—Yesterday's paper the official statement of the receipts and expenditures of the county for the year ending January 1st, 1874. It contains a mass of information of value to the local reader, and should be carefully scanned.

—Mr. Kennedy, for a number of years connected with the rolling mill at Cleveland, was located in Cleveland, and presented with a gold watch as a token of esteem of his friends a short time before one day last week.

—Fire in Bedford county, an incendiary fire on Mr. Hoover's farm, in Bedford county, and three head of cattle, a quantity of grain, farm implements, etc., consumed in the flames. The loss, over and above insurance, falls on the owner, has been considerable.

—Two men met on Tuesday last at Altoona and nominated David A. Gilfillan and John H. Carr for Assessors, and then met the following day and nominated David Kinch for Assessor, Eberhart for Treasurer, and struck a name for Burgess. Altoona's Democracy seems to be a lively one.

—Mr. Jno. Linton, Treasurer of Mr. Jno. Thomas, it follows that Mr. Thomas will make the "rifle" that Mr. Jno. Thomas is under a bond sufficient to cover all common school money that may come into his hands. Ward, similar to the coming summer.

—Mr. Hoffman, the climber of schools, who has been engaged in the erection of a number of school houses in the State, and of course, when completed in the East

—Mr. Hoffman, while cutting ice on the river at this town, on Sunday last, broke through and fell into the water. He was fished out, and, although he had a bad scare, is none the worse for his adventure. He was one of the pike fishers while he was down

—Mr. Wm. Ferree, of Ebensburg, will be married, on Tuesday, to a young lady residing in Johnstown. —"let me sleep," said the sensible woman—we know she is sensible, because she buys all the dry goods and groceries she needs where they can be bought the cheapest, at Myers & Lloyd's store, Ebensburg.—"let me sleep, and don't be frightened at your own shadow!"

—The banking house of Messrs. Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., Altoona, reopened its doors for the transaction of business last Monday.

—John Sloan, William Sloan, John Gallagher, James Conway, and James Devinney, charged with riot and tubrous destruction of buildings at Bennington on Sunday, 11th ultimo, were sentenced in the Blair county Court last week to pay a fine of $10 each, the costs of prosecution jointly, and to undergo an imprisonment of sixty days each in the county jail.

—A small dog belonging to the station agent of Allegheny Junction, on the West Penn Railroad, recently run under the engine of a train that was just starting out. It was generally supposed that the canine had been killed, but three hours later, upon the arrival of the train at Blairsville, 35 miles distant, he was found sitting upon the brake beam of the engine tank.

—The board of directors of the Cambria county Mutual Fire Insurance Company, met on Friday last, and effected the following organization for the current year: President, A. A. Barker; Vice President, David Lewis; Secretary and Treasurer, Thos. W. Dick; Executive Committee, George Huntley, E. Roberts, George M. Beadle, Agent, John E. Roberts, I. E. Roberts, Hartman Berg.

—We mention elsewhere that the members of the Blair county bar have petitioned against the dismemberment of the existing Twenty-fourth judicial district. On Wednesday, Senator Lemon presented to the Senate a petition of like purport signed by the members of the Cambria county bar. The prevailing disposition with those most intimately connected is to permit the district to stand as it is.

—The annual banquet of Highland Lodge I. O. O. F. came off at Lloyd's summer hotel last Thursday evening as per programme. About one hundred members of the fraternity, with their wives and friends, were in attendance, and spent the evening in an enjoyable manner. Highland Lodge is in a flourishing condition, its members numbering upwards of 150, and its treasury being in good condition.

—A project is on foot to construct a new county out of parts of Indiana, Jefferson, and Clearfield. The writer would have no objection to this arrangement, for it would probably be made the county-seat; but with the well-known antipathy of the people of the State toward the erection of new counties staring us in the face, we apprehend that any and all calculations based upon the foregoing idea will be doomed to disappointment.

—The Huntingdon Globe says: Mr. Davis Rupert, of Henderson township, has been suffering for some time with the rheumatism, and on Thursday night last, was sitting at the stove raising his limbs with liniment, when it took fire, and he was soon enveloped in flames. Had it not been for the timely arrival of his wife, who had the presence of mind to throw a blanket around him and smother the fire, he would have been burned to death. He is recovering.

—The promised shooting match between Wm. Richter, of Cambria county, and Anthony Johnston, of Blair county, for $25 a side and the championship, came off at Fountain Inn, last Monday. Fifteen shots apiece were fired, at a distance of sixty-six yards, with a rest. Mr. Richter's string was 13 inches, and Mr. Johnston's was 12 inches, and the former therefore scraped in the pot and the belt. Blair county papers please copy. It had been arranged for the same parties to shoot a string of fifteen shots at one hundred yards, for $25 a side, but Mr. Johnston declined to continue the contest. A match between Mr. Richter and Mr. Isaac Diehl, of Blair county, is in contemplation for some day in the near future. It will probably come off in the immediate vicinity of this place.

—It is only two weeks from date till the borough election, and as yet no single candidate has announced himself for the honorable and lucrative office of Burgess. Indeed, the sole and only name mentioned in connection with any municipal office thus far is that of our respected fellow-citizen, Chaplain Davis, who is resorted to have let drop the suggestion that a spontaneous call to the chair of a School Director would not be permitted to pass unheeded by him. This indifference to the importance of the approaching struggle on the part of the mass of our citizens is reprehensible to the last degree. Look at Altoona, with her thirty aspirants for Mayor! The attention directed to minor details is that and every other matter is the true secret of her success—a city Awake, arise! Start up the "big bar" question—anything. We cannot have an election without candidates.

ROLL OF HONOR.—The following named persons have, with a few exceptions, paid in full for the present volume of the FREEMAN. Those excepted lack not more than six weeks of the full year. In our next issue we will give the names of those who have paid for three months and upward of the present year, and also of those whom we may have inadvertently omitted or who may in the meantime render themselves deserving of the honor:

Cotton Hill, W. Va.—Jacob Koonsman.
Hudson, Iowa—Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin.
Loretto—Francis O'Friel, Mich'l Driskel, M. L. Stevens, Wm. J. Buck.
St. Augustine—Dan'l Ryan.

Carrolltown—Henry Miller, Setsuel Syberts, David Smith.

A BURGLAR in Greensburg was recently caught in a remarkable manner. Breaking into a closet and unoccupied office of a physician of that town, the burglar opened a closet (while his companion with a dark lantern was in another part of the room), and feeling for clothing at about the height of closet hooks generally, got his hands between the jaws of a skeleton, which being adjusted with a coil spring and kept open with a thread, closed suddenly on the intruding hand by the breaking of the thread. A sudden thought striking the burglar of his being caught by a skeleton in the doctor's closet so terrified him that he uttered a faint shriek, and when his companion turned the lantern toward him and he beheld himself in the grim and ghastly jaws of Death himself he became so overpowered by fear that he fainted, fell insensible to the floor, pulling the skeleton down upon him, and making so much noise that his companion fled immediately, and the doctor, alarmed at the noise and confusion, hastened into the office and secured the terror-stricken burglar still held by the skeleton.

COUGHS AND COLDS.—Thousands of persons die annually from consumption and other diseases of the lungs, who might have been cured, had they attended at first to what they thought was only a "slight cough" or a "bad cold." No one should neglect a cough or a cold, no matter how slight, for an hour. Hoxsie's Compound Syrup of Tar never fails in curing the worst cases of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma and Chronic Catarrhs. It is an invaluable remedy for Whooping Cough in children. If you are suffering from any throat or lung disease, get a bottle and be cured. Ask for Hoxsie's Compound Syrup of Tar, and do not allow yourself to be put off with some inferior preparation on account of its cheapness, or because it is represented to you to be as good as the above. Price 50 cents per bottle.—Sold by all Drug Stores and Dealers throughout the United States.

P. S. See that the signature of ETTSELL & LANDIS, Prop'rs, is on each wrapper.

A PERSONAL REFLECTION.—Bustleus aroused his wife from a sound sleep t other night, saying he had seen a ghost in shape of an ass. "Oh, let me sleep," said the sensible woman—we know she is sensible, because she buys all the dry goods and groceries she needs where they can be bought the cheapest, at Myers & Lloyd's store, Ebensburg.—"let me sleep, and don't be frightened at your own shadow!"

STRANGE EFFECTS OF LOCAL OPTION.—The following story of a haunted bridge is from the Bedford Inquirer of last week. It seems to have had a serious effect on some one in the Inquirer office, as the paper is dated Feb. 30, 1874:

And now we stumble upon a mystery in Harrison township. About six miles west of this place is a bridge known as Elston's bridge, which spans the Juniata, and is a spot of no mean significance in the history of the township. By many of the citizens, for many years, this bridge has been dreaded, and there are those who rather chin cross it would wade the sparkling stream at a temperature of 20°; not that the superstitiousness of, or that there is any peity jealousy because Smith or Jones built the bridge, but because it is believed that the Devil or some other body or thing who has not the interests and happiness of the citizens at heart, wields a terrible evil magic influence over it. Many wonderful, and, if they did not come from men of unquestionable veracity, we would say slightly incredible stories are told concerning what has happened on the famous bridge, but as we have not the space to recount them all, we will give the latest sensation.

One afternoon some time since a farmer started with a load of corn to Mann's Choice, and on his way had to pass through the bridge. He was a man not given to fear nor to the belief in spooks, ghosts and hobgoblins. He arrived at the town in safety, unloaded his corn and started for home. Just as the sun was disappearing in the western horizon, his wagon, drawn by two powerful horses, entered the bridge, when all of a sudden, they came to a halt—whack went the whip about the legs of the fiery steeds, who strained every nerve to go forward, but it was a dead stall. The driver dismounted and examined the wagon, found that it had not caught against anything and proceeded to lead his team but to his great astonishment the wagon would not move. He unhitched the horses, led them out of the bridge and tied them to a fence. He then returned with the intention of backing the wagon out, but he found that the wheels were firmly set, the tongue was immovable, and the sight had which he had handled many a time without assistance, was so solidly fixed that he could not move even the one corner. Night came on, and with astonishment loud and deep, he declared he could not go home without his wagon, to be laughed at by his neighbors. The services of a man and boy, who lived near the bridge, were brought into requisition. They had a lantern. The trio did all in their power to loose the wagon, but it remained as stationary as though it were a part of the bridge. Finally they gave up in despair. The farmer had already mounted his horse preparatory to starting for home when the chains attached to the tongue rattled. He went back—the magic spell was broken, and the wagon followed in the wake of the horses as though nothing had occurred. The affair created a wonderful sensation in the neighborhood, and to this day is a dark mystery.

So late as one night last week two young men in a buggy drawn by a powerfully built horse, approached the bridge, and when about two minutes through, their progress was suddenly and mysteriously stopped. The horse reared forth his best licks, but the buggy would not budge. The lead broke, but the buggy and discovered that their vehicle had grown fast to the bridge, and would not go anywhere. After half an hour of pulling and tugging they concluded to unhitch and go home. When the horse was about half unhitched the buggy became loose and they went on their way rejoicing. We do not pretend to give any reasons for the mysteries, but we are willing to swear that we got our information from at reliable men in Bedford county can prediere and that they are candid in their convictions.

Local Correspondence.

PORTAGE, Feb. 3, 1874.

EDITOR FREEMAN.—Since the little unpleasantness in regard to the P. O., between Portage and Sonman, I have seen no correspondence from this flourishing village with your valuable and interesting journal. Being a weekly reader of it, and as I am loathe to see it languish for want of support, though I should hate to borrow a copy, I conceive the idea of trying to enumerate a little upon the business, by giving you some items relative to the matter of the local of our town and its surroundings. And I assure you, Mr. Editor, and fellow-citizens, that this town is truly a wonderful one, and possessed of many advantages not enjoyed by other towns of its size. Well, I was just about to say it is "chuck full to (now) of "Possum Belly Hollow" and be of "Slabtown" gave you and all the rest of 'em pretty clearly to understand how very much this town is of. But what if we—and about the time of the P. O.—ghost! What if it is of a good size, gentlemen and gentlemen, our town is growing and to grow, both in "population and importance." Since the time of which they wrote, many new buildings (no old ones) have been built, and much talked of have been "more" expected, and some people have got married. For instance, the first, Postmaster, Jude Mayhugh, Chenoh Kelly's pop soldier, prune tom-pin alley, associate deputy P. G., &c. By the way, it is the outside talk among the butchers here, that the Superintendent of Motive Power of the Township roads, Western Division, whose name I do not just now remember, issued an order for the removal of said ten-pin alley, with all its contents, on some day in the near future, from its present location on Portage street, in the town of Portage, to a point at or near the mouth of Ben's creek, and that he (the Supt.) has actually commenced "pulling stack" to carry out this order. The Supt aforesaid gives as his reason for the promulgation of the order of removal, "necessity," on the rights of the corporation of which he is the head and tail. And so, it may be said, the "star of empire" still continues its westward course, and the many friends of the writer, the denizens of Ben's creek may be luxuriating in a first class game of ten-pin, while the proprietors and their friends will be left waiting on their pins, thinking they had only quit a "chunk" in the air, but ourwinded of the fact that the Supt. has made a "ten-strike."

It is said, also, that the large and elegant store rooms of William Pringle, jr., on the north, and of Martin & Co. on the south side of the Pa. R. R., as also the stabling, etc., of Gillespie & Co., are for a like reason to share a like fate, they being "about upset" in the centre of the "corporation."

As to the moral reason, it is only necessary to go along the B ridge on Sunday next and you will not have rounded the Cadiz, you will have "struck" out at least three of 'em. Then if you are in Kilmarnock to spend one to the others who you will not approve of, you will find that "the devil" has left nothing on that line; and the "Old Virginny" has added no excitement, and you may Wagn(i)er on for some distance in a fruitless search, you will soon (O la)pse into a state of misery. Amusements and pursuing your journey a little further you may, "at the sacrifice of" a few dollars, find "Hades" of the times. As to the third noun in the indictment, I have not much taste for Hesitering with the subject. "Marriage is honorable among all men, and therefore should not be entered into unadvisedly or lightly, but soberly, properly, and in the fear of the Lord." Should any parties contemplate to get married, they should neither be ashamed nor afraid to call upon home authorities to perform the ceremony. I am led to make these remarks from the fact that a pair went from here to Altoona the other day, and were married by some "Squire, the happy groom being "about" as much "dumbfounded" by the possession of wife No 2—one here and one in the West. This, if so, should not be thus.

There is another case or two in this community of a somewhat similar character, only a little more so. My humble opinion is that in a Christian community, where the—men and women should not be permitted to live in open, flagrant violation of the laws of God, and man, and society—and that if a few of them had the single "chunk" out of 'em, it would be healthy for society.

I have spoken too long (For not too loud) already and will quit.

If anything should turn up or rather if things don't quit turning up I will tell you. HYPERION.

WILMORE, Feb. 3, 1874.

DEAR FREEMAN.—Our mutual, gentlemanly young friend, Mr. John Gallagher, of Carrolltown, last week took to himself a lady and amiable bride in the person of Miss Cecelia Braniff, of Gallitzin. John was a cherished chum of our's in the days when we enjoyed single blessedness together, and now that he has followed our example and joined the grand army of benedictity hosts, we wish him all the happiness and felicity that connubial bliss can confer upon a mere mortal, not excepting ourself, (only that we have a score of sin-spawn, with Ma and then a scrubbing of "other persons," to break the monotony. May he be granted the privilege which was vouchsafed to Job of old, that of beholding his posterity to the fourth generation, and may our esteemed posterity be each and all as lucky in the war-fly as our friend John has ever appeared to the writer of this passing notice.

Arthur Isaac belonging to Mr. David Sutor, who resides a short distance from town, and in which he has stored a quantity of grain, was discovered to be on fire last evening and its contents consumed. Thursday evening and its contents consumed. Mr. S. was absent from home at the time of the fire, which was caused by smoking near the premises. Loss, not including house, about $300.

If there was any probability of the new arrival becoming a lunatic, we might have been tempted to call him B. E. Mc(e)ggor, but as we anticipate he will be a better future for the boy, he was spared the infliction.

The ground-hog did not see his shadow yesterday, and as a result superstitious set figure think the winter is at an end; just as the boys and girls at the Christmas were ready for the purpose of programizing this winter. SIGMA.

HYMENEAL.

BUSS—RENLIEN.—Married, at the residence of Mr. J. Lowe, 2021 Green street, Philadelphia, on September 3rd, 1874, by Rev. J. Justrow, Mr. JOSEPH E. BUSS, of Johnstown, and Miss FRANCIS RENLIEN, of the former city.

NAGLE—FELOZIER.—Married, at St. Augustine, Jan. 15th, by Rev. Father McGrorie, Mr. ANTHONY NAGLE and Miss MARY FELOZIER, both of Clearfield township.

MCMULLEN—MCCARTHY.—Feb. 4th, at the same place, by the same, Mr. JAMES MCMULLEN and Miss MAGGIE MCCARTHY, same township.

OBITUARY.

CLARK.—Died, at her residence in Johnstown, on Wednesday morning, 28th ult., Mrs. HANNAH CLARK, relict of Mr. Cornelius Clark, dec'd, aged 80 years.

The deceased was born, grew to womanhood, and was married in Ireland, whence, in their early wedded life, she with her husband emigrated to this country and settled in Johnstown, which place has been her home for nearly a quarter of a century. Her kind, unassuming manners endeared her to all with whom she was associated, while her earnest and devout, piety endowed her with that "peace that passeth all understanding," and which is possessed only by the true Christian. By her children, one daughter and three sons—Henry, of Carroll Clark, of Pittsburgh, and John H. and James Clark, of Johnstown—she survive her. After a life protracted beyond the average limit, she has been gathered to her fathers, "like as a shock of corn that is fully ripe."

"So fades the summer cloud away;
So sinks the gale when storms are o'er;
So gently shuts the eye of day;
So dies the wave along the shore." M.
