EBENSBURG, PA., Fillay Morning, - - Dec. 5, 1873.

THE Salary Giab bill will be repealed during the present session. Public opiuion demands such a step, and it will be taken by the majority of both Houses.

A Bran has been introduced into Conmails free of postage in the counties where ruglished. It will pass both Houses.

Congress convened at the National Capitol on Monday. Hon. Jas. G. Blaine, of Maine, was re-elected Speaker of the House, the Democratic members casting their ballots for ex-Mayor Fernando Wood, of New York.

During the session of the cabinet on Monday the President formally tendered to Attorney General Williams the position of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and conferred upon Col. B. H. Bristow, of Kentucky, who was first Solicitor under the law ettablishing the Department of Justice, from which office he resigned more than a year ago, the vacant Attorney Generalship. Bristow's appointment is commended, but that of Williams is considered entirely too thin to wash well The Senate has not yet acted on these appointments, but their confirmation is very probable.

order to induce white men to settle in that | next. State, have promised to furnish every white family coming into their respective counties with forty acros of land, rent free for five years. The Vicksburg Herald advocates selling instead of renting, the purchase money to be made payable in five annual instalments, and is confident that the adoption of this plan by land-holders would increase the population of M ssissippi sixty thousand in six months. Others, who own large tracts, propose to donate to actual white settlers every alternate forty, which is an excellent and judicious plan for encouraging permanent colonists.

The Williamsport Bulletin opposes the new constitution on the barren pretense that it re-enacts the law taxing real estate for State purposes. Whereupon the Harclause in the constitution that is clearly designed to prohibit the favoritism and partiality of exemptions of real property under special laws be tortured into the absard construction that it revives a tax that has been repealed by the legislature? Every session local and special bills are snaked through the legislature, under this or that pretext, exempting real property from taxation. The result is that the real barden which the owners of this property should bear is often shifted to the backs of abate this crying abuse and prevent its recurrence this provision was inserted in the constitution, and every man of sense in the commonwealth knows it.

THE New York Tribune well says: "The only peril which threatens the new Constitution of Pennsylvania comes from the 'Ring' which has so long held Philadelphia in slavery. All over the State the proposed changes are received with overwhelming approval. The more they are discussed the more general becomes the favor with which they are regarded; and it is perhaps not too much to say that the work of the convention has aroused something like enthusiasm from one end of the Commonwealth to the other. Even in Philadelphia the Constitution will command, they tell us, a large majority of honest voters, and it is doubtful if it could be defeated by all the false counting and repeating which the old election machinery would enable the 'Ring' to employ against it. We are not surprised at the violence-nay, the indecency-with which the election ordinance is consequently assailed. Except in the overthrow of that provision by means of the Supreme Court, the 'Ring' has absolutely no chance whatever. And even if the Court should decide against the ordinance and restore the displaced election officers to power, there will probably be an outburst of feeling among thing before it."

A FEW days ago the trial of Tweed ended in New York, and Judge Davis sentenced the convicted prisoner to twelve years' imprisonment. That trial was immediately followed by those of Farrington insanity. and Ingersoll, his accomplices. These men, like their chief, were found guilty and sent to the penitentiary, one for five years, the other for eighteen months. In passing sentence upon Ingersoll Judge Davis said : "You took a solemn oath to support the constitution of your country, and to faithfully discharge the office of Court-house Commissioner. How did you keep that oath? You, yourself, became a scheme of plunder, the greatest, perhaps, known in any country. You appear on the Tweed trial to be the recipient of of which you kept one million seven hundred and thirty dollars, and turned over the rest to Woodward." In sentencing reporters left the island. Farrington, Judge Davis said he was glad that Ingersoll had had the manliness to admit now what he might have admitted a participant in the crime, if not in its pro-
