On last Wednesday week, John T. Hoffman retired from the office of Governor of New York, which he has filled with great credit and acknowledged ability for four years, and was succeeded by General John A. Dix. John T. Hoffman is one of the ing to nine and a half millions of dollars, most prominent and accomplished leaders by appropriating it to purposes expressly of the Young Democracy of the country, forbidden by the Constitution. I can bear defeat, but the humiliation the thing has brought upon our colored race -that's what hurts me. Our race is now on trial before the world as to its fitness to gov. What will be said after such a wholeern. sale buying up as this? The colored men. as you know, are in large majority in the legislature, and then for them to deliberately sell out by wholesale is a blow that we can't get over for years. It is a blow at our integrity, our honesty and cur manhood. The report has gone to the world that the colored legislators making laws for South Carolina have been bribed by wholesale, and the report is unfortunately true. What will the world think of it?" -----It has been the custom of radical stump speakers and radical newspaper editors, while arrogating to their party all the morthe Democracy as the "whiskey party" and as being hostile to all measures looking to temperance reform. While such a man as Chandler, of Michigan, is one of the high purest and best men of the Democratic party have been wantonly denounced and held up to public reproach as daily worshippers at the shrine of Bacchus. Even ouring the late campaign for Governor in this State, such an examplary citient as pared to his opponent, was as Hyperion to ; a Satyr, was meanly and falsely charged man of intemperate habits. The submission by the last Legislature of the Local Option law to a vote of the people of the different counties in the State, for their sanction or rejection, will afford an opportunity of testing the sincerity of parties on this question of reform, assuming for the present that the Local Option remedy, wherever it is adopted, should eventually prove to be the great panacea against the evils of intemperance claimed for it by its man, vile man, is fitful even in cups. advocates. Some little idea may be formed of the seere injury which would be inflicted on trade a Great Britain in the event of a general novement in favor of temperance by the folwing account given by Baille Lewis, at a als and decency of the country, to assail meeting of the Edinburg Town Council, of the number of persons seen by the police to enter one of the "hard ale" shops in that city during one day. A "hard ale" shop is explained to be a shop where customers may get drunk for twopence-half penny. One penny-worth of "hard ale," followed by three half-penny priests ministering at the radical altar, the worth of spirits, will, it is stated, reduce even a seasoned toper to a state of hopeless tupefaction. From 8 to 9 A. M. there entered the establishment in question, on a Saturday in July, 100 men and 38 women ; from 9 10, 10, 120 men and 65 women ; from 10 to 11, 90 men and 40 women ; from 11 to 12, noon, 110 men and 48 women; from 12 to 1, 85 men and 55 women; from 1 to 2, 100 men and 60 women; from 2 to 3, 115 men Charles R. If the proprietor of this "hard ale" shop made only a profit of one-half penny on each in, 'ivdual, he would as Bailie Lewis observed, ha, e a total profit of £4 15s per day, or no less then £1,482 a year. It is remarkable to observe by these igures how steadily the "women" drank roughout the day-there is but little variation in their numbers from hour to hour in comparison with that to be seen in the case of the "men." The constancy of woman peeps forth in every transaction of hife, while

A REMARKABLE CASE .- The Lancaster Inquirer says: In one of the rural districts of this county lives a woman aged about sixty-five years, who for the past five years has been an invalid, and whose present condition is most remarkable. During her previous life she has borne by no means an enviable reputation, and strange stories are rife in the community concerning her former life. The most current of these is one to the effect, that years ago she, with the assistance of her brother and mother, in order to conceal the birth of a child, roasted it alive in an oven. This and many others are circulated, and gain credence from her present condition .--More than a year ago, after having been a helpless invalid for about four years, she arose one day in her bed and in a firm voice said : 'In this condition I must remain for a thousand years, though there come famine and starvation, yet will I never live or die.' With a spasmodic witch and convulsive movement, her limbs were doubled up in the most intricate manner, and she sunk back upon the bed where she has since remained, speechless and unable to move. Whether her silence is to be attributed to a visitation of Providence. or to stubborness, is not known. Her appearance is described by visitors to be most fearful to behold. Her limbs are twisted about her in a wonderful manner, and her facial expression is almost demoniacal. She refuses to take food in the presence of others, 1.3t as soon as they leave the room devours with the greatest avidity whatever is set before her. What renders her case still more remarkable, are the facts that her brother, years ago, committed suicide, and that her mother lin-

A THIRTY-ONE-HOURS' DANCE-AN OLD MAN WINS & WAGKE -Jimmy Kennovan finished his thirty-one-hours' dance at 2 o'clock last night. Jimmy kept in locomotion throughout the whole time announced, only taking a brief recess at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of bathing his feet and having a brief respite. At this time he showed few symptoms of overexertion. His feet were slightly swollen. but he otherwise seemed as fresh as when he commenced. His extremities were bathed by his trainer with brandy, which proved a most excellent specific for the purpose for which it was used. Before the expiration of the ten minutes allotted Jimmy began to feel sleepy, and was glad to begin his exercise again as soon as possible. At frequent intervals he drank wine with raw eggs as an invigorant. His appetite was also keen during the trial, and he ate heartily. When the last twenty minutes before the elapse of the thirty-one hours had come, Jimmy, who it seemed had husbanded his strength for the close, "let himself out." He seemed as fresh and more vigorous than when he first began, and he danced the last three dances with an energy and heartiness which would have put to blush a youth of sixteen. Jimmy, in fact, did not stop when three o'clock struck, but kept on going for nearly ten minutes longer. When the feat was finished he departed with his trainer for his lodging, where he was placed in a hot bath, rubbed down and put to bed. The spectators during the evening enjoyed themselves in singing and dancing, and passed the time very agreeably. Jimmy slept calmly and peacefully until seven o'clock this morning, when he arose and dressed himself. He made his appearance on the street this forenoon, formed is truly remarkable .- Vallejo, Cal., Chronicle.
