

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN. EBSBURG, PA., Friday Morning, - - Oct 2, 1874. Democratic Nominations.

The annual State election in this and several other States formerly took place on the second Tuesday of October. The new constitution, however, has changed the time in Pennsylvania until the first Tuesday of November...

To Laboring Men.—Those who have studied events during the last ten years can now see the folly of placing dependence on the promises of radical politicians.

We have a few words to say this week to the candidates composing the Democratic county ticket. We entertain no fear whatever of the triumph success of the entire ticket, because when the Democracy are united they can carry the county by a clear majority of 700, and as our information from nearly every district in the county justifies us in saying that the ticket meets with enthusiastic approval...

The radical managers, with Senator Morton, of Indiana, at their head, seem determined once more to reconstruct the State of Arkansas. When will these infamous outrages cease? After the late disgraceful quarrel in that State for the possession of the office of Governor...

—This is the vigorous language which so good an Administration journal as the Philadelphia Telegraph addresses to the gentlemen who figure on the check-book of the correspondence of Governor Kellogg...

Persons' Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

To the Democracy of Pennsylvania. The State Democratic Convention met at Pittsburgh on the 26th of August last. It nominated its candidates, and adopted the platform, and adjourned.

The industry is not profitable; the manufacturing are languishing; the coal and iron interests are depressed; the farmers are not reaping adequate reward for their toil, and labor is calling for employment.

Abusing the powers obtained by frauds at elections, and force in many States, and corruption everywhere, the Radical party now attempts to degrade the white race by causing into a law which is known as the 'Civil Rights bill'...

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chicago Times thus treats of the grasshopper question, which is getting to be a very serious one in the Western States. He says: "The grasshopper, it is said, has been seen in the grasshopper raid in the west?"

Let us have a change. The people, disheartened in a petty, are prepared for a change. The change must be in both "principles and men."

Every man who professes to believe that honesty is the right policy, in public as in private affairs, should unite, freed from party ties, to vote against the frauds, corruptions, ruses, and schemes for the plunder of the people...

MANY valuable home dio from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Linctum into a long-necked water bottle...

—France sent to England last year 500,000 eggs. —It is rumored that the Dowager Queen of Bavaria is about to embrace Catholicism. —Four persons were burned to death last Sunday night during a fire in Paisley, Scotland.

The only church in this country where sermons are preached in Irish, it is said, is at Elmira, Illinois. —The water of an artesian well in Terra Haute has been found excellent for fleas on dogs and cholera in chickens.

—The London Daily Telegraph learns from a Catholic dignity that the Duke and Duchess of Northumberland are about to become converted to the Roman Catholic faith.

The Rochester Union proclaims a condemnation. It says that Mr. Poland tried to stop a printing press by putting his finger in a cogwheel. The press, very singularly, went right on, and where is Mr. Poland now?

The marriage of Miss Maria Ewing Sherman, daughter of the General of the Army, to Lieut. Thos. W. Fitch, U. S. N., at St. Aloysius' church, Washington, on Thursday of last week, was consummated under the most elegant auspices.

—A Gilbertson (Iowa) man, while digging a well, recently came to a broad, flat stone, two or two feet below the surface. Underneath the stone was a large, oval object, containing the skull, vertebrae and the ribs of a man, an iron circle or crown, a bronze dagger and battle-axe, several fine rings, a peculiar instrument of music and a panel of wood, much worn-ent.

—A young man named Lees, residing at Harmony, Butler county, was on Tuesday caught in the machinery of a flour mill and literally torn to pieces. —Theodore Tilton and Frank D. Moulton were indicted for libel by the Kings county (N. Y.) Grand Jury on Saturday on complaint of Henry Ward Beecher.

The highest inhabited spot in the world is said to be the Buddhist cloister, at Haku in Tibet, where twenty-one priests live, at an altitude of 16,000 feet above the sea. —The longest name probably ever inflicted upon a child in Massachusetts was "Alderman Philipina" — twenty three letters. The girl afterwards became the wife of a Boston merchant.

—The number of Texan beers, which arrived in New York on Saturday evening, while passing through the lower part of the city, became infuriated at the noise and eight of them broke from the drivers, rushing in various directions. Before the injury was done some fifty people were injured, some seriously.

—An earthquake, at Antigua, Guatemala, September 3, destroyed thirty-two lives. It came without warning, and appeared to move the ground in waves. Many houses were destroyed, and the shock was slightly felt at the capital city. As Antigua is in the neighborhood of a volcanic mountain the earthquake is attributed to volcanic action.

—A child four years old, of Joseph Fagle, of Mittenage, Mass., ejected a frog five inches long, Wednesday morning. —A young couple, of whom the wife was sickly for two years past, and the doctors have been unable to afford relief, for reasons which are now obvious. It is supposed that the frog was swallowed by the child while drinking brook water.

—A curious and useful innovation in letter paper, the production of the Owen Paper Company at Housatonic, Massachusetts, has been introduced. Instead of the ordinary ruling the lines are formed by indentation of the paper, which serves to guide the pen of the writer as well as direct the eye, and give to the sheet a handsome as well as unique appearance.
