-The close of the Beecher trial is an event beyond the ken of man to determine, but the clothes on exhibition and sale at the renowned Star Clothing Hall, 109 Clinton street, Johnstown, needs no determination except the determination of everybody to pitch in and buy whatever they want, and that is a determination easily arrived at by any one who examines Murphy's superb stock and learns the moderate prices at which he disposes of his goods.

-The dwelling house of Mr. Patrick Reilly, near Portage, this county, was destroyed by fire Wednesday about noon, involving a loss in the building and household property of not less than $1,000, on which we believe there was no insurance. The fire originated from a stove pipe running through the roof. It of course has no connection with the matter in hand, but it may not be out of place to say that Mr. Reiliy is an uncle of our Congressman elect, Hon. John Reilly.

-As if we had not enough of that kind of thing to bear already, here comes the Johnstown Democrat with the assurance that Mc-Pike "has served the Democracy of Cambria long and faithfully, and a recognition of his services by the many great and good men who annually attend our county conventions would not be out of place." -The discontinuance of the Altoona Daily Tribune has of necessity resulted in the retirement from active service of our much esteemed friend, Cal. -A crowd of gay and festive youths assembled in a saloon at Summitville on Tuesday evening last for the purpose of inaugurating a regular built "jamboree," but had scarcely got the old thing in running order when their pater familias swooped down upon them like wolves upon the fold and scattered them to the four winds of heaven, from whence they have as yet failed to return to their respective roof-trees, so to speak. OUR POPULAR INSTALLMENT PLAN, OR ORGAN.-It is now about seven years since we introduced the monthly installment plan in the Piano and Organ business in this city and vicinity, and it has stood the great tests of everything (time and experience), and has proven a great boon to the music-loving portion of our community. But few persons are able to pay down at once all the money for a Piano or Organ, and yet they desire to educate their families in the accomplishments of modern society; and music is certainly the accomplishment most generally st refining and elevating. The introduction of our Installment Plan puts the possession of a Piano or Organ within the reach of every one. As the circumstances of different persons vary so much, and persons have such different incomes and salaries, we do not have any fixed terms on our installment plan, our idea and intention being to furnish everybody with an instrument, even those of the most limited means, and who can make only small payments. But to give some idea of our usual terms, we generally get about twenty per cent. of the value of the instrument as a first installment, and then about ten per cent, of the balance each month. For instance, an instrument worth $100, the first payment of twenty per cent. would be This would leave $80, and ten per cent. of this, that is $8, would be the monthly pay-ment for ten mouths. We wish to have it distinctly understood that these are not our only terms-we are willing to take a less payment each month, if your circumstances require it. In short, you can have from one to two years in which to pay up for a Piano or Organ, if it is necessary; and we wish it dis-tinctly understood, also, that we do not charge a fancy price for our instruments when waiting in this way for the payments. We have our business so systematized, and our Installment Plan in such admirable working order, that we can afford to furnish an instrument even on a long series of payments within a fraction of what we could farnish it for cash down. The great advantage of this plan is, that you or your family can have the use of the Piano or Organ all the time you are paying for it, and by the time you have all the payments made they will have acquired great proficiency on the instrument. Now, you might have put away the same amount in a savings bank, intending when it amounted to a certain sum to put it into a piano or organ, but in that case your daughter would just have been from one to two years behind in her progress; and besides that banks will break sometimes, and you might have put your money in such a one. Our installment plan saves all this the ability to use them are in demand the risk, and all this loss of time. We are preplane or organ, high-priced or low-priced, new or old; on our installment plan. We to call and see us or write to us on the sub-MELLOR & HOENE, 79 Fifth avenue,

-An incident connected with the recent fiendish attempt to wreck a passenger train near Wilmore is related at the expense of a couple of gay young courtiers residing in this place, both of whom are semi-monthly visitors, on wooing missions bent, to the pleasant little village referred to. On the night in question these two blooming young bachors betook themselves as usual to the scene of their oft-repeated exploits in the courting line, which they reached, no thanks to the miscreants who attempted to wreck the train, in due course of time and in prime condition. For several hours subsequent to their arrival our heroes confined themselves strictly to business, but some time during the wee sma' hours, they rejuctantly tore themselves away, so to speak, from the presence of their hearts' idols and essayed to reach the hotel accepted by that gentleman. We also where they have been in the habit of putting up for the night, or for that part of it, more properly speaking not others In this effort, however, they had only partially succeeded when they were overhauled by a party of men on suspicion of having en participis criminis in the obstruction of the railroad, the late hour at which they were found on the street giving some color to the suspicion. Of course a satisfactorly explanation and a speedy release followed in quick succession, but this incident among others we could relate should have the of fect of inducing our young friends to pitch in and end their troubles in that direction.

A curious affair happened at a grist mill in Westmoreland county one day last week. A woman who had occasion to visit the miller on business went up stairs with that person to view the wonders of the machineand while examining the bolting machine very intently she approached that for the Spring trade, and we are sure that treacherous invention too closely, the consequence of which was that her dress was caught between two cogwheels, the iron teeth of which began to gather in her clothing in a slow but frightfully systematic and sure manner. The miller saw the dauger, and being a very strong and robust individual, immediately clasped the terrified woman in his brawny arms, and bracing his feet against an upright post, there ensued a struggle between him and the bolting maine as to which should have the woman. I: was decided in favor of the miller, how ever, who by a herculean jerk, got the woman clear, but the machine got her clothes, and after the excitement was over and the woman sat down, there was an awkward embarrassment, which the miller soon dispelled by darting out and sending his wife up with a bundle of clothing.

> -One day last week three strangers drove up in a buggy to the residence of Mr. Simon Kirsch, in Barr township, and proceeded at once to dicker for a borse belonging to that gentleman, which they readily succeeded in purchasing at the stipulated price of $140, in payment whereof they gave a check on the banking house of Collins, Johnston & Co., in this place, after which they drove to St. Nicholas, where they bought another horse for $180 from Mr. N. Lamborn, for which they also gave a check. A few days after the sale Mr. Kirsch presented his check for payment, when he carned to his utter regret and astonishment, that it wasn't worth to the check having money on deposit in that institution. At latest accounts Mr. Kirsch and Mr. Lambour were looking for the men who had swindled them, but if they have succeeded in overhauling the rascals and recovering their property, it is more than we are aware of at present writing.

> -Mr. Godfrey Wolf, one of the oldest and most reliable clothing dealers of Altoons, did us the honor of a visit vesterday. M. W. at all times carries the most extensive stock in his line to be found in the supply of Spring goods on hand, to which proposes, however, to add very largely during the coming week. He says he can sell a suit of good, substantial clothing, fit for any man to wear, for the remarkable ow price of $7, and for such an outfit as he himselt sports, and it is one he has worn for three seasons, he asks only $15 in cash. We can recommend Mr. Wolf, from long acquaintance, as an honest man, and can truly say that he deserves to be well patron-

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP, April 27, 1875. DEAR FREEMAN—I regrei this week to chron-icle the death of Mrs. Mary Dimond, wife of air. Simon Dimond, of Summerbill township, which occurred on Friday Inst, 23d inst., aged 27 years. The deceased was a most excellent lady and exemplary Christian, and her edifying life and pious example will long be a source of consolation to her afflicted relatives and friends. Her remains were interred in the Catholic cem-etery at Wilmore on Sunday. To the Sercaved husband and venerable mother of the deceased the sympathics of the community are specially extended.

FRIEND MAC-On Saturday night last, three flends in human shape placed obstructions on the Pa. R. K., at Flynn's curve, one mile east of this place, for the purpose of throwing the Mail west from the track, in hopes no doubt of securing plunder by the wholesale sacrifice of buman life and the destruction of much valuable property. They were, however, happily deterred from accompilishing their devilish purposes. terred from accomplishing their devilish pur-pose by the discovery, by the watchman on du-ty, Mr. John Lotts, of the obstructions just in the niche of time to prevent a terrible disaster. The villains, on being frustrated in their helish work, commenced throwing stones at the watchman, one of which broke his lantern, yet, notwithstanding this, he succeeded in apprising the next watchman of the situation, who without delay hurried forward and succeeded in storning the train after which the observations. stopping the train, after which the obstruction were removed from the track. The facts were immediately telegraphed to all points and a re-ward of $5.0 offered for the arrest of the dasfardly wretches, but as yet they have not then apprehended, although the country has been scoured far and near in pursuit of them.

POST OFFICE BUSINESS. - How to do when you go there. - The following was not written specially for this latitude, but as its application is universal it has needed but a slight change to make it local in its character. It originally appeared in the Asheville (N. C.) Expositor, and is here reproduced with suitable variations as to names:

When you have letters to mail, wait till it is when you have ictors to bank, wait that it is time to close the mail they are going in, or if possible, until the bags are locked, as it looks more business-like to rush in just as the until is leaving and ask to have them put in. Never put stamps on your letters until you ge; to the office, and then ask me or Jim to lick them and put them on for you. We expect to lick all the stamps used at this office, and it is a on't pay for the stamps until they are all to move will turn upon you, faces beaming with love and approbation. If it makes no difference to you, put part of the stamps on the left-hand corners, and some on the back of your letters. This will insure you a remembrance in the prayers of the happy youth who cancels those stamps. When you pay money at the office, try and get it upside down and wrong end foremost, so that we may amuse ourselves straightening it up before counting it. This is one of our chief pleasures. Bring us all the straightening it up before counting it. This is one of our chief pleasures. Bring us all the torn "shin plasters" you can spare, for we like them much better than larger bills, and they are so much easier to count. Be sure, however, not to have the exact change.

You can generally save time by counting your money down to us, for you will nearly always count it more rapidly and correctly than we will. When you want a money order cashed, don't sign it right the first time. If we tell you it is payable to John Smith sign it! Swith This helps to pass the time, and is a pleasure and a relief to the postmaster.

If the postmaster tells you to put two cents on a paper, say to him that you have seen larger charge you, and also that the other postmaster was very careful about weighing his mail matter. After the postmaster gives you your mail, ask him if "that is all." Fostmasters are very apt to keep back part of your mail, unless closely watched.

when you call at the office, will make your visits desirable at any post office, and postmaster and clerks will not forget to call for blessings on you in their hourly supplications. Affection-P. S.—The foregoing is not intended for handsome young ladies. They are at linerty to come as often and stay as long as they please.

EBENSBURG, PA., April 16, 1875.

To Walter A. Wood, President, etc.

DEAR SIR—This is to certify that I purchased from L. & S. W. DAVIS, your agents in this place, during the year 1872, one of your NEW IRON MOWERS, which I have operated during the past three seasons with entire success. I have used it in cutting fully 200 acres of grass, and have not expended one cent on it for repairs. Like all other machines, it is not perfect, of course, but the only fault I find with it is that it is not arranged with shafts for one horse instead of two, as one horse can very easily operate it in

It is not arranged with shafts for one horse instead of two, as one horse can very easily operate it in anything like fair ground.
