DEAR FREEMAN-In my last, as in my former letters, I promised to let you know if anything of importance turned up in or about this quiet and usually moral town. Well, little has transpired since worth speaking of, except a runaway which occurred a few days ago, the runaway being no less than the lawful wife of a man residing about one mile from this place, and in whose household nothing has ever transpired calin that paper would seem to indicate as culated to mar its screnity until the wife of his bosom made up her mind to slope. FEMALE DISEASES .- At the present day RIGHT ON THE RECORD .- Following is will, on the mountain top or in the valley, females who are not laboring under physical affliction peculiar to womanhood.

The cause of this we will so undertake to subscriptions run into the next volume ; explain here. The numerous applications made to us for relief during our twenty James Gall. years' practice, have long since taduced us to make especial study and investigation of these diseases, and their best method of

They are maladies of a peculiar character, and as a general thing they require a meth-od of treatment entirely unlike that adopted for those common to both sexes. In fact, the very frequency and extent of female diseases in our midst, is good evidence that the "common treatment" has not met with success, and show that some more efficient ourse should be adopted. We were long since convinced that local remedies and external appliances, bandages, &c., were mere palliatives for the time, and of no permanent value whatever, but ofttimes injurious; and that an efficient course of medication was the only hope of cure.

For the benefit of those who may be afflicted with any disease peculiar to the sex. whether from a slight cold, followed by a derangement and irregularity of the general system, which many times produces cough, expectoration, tightness of chest, difficult breathing, palpitation, &c., with all the symptoms of "going into a decline," or from any of the very many other causes which oduce such terrible suffering among woen, as to make life a burden to them, we would say, that our remedies are selected and prepared with a view towards these ands, and will give relief in all those kind of cases, without nuedless exposure to indelcate examinations, or the wearing of disagreeable instruments or cumbrous appli-

We have cured hundreds-yes, thousands of cases by medical treatment alone, hundred of whom we have never seen, but who only obtained their medicines after having sent us their cases for examination.

Our remedies in those diseases are mild out effectual and are such as we have found at to act in conformity with the laws of nature in regulating health ; and from the success which has alloost invariably crowned our efforts in these cases, we can promise, and do promise, a speedy cure in every case where a reasonable hope can be entertained.

For the benefit of those living at a distance laboring under Chronic Affections, and unable to attend in person, we would say: by sending us a vial of urine for examination, the necessary medicines can be sent them by express.
