

BAXTER declares that if the Legislature recognizes him as Governor, of which he has no doubt, he will dislodge Brooks with or without the aid of U. S. troops.

GEN. ALFRED B. McCALMONT, of Venango county, died in Philadelphia last week from the effect of a surgical operation which he had undergone at the hands of Dr. Parson.

The bill to repeal the local option law was defeated in the House at Harrisburg last Monday and that question is now settled so far as the present session of the Legislature is concerned.

This proposed appropriation by Congress of three millions of dollars towards the contemplated centennial celebration of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876, was defeated at the close of last week in the lower branch of Congress.

The bill, however, was subsequently recommitted, and another vote will yet have to be taken before its fate is finally determined. It meets with a stubborn and uncompromising opposition, and although it may pass the House, the outlook is by no means promising.

GOVERNOR FRANKLIN J. MOSES, Jr., colored, who has been administering the executive department of that carpet-bag Carolina and for two years, in close connection with John J. Patterson, an eminent Pennsylvanian who graduated in Simon Cameron's political school in this State with infamous honor during the memorable contest for United States Senator in 1863, when Charles R. Backeale was elected by one vote over Cameron, had a petition filed against him last week in the United States Court, at Charleston, asking for a decree of bankruptcy.

After robbing and plundering the people of South Carolina beyond any former precedent in the history of this or any other country, this man Moses is now declared to be so deeply in debt that his liabilities exceed his assets more than a quarter of a million of dollars.

The editor of the Johnstown Tribune, in his paper of last Friday evening, referring to the article which appeared in the FREEMAN of the same morning recommending R. L. Johnson, Esq., of this place, as a fit and competent gentleman to be nominated by the Democratic State Convention for Judge of the Supreme Court, speaks of Mr. Johnson in the following terms, which are as honorable to Mr. Swank as they are complimentary to Mr. Johnson:

The Freeman of this week suggests Robert L. Johnson, Esq., as a proper person for candidate for Supreme Judge on the Democratic ticket. It is an excellent suggestion, and one that is well calculated to be successful. Johnson, Esq., is a gentleman, a scholar, and an opponent more so, and it is a pleasure to have his name mentioned in connection with the duty to fight him politically for almost a score of years.

A JOINT RESOLUTION has passed both branches of the Legislature of this State making the President of the United States to appoint a board of army officers to re-examine the case of General Fitz John Porter, who was tried and dismissed from the army in 1862 for alleged neglect of duty and disobedience of orders at the second battle of Bull Run.

COIN and flour are simple articles; but when they are put into the hands of a speculator, they become a source of trouble and anxiety for the honest and industrious.

Chief Justice Taney.

The Maryland Legislature, during its next annual session, will inaugurate a statue at Annapolis in honor of the memory and judicial services of her distinguished son, Chief Justice Roger B. Taney, who died in 1863.

In connection with this subject a few remarkable remarks were made by Chief Justice Taney delivered in the opinion of a majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States in this memorable case of the negro, Dred Scott, which case has passed into the judicial history of the country.

The bill, however, was subsequently recommitted, and another vote will yet have to be taken before its fate is finally determined. It meets with a stubborn and uncompromising opposition, and although it may pass the House, the outlook is by no means promising.

They had for more than a century before been regarded as beings of an inferior order, and altogether unfit to associate with the white race, either in social or political relations, and so far inferior that they had no rights which the white man was bound to respect, and that the negro might justly and lawfully be reduced to slavery for his lifetime.

Such was his language. Does any man who has read the history of this country deny the truth of his statement as applicable to the public sentiment and the public acts of the State and national governments at the time referred to? Did Roger B. Taney express his approval of the doctrine that "a negro had no rights which a white man was bound to respect"? He never thought so and as a Judge never said so.

The injustice of the tax on the bituminous coal industry which has just been imposed by the Legislature for the purpose of keeping a full treasury at Harrisburg, notwithstanding the Centennial drain, is beginning to awaken some attention in the western part of the State.

COIN and flour are simple articles; but when they are put into the hands of a speculator, they become a source of trouble and anxiety for the honest and industrious.

Louisiana and the Preshet.

Whilst we are sympathizing with the terrible visitations in the East—the famine in Bengal and other localities—a similar calamity is occurring at our own doors. Of the Bengal famine it may perhaps be predicted that it will be a great blessing to the world.

But in Louisiana the case is somewhat different. There the famine is produced by the action of the elements, and is not originally constructed for the purpose of feeding off the floods.

The early settlers of Louisiana perceived this operation of nature and seeing that the river every year just made out to overflow its banks, the idea occurred to them to raise the levees a little above the highest average flood, whereby the overflow was prevented and the land behind was allowed to dry itself, as it were, so as to permit of cultivation.

As the levees were raised, the water on both sides of the levee rose, and the land to make Louisiana a wealth-producing area of the first class.

A few years ago have brought this bureau to an efficiency derived from necessity. It is now a bureau which has not only surpassed in the world, but which is the highest and noblest of the world.

The President has thus far declined to interfere in the Arkansas trouble. On the one hand he has feared to offend his supporters in Congress by recognizing Baxter.

THEY are preparing for the pilgrimage of members of the Grand Army of the Republic to Rome, Italy, in the month of June.

The Arkansas Trouble.

The serious trouble which is now agitating Arkansas and mortifying every citizen of the United States, is the direct result of the corrupt and fraudulent manner in which the governments of the States lately in rebellion have been managed.

But in each case, the law and the practice are the things of the day. It is an instinct in the owner of land to define his possession by metes and bounds, obvious and supported by it in their deeds.

As we do not, some of our readers are even now considering the question of moving west to Iowa or Nebraska, and as knowledge is a light burden to carry, we give Mr. Mendell's method of planting.

THE FIRE FINN.—On Saturday night the furniture warehouse of Beck & Bolte, in Baltimore, was destroyed by fire, loss estimated at from $65,000 to $75,000.

THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL says: Nothing could better illustrate the incompetency and ignorance of the Attorney General of the United States than the miserable figure he has cut in the Arkansas dilemma.

THEY are preparing for the pilgrimage of members of the Grand Army of the Republic to Rome, Italy, in the month of June.

Newspaper and Political Items.

Too late for the fair—An old bachelor. Three newspapers in Iowa are edited by ladies, and are as full of puns as their dinner dresses.

At Manchester, Iowa, recently, a man, four days after his marriage, ran away with an old sweetheart.

Charles Larabee, tried at Franklin for the murder of Lew Williams, in Venango county, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree.

There is a woman in Halifax, Nova Scotia, who believes herself dead. She remains motionless in bed most of the time, but comes to life sufficiently to eat and read a newspaper.

Scott county, Minnesota, contains an extensive Limburger cheese factory. The cheese is declared to be "ripe" when a piece the size of a bean will drive a dog out of a hole.

There is a strike of miners at Nelsonville, Adams county, Ohio, which has resulted in serious disorders and strikes, and those who desired to work.

THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL says: Nothing could better illustrate the incompetency and ignorance of the Attorney General of the United States than the miserable figure he has cut in the Arkansas dilemma.

THEY are preparing for the pilgrimage of members of the Grand Army of the Republic to Rome, Italy, in the month of June.

Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.

Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy. Germany, Spain, and Italy.