

How odd this new year date appears! It was, of course, just as odd a century ago, and yet 1774 looks very old and indifferent to us.

How to MAKE OIL LAMPS SAFE.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune writing from Baltimore says:

The other night, as the gas was excretable, as it generally is, I lighted a large glass kerosene lamp, which had a glass globe about five inches in diameter, holding over a pint of oil.

How to MAKE A HARROW.—To make a square harrow in two parts, binged together in the center, take four pieces of 4x4 oak or maple scantling six feet long, and eight pieces three feet long.

AN EDITOR'S SENSATIONS. The sensation of an editor as first glancing over his paper and detecting errors in it are somewhat different from those experienced by the reader on making like discoveries.

The night was cold, the neighbors had not taken time to dress, and their bodies were as cold as their indignation was warm when they learned that had disturbed their rest and dragged them from their beds at such an untimely hour of the night.

A strange story of a dream verified is going the rounds of the press. It reads like a tale of fiction, but is true.

Is what tone does a ghost speak? In a tombstone. A Virginia bishop, who is settling ways to tell the truth, says he was in a field in California searching for fossils.
