-The best investment is one that will result in permanent benefit to the investor. A fair instance of this is the economy practised and the satisfaction gained by purchasing clothing at Godfrey Wolf's great Clothing Bazaar, next door to the Post-Office, Altoona, where garments elegant and seasonible, to suit every taste and every pocket book, are now displayed in abundance greater than anywhere else in the country. -Mr. Arthur Cullen, of Wilmore, who by the way is one of the best mechanics that

This is probably the best day's work that has ever been done by any carpecter in this or any other county, and work itself will show, as we can testify, having seen the roof on Monday last, that the job has been done in first class style. -David Kratzer, living near Ashland Fornace, this county, had occasion to lift a large stone while engaged in plowing, on Saturday last, and under the stone he found a small green snake coiled up. At the same time he felt a stinging sensation in one of his fingers, and supposing that he had been bitten by the snake he hied him away to Altoona on a double quick to seek medical aid but on being assured by a physician that it was only a felon (stone fell on his finger probably) he felt quite relieved and returned home more joyfully than sorrowfully intent upon nursing his pet and thanking

These young ladies were received in the Mother House of the Sisters of St. Joseph in the Pittsburgh diocese, where during their novitiate they gave evidences of a holy calling to the religious state. Rev. Stephen Wall, President of St. Michael's Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, preached on the occasion. He first spoka of he dignity of the Christian temple and then

DECORATION DAY .- The beautiful ceremony of decorating with flowers and ever-greens the graves of those who on the battlefield gave up their lives for their country was appropriately observed in this commuuity on Saturday last. At 2 o'clock, p. m., in accordance with the pre-arranged pro-gramme, the exercises were begun by a for-mal organization in the Court House, where an appropriate oration was delivered by W. H. Sechler, Esq., who dwelt somewhat at length on the sentiment of patriotism, and especially on that enthusiastic and far-reaching patriotism which is ever the development of the mountain top, and paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the valiant dead whose graves dot the soil from Gettysburg and the Potomoc to the Southwest and even to the City of Mexico. At the conclusion of Mr. Sechler's remarks, the procession was formed in the following order:

Chief Marshal, Capt. S. W. Davis. Chief Marshal, Capt. S. W. Davis,
National Colors,
Ebensburg Silver Cornet Band.
Boys of Mt. Gallitzin Seminary, in gray unitorms, preceded by a beautiful white silk flag appropriately lettered and draped, and marshaled by H. A. McPike.
Sunday School children of the Church of the Holy Name, marshaled by H. J. Crouse.
Band of Hope, with flag and banners, marshaled by Rev. T. R. Jones, pastor of Congregational church, and Thos. L. Jones.

Ebensburg Martial Band.
Members of Dauntless Fire Company.
Surviving Soldiers.
Citizens.

Citizens. In this order, the procession moved first to the Congregational cemetery, then the Catholic cemetery, and lastly, Lloyd cemetery. At the first named cemetery, after a dirge by the cornet band and the decoration of the several graves. Rev. Jones offered up a very impressive prayer; at the Catholic cemetery, after the delivery of a brief but pathetic address, the playing of another dirge by the band, and the depositing of the floral and evergreen offerings on the graves of the fallen heroes there buried. Rev. Father Boyle, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name, recited the De Profundis, after which the procession retraced its steps and passed down High street, near the eastern extreme of which all the participants halted except the martial band, firemen, soldiers, etc., who proceeded to Lloyd cemetery, where the decerating ceremonies were performed and a brief eulogy was pronounced by W. H. Sechler, Esq. Returning, this portion of the procession was disbanded about 5 o'clock, after having bedecked with flowers and immortelles the earthly mounds under which rest the remains of those named below:

The procession was nearly a half mile in length, being the largest ever formed here on a similar occasion, and its proportions would have been largely extended had it not been for the drizzling rain-storm which set in shortly after noon. As it was, it was a display of which our town has reason to e proud, and serving as it does to keep alive that love of country and veneration for the dead which should actuate every heart, we trust that a like observance of the day shall not in the future be emitted.

On this occasion the Silver Cornet Band made their first public appearance topped off with their handsome new silver lace eneircled and tri-colored plumed caps, in which they presented a pretty picture, so to speak, -neat but not gaudy-while the music they discoursed was as usual unexceptional. By general consent, a vote of thanks was tenered to the martial band for the part they bore in the exercises. This was an amateur band gotten on at an honr's notice, but the quality of the music dispensed by them was equal to that of many a veteran organization. We are pleased to learn that it is the intention of the members to continue the band as a permanent institution, and soitable uniforms will probably be next in order.

DEDICATION OF ST. JOHN'S (CATHOLIC) CHURCH, ALTOONA .- As previously announced in these columns, the dedication of the magnificent church edifice recently completed by the English-speaking Catholics of Altoona took place on Sunday last. For many months past the congregation looked forward with hope and anxiety to the gratifying event which has just been consumma-ted. Liberally and generously have they contributed to the erection of a building which will long stand as an ornament to the Mountain City, a credit to themselves and their posterity, and an enduring monument to the zeal and unselfish devotion of their beloved pastor, Very Rev. J. Taigg, V. G.

THE DEDICATION. Long before the time announced for the mmencement of the exercises, the street in front of the church was completely filled with people anxious to avail themselves of the first opportunity to secure seats. About halfaccompanied by fourteen or fifteen priests of the diocese, among whom were to be seen the venerable Fathers Bradley, of Newry, and Walsh, of Hollidaysburg, Fathers Tracy, Gibbs, McCarthy, Bigham, Gallagher, Mc-Keever, Devlin, Farren, Murphy, Schell, Kunizer, and several others. The outside recited, after which the 50th psalm (Miserere) was sung and the procession entered the church, sprinkling the interior walls in like manner. At the conclusion of these cermonies the people filed in, filling the vast pel Father Wall, President of St. Michael's eminary, Pittsburgh, ascended the elegant pulpit and delivered an eloquent, brilliant convincing discourse, which of course it would not be possible for us to publish, even if we had the full text of the sermon, but of which we heard a competent judge of such compositions remark that it was the finest effort he had ever listened to. The choir, too, consisting of Mrs. Annie Bradley, organist, Mrs. Kate Gurley and Misses Maggie Cochran, Belle Ruoff, Maggie and Ella Garrity and Lizzie Luckett, sopranos, Mr. James Curry, tenor, and Messrs. James Gatton and M. Guetirrey, bass, did remarkably well and made for itself an enviable reputation.

In the afternoon of the same day the Rt. Rev. Bishep conferred the Sacrament of prising all the delicacies and substantials of the season, was served to the Bishop and clergy in the spacious dining room of the beautiful convent of the Sisters of Charity, adjoining the church, and we cannot resist the temptation of telling our readers that we were one of the favored few, albeit not a cleric, who sat down to that sumptuous feast and did ample justice to the rich viands placed before us. Following the elegant supper came Solemn Vespers, at the close of which the Bishop ascended the pulpit and delivered a beau-tiful discourse, dwelling at some length upon the objects for which churches are erected and maintaining the doctrine of the Real Presence by several new arguments well presented. The music during the evening was very fine, plainly evincing the fact that with a little more culture a majority of those composing the choir would become finished artists. The Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament closed the exercises and ended a

HYMENEAL.

Many a matrimonial alliance has been solemnized amid more pomp and parade than characterized that of our young friends, but we are fully convinced that none was ever corsummated under more happy auspices or with more promising assurances of a long life of unalloyed felicity and sincere devotion to each other amid all the enjoyments, pleasures, trials and cares incident to the wedded state. Loving and lovable in an eminent degree, the pride of the family circle and the idol around whom centres the affections of many devoted associ ates and ardent admirers, our amtable young friend F. tie has well deserved the honor and happing of being made the wife, as we are sure she has been, of one who will never falter in the fulfilment of the obligations he has assumed in pledging his sacred froth to her who we are confident will ever adorn the high posi-tion to which she has been called, and the dution to which she is so well fitted by nature and by a good mother's care and guidance to per-form in a cheerful and cheering manner. Therefore it is that we join with the many friends of the fair and handsome young bride-and the generous and exemplary young bride-groom in wisning to them both an abundance of God's blowings in this world and the second of God's blessings in this world and the enjo ment of a peaceful eternity in the world to

STORM - Died at her residence in Alleghen township, on Tuesday evening, May 25th, 1875, Mrs. Sarah Storm, wife of Francis A. Storm, Esq., and only sister of Hon. John Buck, aged 47 years, 8 months and 3 days. In the grief and sorrow produced by the death of this most estimable lady the entire community shares. Few women have became more endeared to those enjoying their friend-ship than the amustle lady whose death is recorded above. Consumption, with its slow but unerting and fatal encroachments, had for some time marked her as its victim, and yet when death at last came the grief it occasioned death at last came the grief it occasioned seemed to indicate that the stroke was all but unexpected to friends and kindred, but to the gentle soul of the deceased it came merely as the harbinger of welcome to the glories and rewards of a blissful and harpy future. As calmly as the coming shades of a beautiful May ove she passed away from earth in the presence of those whom she loved upon earth—husband, children, kindred and friends. Her youngest child on the very day and hour of her death had a mpleted its seventh year. The remains of this true wife, loving mother and kind neigh-bor were on Corpus (hristi hald to rest in the Catholic cometery at Loretto, mid the mourn-ing of the stricken husband and their orphan children, and accompanied by the prayers of many who knew her but to love her, who named her but to praise. A singular and strik-ing coincidence in connection with her death and burial was the death of a brother a few years ago on the same day on which she died and the burial of another brother many years ago on the very same festival which witnessed the consignment of her own mortal remains to icir last earthly tenament. The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing husband and bereaved children, to whom comes the consolation that at though comparatively young in life the measure of her virtues was full, for truly "the good die first, while us whose hearts are dry as summer's dust burn to the socked." Peace to her immortal spirit. BARKLEY.-Died, in this place, on Tuesday evening, June 1st. 1875, Almert James, child of John D. and Mary Barkley, aged I year, 11 months and 24 days. The death of this promising and interesting title child was attended with circumstances of little child was attended with circumstances of a most distressing character, well calculated not only to bring grief to the hearts of the fond parents themselves, but to excite in every breast a feeling of sincere sympathy for the lereaved ones who have been thus so unexpectelly called upon to mourn the loss of their only living offspring. Taken by his mother to the Mountain House on Saturday afternoon last for the purpose of viewing the decoration ceremonies then about to be inaugurated, the little fellow was suddenly seized with sassing little fellow was suddenly seized with somsms and a severe attack of throat disease, and from that time until the moment of his death he suffered, with scarcely any intermission, the most exeruciating tortures, leaving little to be hoped from the very first except that God in His mercy would take him to Himself without The Inneral took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the remains being inter-red, by right of baptism, in the Catholic ceme-tery attached to the Church of the Holy Name,
