necessity of ap-pointing a clerk to assist them? If they believe they need one. I insist that the Auditors shall pay him out of their own salaries instead of his pay coming out of the county treasury. SUMMERHILL.

tween St. Clair cemetery and the water-plug east of town, Tuesday night of last week, which, from their singularity, are worthy of mention. Two trains were going east, the one following the other very closely, and the front one slacking up suddenly to take water at the plug on the south track, was run into by the one in the rear, and some coal cars wrecked. Almost simultaneously, while a westward bound'train was about pulling out from the plug on the north track, it met with a like disaster from the one following, hoisting the "cabocae" of the front train on top of the engine of the rear one, demolishing the smoke-stack, and hurling it some distance from the track. The cars of this train soon afterwards caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. James Blair, of Derry township, a brakeman on one of the eastward bound trains, was thrown from his car and injured to some extent. Thus we have the unusual spectacle of two wrecks within one hundred vards of each other, almost at the same moment, and each the result of a like
