

1875. THE 1875. Pittsburgh Post

$1 ONE PRICE TO ALL. The New York World

The Weekly Established 1804 The Daily Established 1843

Without a Rival

The Largest Live Stock Markets

The Great Political Revolution

The Semi-Weekly World, 1 Yr., $2.00

THE PITTSBURGH WEEKLY POST

ROBUSTY, ECONOMY and REFORM

DEMOCRACY and INDEPENDENCE

United States Postal Laws

THE DAILY POST

WEEKLY POST

DAILY POST

THE SUN

21 & 23 North Tenth St.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Second and Last Grand Gift Concert

MASONIC BELIEF ASSOCIATION

DAY POSITIVELY FIRED

Last Chance!

50,000 Tickets—5,000 Cash Gifts.

PRIZE AWAY!

ST. LOUIS GLOBE

THE MAN WHO WAS HUNG AND UNLUNG

STEAM TANNERY FOR SALE

SPLENDID TOWN PROPERTY

WAREN & OXNARD

WATERBURY BONDS

MOLLY HER LAMB.

BOSTON, 1874.

AFTER BERT BARTE.

Mary... I had a little lamb...

It followed her to school one day...

which was against the order...

but still it hungered for meat...

It walked patiently about till...

Mary did appear, and then he ran to her...

And when he did see Molly...

And he sneaked to her arm...

And he nestled Mary's feet...

He observed: "B— Mary! sweet to these."

"Why is he so blamed sweet upon Molly?" said young...

"Because the young man..."

"The son of a man, knows Molly's sweet upon him."

"I've often heard my father tell the story..."

"The old gentleman was about twenty-two when the Revolutionary War broke out..."

"He had a great many strange tales connected with the different parts of this neighborhood..."

"The pine-land country around St. Stephen's was then inhabited by the same class of people..."

"The outlaw swaggered on the broad brick steps, pistol in hand..."

"The next day the floor by a final blow with the flat of the captain's sabre..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

"The young man looked at the old man with a look of interest..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

MOLLY HER LAMB.

BOSTON, 1874.

AFTER BERT BARTE.

Mary... I had a little lamb...

It followed her to school one day...

which was against the order...

but still it hungered for meat...

It walked patiently about till...

Mary did appear, and then he ran to her...

And when he did see Molly...

And he sneaked to her arm...

And he nestled Mary's feet...

He observed: "B— Mary! sweet to these."

"Why is he so blamed sweet upon Molly?" said young...

"Because the young man..."

"The son of a man, knows Molly's sweet upon him."

"I've often heard my father tell the story..."

"The old gentleman was about twenty-two when the Revolutionary War broke out..."

"He had a great many strange tales connected with the different parts of this neighborhood..."

"The pine-land country around St. Stephen's was then inhabited by the same class of people..."

"The outlaw swaggered on the broad brick steps, pistol in hand..."

"The next day the floor by a final blow with the flat of the captain's sabre..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

"The young man looked at the old man with a look of interest..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

MOLLY HER LAMB.

BOSTON, 1874.

AFTER BERT BARTE.

Mary... I had a little lamb...

It followed her to school one day...

which was against the order...

but still it hungered for meat...

It walked patiently about till...

Mary did appear, and then he ran to her...

And when he did see Molly...

And he sneaked to her arm...

And he nestled Mary's feet...

He observed: "B— Mary! sweet to these."

"Why is he so blamed sweet upon Molly?" said young...

"Because the young man..."

"The son of a man, knows Molly's sweet upon him."

"I've often heard my father tell the story..."

"The old gentleman was about twenty-two when the Revolutionary War broke out..."

"He had a great many strange tales connected with the different parts of this neighborhood..."

"The pine-land country around St. Stephen's was then inhabited by the same class of people..."

"The outlaw swaggered on the broad brick steps, pistol in hand..."

"The next day the floor by a final blow with the flat of the captain's sabre..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

"The young man looked at the old man with a look of interest..."

"The old man looked at the young man with a look of interest..."

POKING FUN AT 'EM.

HOW A PHILADELPHIA MINISTER THROUGHT WENT FOR THE CAPITAL.

One of our leading citizens, who recently returned from Philadelphia, tells a little story which proves the truth of the old adage that "many a true word is spoken in jest." It appears that some days since Governor Hartranft, Bob Mackey, Boss Everett, Senator Roton, Secretary Quay, and some half a dozen other prominent politicians, met in the city of Brotherly Love.

The question of how the evening should be spent came up for discussion, and it was suggested that the party should visit Arch's Ministers. This proposition was readily agreed to, and a boy was dispatched to buy tickets for the distinguished party.

The party arrived at eight o'clock and were taken to their seats by a gentlemanly usher. The first part of the performance, consisting of songs and jokes, was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests.

The party then proceeded to the next part of the evening, which was a comedy. The comedy was a very good one, and the guests were much amused.

The party then proceeded to the next part of the evening, which was a comedy. The comedy was a very good one, and the guests were much amused.

The party then proceeded to the next part of the evening, which was a comedy. The comedy was a very good one, and the guests were much amused.

The party then proceeded to the next part of the evening, which was a comedy. The comedy was a very good one, and the guests were much amused.