-"It never rains but it pours" is an adage that was exemplified in musical circles on Tuesday night last, no less than two separate and distinct string bands having on that | present occasion made a circuit of the town and dispensed sweet symphony beneath many a chamber window. For the kind awakening from pleasant dreams to a realization of the more pleasing sensations which such music produces, ye dexterous and scientific manipulators of catgut have our sincere thanks.

-A newspaper in Johnstown asserts that J. G. Lake, Esq., could not get the delegates from Loretto borough, his former home. This is not true, as said delegates were instructed to vote for him, and before their election a promise was exacted from them that they would so vote. It is true that they voted against Mr. Lake in the convention, but in doing so they misrepresented their constitu-ents. We do not mention this in order to cast any reflection on Mr. Rose, but simply to refute a false statement.

-On Tuesday, per favor of Fish Commissioner Hewitt, a number of black bass were received here, from the State fishery, and distributed in the various waters of neighborhood. -On Wednesday evening of last week, a pleasure party consisting of seven young men and three young ladies started in a hack from Altoona to drive a distance into the country. They accomplished the trip, but while on their way homeward the hack went over an embankment thirty or forty feet high, carrying its living freight with it with the exception of the driver, who jumped in time and escaped unburt. "THE DAUNTLESS."-The Danntless Fire Company is an organization of which Ebensburg is and has good reason to be proud. Composed as it is of some of the best and ablest young men in the town, its domestic affairs from its inception down to the present time have been conducted in such a manner as to win general applause, while the work it has been called upon to perform in a professional way, happily for us as a town not onerous, has yet been well done.— Beginning without a dollar in the treasury, by a series of enterprises original in concepon and bold in execution it has succeeded in realizing quite a large sum of money .-This money, or the major part of it, has un-mistakably been "put where it would do the most good." It has been expended in the purchase of a library, numbering several hundred volumes, and embracing standard works as well as the latest and best miscellaneous publications of the day .-With commendable liberality the use of this library is not confined to the members of the ompany, but non-members, on the payment of a nominal sum per year, are admitted to its privileges. This, of itself, is sufficient to commend the organization as a publie benefaction, while the efforts it puts forthfor the preservation of property when the flames surge high, are appreciated at their proper value.

From every indication, the Dauntless is destined to be a permanent company. Its officers are capable, its membership large, its finances adequate. We are assured that to untoward accident intervening, it will not be permitted to sink, as have so many public enterprises of a somewhat similar character in our midst heretofore. Such be ing the case, and to the end that the unwritten history of the Company may not perish with the lapse of time, but be affectionately remembered down to the last moment of its usefulness, we propose placing on record a brief reminiscence connected with the earliest days of its existence. Four years ago, after the occurrence of a ight fire, our citizens became afflicted with the scare which always followed such an event, and determined to purchase a new A. Quartz, who reported in favor of Messrs. of citizens was called at the Court House, and a goodly assemblage was present there-Speeches were made and the atter inability of the town to successfully cope with the devouring element was painted in graphic cotors. Some resolutions were also adopted, and the upshot of the matter was that a new engine was purchased by Council .-Naturally the next thing in order was the formation of a company to run the machine. A company was formed and a committee apointed to draw up a constitution and bylaws for its guidance. The committee, in the discharge of its duties, met for deliberation. The first business that came before it for consideration was the selection of a that "Cambria" would be the most approfor "Mountain" or "Mountaineer," and yet others contended that there was a charm about the word "Allegheny" that ought to make it peculiarly acceptable. Indeed, each one seemed to have come already cocked and primed with a name, and by some old coincidence each and every name suggested savoted strongly of some point or peculiarity relating to our geographical location. In the end, as a compromise acceptable to all parties, it was agreed to discard all merely local names, and select instead some general

This meeting of the committee was held in a High street business establishment, where paper collars by the box were exposed for sale. He made the proper suggestion; it was accepted, and it socame about that an unpretentions box of collars lent its name to a fire organization which in point of efficiency is second to none in the land. It was an unassuming way to choose a name. There was no romance about it. Many a far more high-sounding aggregation of syllables might have been arrived at. But the name fitsit is appropriate—it means busi hoss.

-We feel so little put out about the illnatured remarks which a squib in our last issue elicited from the Johnstown Tribune. that we are disposed to make no reply except to say that we do not believe that Cas. Easly could find it in his heart to speak so unkindly of us, and hence we are as far from oncluding that he wrote the article in question as we are that he meant ourself personally when he declared on a previous occasion, through the medium of a paper which often preaches but seldem practices the idea of directing all remarks to the responsible editor only, that he picked the FREEMAN editor out of a gutter and wiped the slob-bers off his mouth. "There is a charlty among the class of Christians to which Easly "professes to belong" which forbids the thought that he would attribute to any man the indulgence of a vice which he is morally if not naturally incapable of committing. Self-respect demands, however, a denial of the assertion that we told a "deliberate lie" when we said that the Tribune named certain county officials one day as p'aintiffs and the next as defendants in certain suits at law-a fact which the issues of that paper of the 16th and 17th insts, will abundantly verify. We have written many items out of pure cussedness, but never with the wilful intention of wounding the feelings of Cas. Easly or "any other man."

---Senious Charge.-On Saturday last, a Mrs. Jno. Brawley, a married woman whose ad favorably to Mr. Flick, by the following husband does not live with her, appeared before Esquire Peter McGough, of Washington township, and preferred a charge of rape against Dr. D. H. Dickason, of Portage station. Her allegation was that she had visited the Doctor for the purpose of procuring some medicine, and that while on her way home he had followed her, and, coming up with her in a strip of woods, had assaulted part of this procedure. On the strength of the information, the Doctor was arrested the same day and brought here and committed to jail. It is but justice to say that the prisoner tells another and totally different story from the foregoing, the truth of which he expresses his ability to establish when his case shall come before a Court of justice.

EDITOR FREEMAN—Dear Sir: I promise you this time to be brief; but as "Uncle Sam" is still directing his poisonous arrows at the people of South Fork, whose only offense is that they mind their own business and take care of their own interests, I feel called upon to say a few words in reply. We are glad, however, that "Uncle Sam" is convinced that all the assertions or charges in his first letter were false except two, which he reiterates in his second epistle to the South Forkers. To his misrepresentations about the church and school-house he still clings, however, with a tenacity like unto that of a certain animal of the lower order when a hunter gets after him. This animal on the first appearance of danger will suspend himself between heaven and earth by a peculiar crook in his tail, hooked over the limb of a tree supposite tails. peculiar crook in his tail, booked over the himb of a tree, supposing that in this seemingly life-less and pitiable condition he will be sympa-thized with and spared instead of being hunted. thized with and spared instead of being hunted. But we propose to take the crook out of "Uncle Sam's" tail (or tongue) and let him down from that church steeple where he seems to think he is so safely lodged. Notice first, then, that "Uncle Sam" admits that that church house was built as a union church, and declares that it is union still and that its doesn have always been and are still open to all other denominations. Now let us see how this is. More than a year ago the Methodists wished to have preaching there every alternate Sabbath evening, and appointed a committee to meet and arrange with the Lutheran church council to that efappointed a committee to meet and arrange with the Lutheran church council to that effect; but, to the utter surprise of all, every proposition was rejected by the council—and even an offer to pay them forty-five dollars a year rent was refused. The Methodist minister was subsequently notified in writing, which was handed to him by one of the council, and read then and there, that the congregation of which he was paster would not be permitted to use the church as their regular place of wership, and in consequence of that notice the school house was rented for one year. Then it so happened that the Evangelical Society had preaching there a few times, but they too were very politely turned out. And now, with these facts before us—all of which the people in this community know to be true—if even the people of Summerchill will justify "Uncle Sam" in making such deliberately false statements, their Summervill will justify "Uncle Sam" in making such deliberately false statements, their tongues must be as forked as that of the serpent which beguited Eve; and we would advise the immediate erection of an insane asylum in connection with a house of correction in that locality. The cause of humanity and morality anke demand this.

That the school house was refused at the end of one year we all know. The directors had the power to do this, but it was not generous. the power to do this, but it was not generous. The first year's rent was paid in full, and the increased rent for the second year, which they spoke of charging, would have been paid cheerfully. But if they had any good reason for not again renting it, it was known only to themselves. We think the only reason they had was to gratify the opposition spirits who figured in the matter, and we know of nothing in the constitution of this St. stitution of this State to prevent us from hav-ng our opinion.

Now we have stated none but simple facis in this letter; but if it should become necessary we can give a detailed account from the first proposition to build a church there down to the present time, which would no doubt uncover some very unpleasant transactions.
"Uncle Sam" says our taxes are trebled under the new order of things, and that we would be glad to return to the old union between us. Let him tell that to the marines. The most illiterate citizea in our confederacy w most illiterate citizen in our confederacy would spurn such an idea, for it is well known that we are able to employ a first-class male teacher at a salary equal to what they pay the principal of the high school at Summerbili, and to do this we have only a little more than half the number of mills on the dollar to pay that they have in the way of school tayes.

And now, although we are proud of the name of rebel, we think it ill becomes the people of Croyle township to designate us by such a title, knowing as they do that we as rebels were successful in relieving our necks from the yoke of treatment and overtices with which where here are tyrapny and exaction with which they had en ironed us. In conclusion, would it not be well for those cants at Summerbill, when they hear the truth told, though it should come from a South Fork-er, not to belittle themselves in the eyes of the people of Cambria county by calling it sarcasm? We know they don't often hear the truth unless it comes from abroad, but for the sake of their children they should not let on that they know so little about it. Very truly, DEMETRIUS.

EBENSBURG, S-pt. 21, 1874. FRIEND McPiks -I hand you part of a letter received from our "mutual friend," S. B. McCormick. Of course the letter was not written for publication; but I think it will interest the thany friends of Mr. M. in this county, especially the teachers, many of whom are readers of your excellent paper, and I trust he will not be offended at the liberty I take in making his latter within.

tter public. When Mr. M. says that not one in ten of our When Mr. M. says that not one in ten of our teachers could stand an examination there. I think he refers to the additional branches in which California teachers are examined, and not to any intrinsic difficulty in the questions themselves; for the list of questions which he sent me, in these branches in which we also examine, are certainly not harder than those used this fall in this county. However, he says the September list "was barder" than the June list which he sent me.

T. J. C.

CRESSRY STATION, Merced Co., Cal., Sept. 12, 1874. PRO. CHAPMAN-I was before the San Hedrim. or Sanhedrim, and was examined and came out A No. 1. I was examined in twenty branches, which required two days and 54 pages MS., "lawyer's brief," which is larger than foolscap. Some took live, some four, and all others three days. I gained a day. I sent you the June list. I was examined in the September list, which was the hardest. I have been examined thirty seven times, but this was the hardest. The committee consists of three teachers and one county superintendent. A State Board of examiners prepare the questions. One must finish each sheet before he leaves his seat, and one cannot recall it. In mental one has just a minute to each question. If over that time, you get no credit. Music, drawing, and the Constitution of the U.S. bothered me some.

tion of the U. S. bothered me some.

Please tell the boys and girls (the teachers) that I am teaching again. I commenced the first Monday of September, as usual. I can see the school house from where I live, only five miles distant. I write the truth. I ride five miles each morning, teach all day, and return five miles in the evening against morths, term at 25% ner most his get eight months' term, at $75 per month in gold and w - $52.50 in greenbacks: 22 pupils. Not many men of 60 would do that, and then heat the boys at hop, kind.

I am going over to see you next Spring. I have nothing else to do with my money, and I want to see my old tellow teachers.

Honestly, Chapman, not one in ten of your teachers could stand the orderal here. Must make 35 per cent. for first grade, 75 per cent, for second, and 70 per cent, for third; and these new studies cut down the per cent awfully.

Hessived. That the Lodge room be draped in mourning for the space of ninety days, and that this preamble and resolutions be published in the Village, Record, Jeffersonian, Cluster Valley Union, and Cambria Friends, and recorded in the minutes of the Lodge, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

J. T. Willies, J. T. Willies, Chas. Ress. cut down the per cent awfully.

Give my love to all inquiring friends and enemies, and tell them that old McC. is not only not dead yet, but that he can stand any examination that any other man can stand.

SCIENTIFIC .- Every particular part of the human body has had its average natural properties, constituents, quantities, &c., reduc ed upon scientific principles to a standard of nearly definite proportions in health.

This serves for the more correct elucidation of disease by comparison and measurement of the deviations from the health; standard. Thus the average proportionate of the blood in health being reduced to a standard, any considerable deviation from this standard quality of the blood, is disease. BLAIRSVILLE, PA., Sept. 19, 1874. DEAR FREEMAN-Thinking that a few items of news from Biniraville, or "Suints' Rest," as it is sometimes designated, might be of interest to some of the readers of your well filled columns. I have taken it upon myself to contribute the same columns, I have taken it upon myself to con-tribute the same.

Biairsville, as is known to very many who will peruse this, is situated on the right bank of that historic and romantic stream, the Con-emauch river, and is 20 miles west of Johns-town and about 60 miles cast of Pittsburgh. It is one of the pitest town. town and about 60 miles east of Pittsburgh. It is one of the oldest towns in Western Pennsylvania, and was a very important place during the paimy days of these old State institutions, the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia turnpike and the Pennsylvania canal. Since "them times" the town has not grown very rapidly, although it is said by many, and there is no doubt about its truth, that Blairsville might have been as large and prosperbus as Johnstown now is had the citizens who owned property usar the town been more liberal and sold their lands at fair prices. Many of the men who own the large been more liberal and sold their lands at fair prices. Many of the men who own the large manufactories at Johnstown endeavored to secure sites near this place, but owing to the fact above indicated, they could not set them. Yet, notwiths anding Blabsville does not contain so large a population as it might have obtained had not the near sightedness of certain "old fogics" prevented it, the town at present contains, not counting new arrivals, upwards of 2,500 souls.

Biairsville is very pleasantly situated, the ground upon which it is built sloping gently towards the Conemaugh river. Main street, which is the principal business street of the town, is lined throughout its entire length with beautiful shade trees, in the rear of which stand many handsome and substantial business how. beautiful shade trees, in the rear of which stand many handsome and substantial business houfirs and private residences, some of which are the equals in point of architecture and beauty of many buildings which other towns and cities of more pretens, one are proud to own. Blairsville is also well supplied with churches and educational institutions. Among the former may be classed the Catholic, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist and Lutheran churches, which are for the most part beautiful and commoditions edifices. The Seceders and colored Methodists also have very respectable places of worship. As regards educational institutions, the first in point of age is the Blairsville Seminary first also have very respectable places of which ship. As regards educational institutions, the first in point of age is the Biairsville Seminary for young ladies, which has been established for more than thirty years and is well patronized. Then we have the Biairsville Academy, for boys only, a large and well conducted school, and a Catholic institution under the ausnices and a Catholic institution under the ausnices. for boys only a large and well conducted school, and a Catholic institution under the auspices of the Sisters of Charity, which is largely attended and is in a flourishing condition. The convent building. I may add, which is located in Brownstown, a part of Blairsville, and near the Catholic church, is a neat and substantial brick edifice. Besides the above, Blairsville has a large public school which employs four or five teachers and accommodates several hundred pupils.

or live teachers and accommodates several hundred pupils.

As this place is the eastern terminus of the West Penn R. R. and an important point on the Indiana Branch, it is not to be succeed at as a railroad center. The shops of the Pa. R. R. Co. here employ a great number of men, but the withdrawal of several freight trains on the W. P. R. R. has thinned out the working force on that road very considerably of late.

Among the improvements going on in this vicinity I may mention the new bridge which is now being erected over the Company to vicinity I may mention the new bridge which is now being erected over the Concensus, to replace the one which fell some time ago. The new bridge is to be an open iron structure and will be free to all, as it is being erected at the expense of Westmoreland and Indiana counties conjointly. It is thought that it will receive the finishing touches about December There are located about one mile and a half east of this place what are known as the Isa-bella Coke Works, which have upward of two hundred overs in working order, but owing to "panicky times," many of the ovens are idle at present and the employes are making only half time. Quite a large village, called Coketown, has grown up near these works.

There are no more desirable nor productive forming lands in the common part of the farming lands in the commonwealth than can be found in this beautiful valley of the Cone-maugh, where are to be had in addition all the advantages of a home market and accessible ratiread facilities. The hills on both sides of the river contain an abundance of coal and from ore, and all that is needed are enough of enterprising contains an abundance of coal and the contains and all that is needed are enough of enterprising capitalists to bring these hidden treasures to the surface, and thereby make this magnificent valley one of the richest as it is now one of the grandest in the Keystone State. Having aiready occupied considerable of your valuable space, without perhaps giving you a single item of news. I will close for the you a single item of news, I will close for the present. Yours, &c., Walla.
