ANOTHER BANK SENSATION .- As Eb. ensburg of late has had more than the lion's share of bank sensations, it is not to be wondered at that our people have become ex-credingly sca y about such institutions. In regard, however, to the latest sensation in that line, caused by the disappearance be-tween two days of the cashier of Collins, Johnston & Co.'s bank, the uneasiness produced, we are pleased to say, was only of a temporary character, and as that well founded institution has promptly met all demands, it is fair to presume that it stands upop a firm financial basis. To what extent it suffered at the hands of the absconding eashier we are not prepared to say, as th stockholders are exceedingly reticent on that subject; but that the bank was pinched to a considerable extent seems to be conceded by all who-don't know anything about it, perhaps. Be that as it may, for the fugitive cashier there is more of pity than indignation expressed, the universal regret being that he has blasted his own future prospects and brought discredit upon an honest and respected name. In his domestic relations he seemed to live and no doubt did live happily and contentedly with his wife and child, and that he should thus desert them so unexpectedly and so discreditably is only human nature and the utter foily of seeking happiness outside of strict integrity and an honest and faithful performance of the duour positions or callings in life.

A HORRIBLE TRAGEDY. - Another territhis place last evening, the recital of the details of which is enough to make the blood run cold. An aged man and his wife were walking down the north track of the Pennsylvania Railroad, about half a mile east of Derry, when a freight train going in the same direction whistled, and they stepped to the south track to get out of the way. Just at that instant the Johnstown Accommodation east, came along, and as the curve is very short the engineer did not observe them until too late. The pilot of the engine struck them, and both were thrown against the embankment at the side of the road. from whence they rolled down into the ditch. The train was immediately stopped, but when some of the horrified passengers reached the spot they found the old couple without a breath of life, and lying within a short distance of each other. Their death must have been instancous as it did not require more than a minute or two to back down to the spot where the tragedy occurred, and their hearts had then ceased to beat. The bodies were at once daced on the rear car and taken down to Derry, when a most harrowing scene occurred. A son of the dead couple, who is aged about eighteen years, happened to catch sight of his mother, and upon finding that the lamp of her life had gone out forever he gave way to the most bitter lamentation. When he had calmed down somewhat he asked for his father, and when the killed between January 1 and September 1; terrible dual fate was unfolded to him he penalty $10. stood paralyzed with grief. Even the spectators were melted to tears at the saddening sight, and few could remain to witness his agony. The victims of this awful accident were named Serrina, and they had been up the road last evening for the purpose of procuring some corn and hops, a small sack containing these articles being in possession of the husband when he was killed. In the twinkling of an eye-without one moment to think of impending death-they were snatched from earth, and together their souls went forth from the clayey tenement containing them. They leave nine children to mourn their fate, and it may well be believed they are inconsolable. It was indeed terrible. - Johnstown Tribane, 7th.

How THEY WERE CAUGHT.-From the Bedford Inquirer we get the following parmatter of interviewing them after they are ticulars in relation to a little transaction in counterfeit money. Some parties residing at Friend's Cove, that county, who were not over scrupulous as to how they could make money, addressed a letter to a New York "shover," whose name was known to them. He sent them, as samples, a five-dellar bill and some fractional currency, which they passed readily, and finding the stuff so good, they raised $400 to purchase $3,000 worth of our place-well that is easier said than done, it-the rate at which the New Yorker proposed to sell. The transfer was to take place at Cumberland, Md., on a certain day. Several of the Cove boys were on hand at the appointed hour, but a "mum" sort of individual handed one of them a note, in which it was stated that the detectives were on the watch, and a meeting at Centreville, Bedford county, at midnight, would be necessary in order to make the transfer secure. Two of the Cove boysappeared at Centreville at the "witching hour," and meeting "their man," proceeded to an adjacent wood to finish the dark transaction,

A stump of fallow candle was lighted, and the $400 passed to the datler, who, in turn, counted over a package of bills and placed them in a cigar box. Just then the light went out; but the Cove boys were assured it was all right, and the parties seperated. Not being entirely satisfied at the way in which the leader had acted, the would-be purchasers of the spurious concluded to strike a light and examine the box. It had been "stuffed" but not with the "queer." There was not a single note in it-all having disappeared through a false bottom, before the box left the hamis of the dealer. The best of the "sell" was, that the samples sent out, by means of which the greenhorns were "drawn on," were all genuine; and the money counted at midnight was probably genuine. The New Yorker was simply a 'sharper," and the Cove boys have concluded that "shoving the queer" is not such an easy way to raise the wind after all.

MODERN WOMEN.-It is a sail commenwomen of our times have degenerated in health and physique notil they are literally a race of invalids-pule, nervous, feeble and back-achy, with only here and there a few noble exceptions in the persons of the robust, buxom ladies characteristic of the sex in days gone by. By a very large experience, covering a period of years, and embracing the treatment of many thousands of cases of those ailments peculiar to Women, Dr. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y., has perfected, by the combination of certain vegetable extracts, a natural specific, which he does not extol as a core-all. but one which admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most positive and reliable remedy for those weaknesses and complaints that afflict the women of the present day. This natural specific compound is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The following are among those diseases in which this wonderful medicine has worked cures as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicines; Weak back, nervous and general debility, falling and other displacements of internaorgans, resulting from debility and lack of strength in natural supports, internal fever congestion, inflammation and alceration and very many other chronic diseases incident which, as well as in the cases that have been enumerated, the Favorite Prescripcom'th vs. John Crouse. HELP TO MOTHERS NURSING INFANTS. -It is conceded that mothers who have the care, auxiety and draught of nursing infants are weak and need the aid of some strengthening tonic to make up the nonrishment required for the growth of the child. Ale, porter, and lager beer have often been recommended. Of late, since physicians have become aware that the Port Grape Wine produced by Alfred Speer, of Passaie, N. J., is strictly pure, they have prescribed it in-stead of ale and porter. This wine is principally sought by mothers who have nursing infants at the breast, as the best supplying medium to be found. ALLEGED RAPE. On the 17th of June, 1874, as we learn from the Johnstown Tribune of Tuesday, a daughter of Mr. Michael Shelley, of Adams township, then aged about fourteen years, was violated in her person, and on the 12th of June last she appeared before Esq. Strayer and made information against a peddier, who stopped at her father's bease during the absence of both nor parents, charging him with the commission of the outrage. She did not know his name, but the description was so accurate as to induce the suspicion that a man named Philip Daugherty, of Latrobe, was the guilty party, and the arrest of that individual was secured yesterday by Constable Harris. foremoon, was released until the next term of the District Court, entering bail in the sum of $5500 for his appearance at that time to answer the charge of rape.

Upon the second count in the information— that of fornication and bustardy—he was taken before Justice Strayer, and as he desired a hearing, the matter was continued until Friday next, when the complainant will be present to give in her testimony. Ball in the sum of $500 was promptly given for his appearance on that

The sworn information of the young lady sets forth that on the 16th of June, 1874, a ped-dier called at the house, in the absence of her parents, they being in Johnstown at the time, and by brute force he outraged her person. She says that on their return she did not in-form them of what had happened, but some time subsequently, when the sizes of pregnau-cy could not be concealed, she made a clean breast of the whole matter. A few months and she gave birth to a chied; and still claiming that a rape had been committed, an investiga tion was set on foot which resulted in suspicior attaching to Mr. Daugherty, and she made the information charging him with the crime. The warrant was placed in the hands of Officer Har-ris, and learning that a peddler answering the description given by her was in Latrobe, he went down and arrested him.

On the other hand, the accused, who is said to be in good circumstances and unmarried, claims that he never had the least intimacy with the girl, and feels satisfied that he can clear himself of the suspicion which rests upon him. When the hearing comes off, on Friday next, the preliminary examination of witnesses will likely develop what truth there is in the story told by the young lady. For the sake of honor and manhood we hope he may be able to clear himself of the terrible charge which has been made against him.

Letter from California.

CRESSEY STATION, Merced Co., Cal., August 31, 1875.

DEAR FREEMAN-Life has been so monoton ous and news so very scarce during harvest that I have omitted writing; but now "I take my pen in hand to let you know that I am well, and I hope these few lines may fled you enjoy-ing the same blessed state of health." For nearly two, years I have been bragging about the currency of California-all gold and silver, or their equivalent. I said "Times can't get hard here in Canfornia." But, alas! I was mistaken. Gold banks can be broken too, when depositors are all so foolish as to expect a bank to pay out millions of dollars in a day. The great $5,000,000 Bank of California suspended two days ago, and the news will reach you, I suppose, several days before this comes to hand. They paid out two millions coin in a day and a half, and then the coin rar out, and they closed their doors and will wind up the concern. They have assets enough to cover all Habilities -perhaps. There was also a run on the National Gold Bank and Trust Company, but they paid out as long as specie or coin lasted, and then offered depositors ample se in property. They had a large amount of gold and silver in bars, but this was not available. and hence they closed for a few days. The banks are all solvent and a foolish panie did the whole mischief and injury.

Money stocks are down and the sale of wheat and wool, etc., will be restricted for some time for want of money.

A citizen who removes from one ward or township to another, after the first day of September and before the day of election, forfeits his right to vote in his old district, and has not acquired a right to vote in the new. He, therefore, by his own act, disfranchises himself. the people across the water must have. fact, there is any quantity of gold and silver in this State, if it were only coined. It is the coin that is scarce just now. The trade dollar goes out to China and Japan and the gold and other silver coin goes east to New York, or to London, or Liverpool, or Paris, and the mint keeps coining about as fast as it goes away. Many of our wealthy men keep their gold and silver in bars, which will not circulate among the people, which I think is a mistake. I know that the times were hard in the States, but we thad not felt them until this crash came like a thunder clap upon the people of this State. An earthquake could not have created greater consternation, for no one suspected anything wrong or anticipated the crash. Even shrewusiness men were taken by surprise. that you and I may live to see good times again
