The one first ushered into this world bore the impress upon its face of a genuine negro, while the complexion of the other was like that of a white person and the hair less kinky upon its head than that adorning its sister. Dr. La Count Smith, of Tobaccostick, became possessed of the bodies of the twins shortly after their birth, and with them arrived in this eity yesterday afteroon for the purpose of having the bodies operly preserved, which will be done by lacing them in an aquarium shaped vessel lled with alcohol. Last night the Dorchester monstrosities were exhibited at the office of Dr. J. H. Tall, in presence of several medical gentlemen. The band of union connecting the bodies of the twins extends from the center of the breast-bone to the navel, thus placing the bodies face to face. The bodies are well formed, and weigh ten pounds and a-half and measure sighteen nches in length. The physicians who were esent gave as their opinions that each of he twins possessed separate stomachs, hearts, livers, etc., and that a wall separated the stomachs along that portion where the bond of union exists. The only case on record where a similar boud of union ever existed is in the London Museum, and, like the Dorchester novelty, the twins were females."
