-We are sorry to learn of the death in Pittsburgh, on Wednesday morning last, of Miss Nim. Hebron, a young lady who for several years past had been a visitor to our town and during the past summer had been an invalid at the residence of Mr. Jas. B. Miss Hebron was a most amiable, estimable and intelligent young lady, and as a teacher in one of the public schools of Pittsburgh stood deservedy high. She was a niece of James Shannon, Esq., a former citizen of Johnstown, and was reared in his family. Her disease was consumption and her age about 35 years. Peace to her ashes.

Steamers by this line sail to and from New York and Liverpool every Saturlay, and to and from New York and Lonion every other week.

— Although he is a modest man and has no hankering after personal plandits, we cannot refrain from saying that Mr. Charles Stow, general agent and editor for P. T. Barnum's Great Traveling World's Fair, is every inch a gentleman-genial, generous energetic and entertaining, as men in all pursuits of life should be. Mr. Stow was at one time editor of the Girard (Pa.) Cosmopolite, one of the leading journals of the commonwealth, and as a writer of prose and poetry has but few equals in the profession. tells us that he has traveled all over Ohio, and says that if Allen is not elected by fully 30,000 majority, he is willing to admit that as a political prophet he does not pan out worth a cent.

-In the village of Covode, Indiana county, a scandal case has recently been brought to light, or perhaps we should say that a light was brought to the scandal case. Be light, or perhaps we should say that a that as it may, it appears that a man named McCowan had occasion to visit the borough of Indiana one day last week, where he succeeded in transacting his business sooner than be expected. On reaching home the same night he concluded to slip quietly to his bed-chamber and avoid disturbing his wife, but immediately after entering the domicil he heard voices in the room occupied by her. There was no light burning, so he at once procured a lamp and proceeded to make an investigation, when he found a Jefferson county man named Kremkaw sitting on the bed. A scene ensued and the final upshot of the matter was that Mrs. Me-Cowan went home to her parents in Tennesce, from whence it is fair to presume that she will not be in any great hurry to return.

To those Twenty-two ballots were taken, with the lisappointed candidates who charge us with their misfortunes, we can only say that we deny the "soft impeachment," and point to he result as an evidence that our withdrawal would not nor could not have aided them to accomplish their purpose. More than that, we deny that we endeavored to influence any delegate, directly or indirectly, tor of against any other aspirant, and can say in all candor that we did nothing of which any honest man would need to be ashamed. A naborly act at the proper time would have secured our nomination, if we are not very much mistaken, but we do not believe there was a sensible man in the convention who will say to-day that we could have done that much for any other man who was named for the position.

A NATURAL CURIOSITY .- Sometime ago t friend residing in Somerset county described to the reporter of the Johnstown Tribune, a remarkable tree, or more propery, six trees, growing near Confinence, in that county. A letter-writer who has refully, gives the following accurate descrip-tion of this curious freak of nature. It and is a poplar from which six trees grow out of a single trunk. For about six feet from the ground the six trees have a common trunk, or rather root, as it seems as if all of ly, and had grown up out of the ground carrying the earth above them up along to the height named. This root-trunk is fifty-five feet in circumference, and the poplars, when they assert their individuality, are each two feet in diameter. But now an extremely curious feature of this freak of nature presents itself to the astonished beholder,-Upon climbing up on the top of the common trunk it is found that these poplars must have been planted around a child's grave. The inclosed space is about four feet long, and the green grass is growing in the earth there. At one end is a great stone with an inscription on it, which, however, cannot be deciphered, as it is so worn by time. A part of it is broken off by the wear and tear of time, although it would be thought that those sturdy poplars would be able to pro-tect this small charge of theirs. No one knows by whom or when this queer grave

P. T. BARNUM'S GREAT TRAVELING WORLD'S FAIR.—The most notable event in the amusement annals of Ebensburg will be the first visit of P. T. Barnum's gigantic combination of diverse exhibitions, which is to pitch its teeming acres of tents here on Tuesday. Oct 5th. So much has already been said and admitted regarding the pre-eminent superiority, size and extraordinary character of this veritable traveling World's Fair, that little need be editorially added to be the first visit of P. T. Barnum's gigantic insure the largest congregation of people ever known in this section. The avalanche of concurrent testimony as to the indescribable proportions and attractiveness of Bar-num's crowning achievement is simply irresistible and that it presents many times more of everything worth seeing than was ever before collected in a traveling exhibition, is equally known. And so it is no wonder that with its innumerable features of instruction and amusement, and its host of superb atentic celebrities, it everywhere finds its vast accommodations thoroughly tested by countless throngs of eager specta-

SUICIDE -Twenty-five or thirty years ago, Robert Hewitt came to the Allegheny mountain and made himself a home on the summit about midway between Fallen Timber, in Cambria county, and the present site of Al-toona. Since that time until a few years ago he labored industriously in clearing a large farm, when he employed a tenant to take charge of it, and having no family of his own, made his home with the employe. The course of his life was pleasant and prosperous, isolated as he was from the cares of the bustling world, but, from some unknown cause, he left the house on last Wednesday morning on pretext of going out to hunt, and was found dead in the evening, having com-mitted suicide by shooting himself through mitted suicide by shooting himself through the heart, after deliberate preparation. A paper was found in which he had given written directions to search his trunk, when it was discovered he had willed his property to the tenant with whom he had been living. DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. -In accordance with the call of the Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, the several delegates chosen to represent the Democracy of Cambria county assembled at the Court House, in this place, at 1½ o'clock, p. m., on Monday, Sept. 20th, and was called to order by J. G. Lake, Esq., chairman aforesaid who delivered a very neat and welltimed address, which was received with de-cided marks of approval. The duty of selecting a temporary chairman was the first bus iness which devolved upon the convention, and for that position the names of Capt. H. D. Woodruff, of Conemangh borough, and John Lloyd, Esq., of this place, were suggested. One ballot was taken and resulted in favor of the latter named gentleman, who was subsequently, on motion of one of the delegates, made permanent chairman. The organization of the convention was then completed by the selection of Messrs. I. Lilly, of Cambria township, and D. C. Little, of Clearfield township, as secretaries, after which the credentials of the several delegates were presented, and after a committee of five, appointed for that purpose, had passed judgment in regard to three of the districts which were contested the chairman announce ed the following as the

For Poor House Director Jesse Patterson. of Johnstown, proved to be the successful aspirant, and after his selection John B. Ross, of Blacklick township, and Francis P. McCormick, of Summerhill township, were placed on the ticket for Auditors.

Following this was the presenting of five names as the choice of Cambria county for State Senator, viz.: W. H. Sechler, R. H. Brown, Joseph McDonald, John Feulon, and Nathaniel Horne. On the third ballot Mr. Sechler had a plurality of votes, and was declared the nominee as far as this county is concerned, and was permitted to select his own conferees. He selected Messrs. G. 34. That we pledge ourselves and our con-stituents to an unqualified support of the coun-ty ticket this day nominated. A vote of thanks was thereupon tendered to the officers of the convention for the very acceptable manner in which they had performed their several duties, after which the convention adjourned at 814 o'clock, p. m., with three hearty cheers for the State and county ticket and a general manifestation on part of all to pitch in and do their level

SUICIDE IN JOHNSTOWN .- About noon

esterday the body of Frederick Decker, of the Third Ward, was found suspended by a clothes-line from the rafters of the domicil which he had for some time occupied. His body was not yet cold when cut down, and he is supposed to have committed the deed He had evidently mounted on a stool, and, after fastening the rope around his neck. kicked the stool from under him, thus leaving him suspended. He had hung for some time, and was beyond all hope of resuscitation when cut down by Judge Gageby. A jury was summoned by the Coronez, consisting of the following named persons: R. B. Gageby, Thomas Herzog, Burgraff, Maurice McNamara, Charles Zimmerman, jr., and August Myers. Several witnesses were called to testify in regard to the matter, and the jury found no difficulty in agreeing upon a verdict of suicide. Mr. Henry Zimmerman stated that he saw Mr. Decker on Saturday last, when the latter stated to him that he was in serious trouble. When interrogated further, he said that Mr. Kast's little girl had been in the habit of playing in his shop, and that some days pre-vious Mr. Kast had charged him with taking improper liberties with the child. Mr. Zimmerman then detailed the circumstances attending the finding of the body. Mr. Charles Kast was called, and testified that his little girl had told him a story that had induced him to think that Decker had acted in an improper manner with the child, and that he had told Decker that, if he did not leave town, he would prosecute him. Decker, he said, had protested his innocence. Some other statements, tending to throw odinm on the character of the dead man, were made by this witness; but diligent inquiry seems to indicate that there was little or no foundation for them. Those of our citizens who knew deceased best are unanimous in the belief that the charge must have grown out of some misunderstanding on the part of the

The deceased was a native of Alsace, and came to this country over twenty years ago. He is said to have been a political refugee. He came first to New York, thence to Patterson, N. J. From there he went to Williams-port, Pa., where he resided some time. He also traveled for a year with an Indian show as a musician. After he abandoned that mode of life he settled at Summerhill, in this county; and finally located in Johnstown, where he followed the business of cleaning, sconcing, and repairing clothing, making ones, etc. He had resided in Johnstown for four or five years, and has always heretofore been regarded as a quiet, harmless old man. He was a man of good education, a fine musician, and had evidently seen better days. Latterly he was considerably addicted to drink, and had often spoken of committing suicide. He did not believe in the immor-tality of the soul, and hence looked upon self-destruction as a proper way to escape the troubles of life. His age was about sixty-two years. - Johnstown Tribune, 20th.

HEAT AND SICKNESS .- During the hot and sultry weather an unusual amount of sickness prevails in every community es-pecially among females and children, caused by the fermenting miasma gas or nitrogenous matter floating in the air, arising from decaying vegetation. This bad air affects everything we eat, and engenders in it a semi-fermentation which when taken in the system is like leaven, and operates on the whole; starting in the bowels and soon producing a violent fermentation, causing diarrhea and dissentery. It has been found that the use of Speer's old Port Grape Wine of New Jersey has an extraordinary effect in checking this fermentation and restoring the system to its original strength and vigor, and when used in time it prevents these complaints altogether. Invalids and debili-tated persons have found it the most nutricions and strengthening tonic in the market, and the greatest help in resisting the poisonous effects of the citiated atmosphere. This wine so long established has become the standard wine upon which physicians rely as the most rich in body and genuine in character containing the greatest amount of medicinal properties with the least intoxicating qualities. Speer's vineyards promises a larger yield this year than usual, and he has reduced the price of his wine that any one can now purchase it of druggists for $1 per bottle. None of this wine is bottled until it is four years old. - Gazette.

GODFREY WOLF IN THE FIELD .- The fall is at band; summer's heat will soon give place to the cooler breezes of autumn, and this in turn to winter's chilly blasts He is a wise man who, by careful forethought, duly prepares for these changes of temperature by laying in at the proper time an amply supply of suitable clothing. No house in the country is better able to supply this need than that of Mr. Godfrey Wolf of Altron. toona. When he announces he will be pre-pared to exhibit at his store No. 1914 Eleventh avenue, a full line of all the latest styles of goods, he means exactly what he says. His stock is simply immense, and great care has been taken in his selections to get the best and newest designs of imported as well as domestic goods. While he thus offers inducements in the way of variety, he has still something better in the way of prices. It has always been his motto to furnish his goods at the lowest possible prices, and his great success proves the wisdom of his course. We cordially recomment our readers to call on him at 1014 Twefth street, next door to the postoffice, Altoona.

Here it is again—another of our young friends goes and bobs his head into the by meneal balter, Here it is again—another of our young friends goes and hols his head into the hymenear balter, and then sends greeting to the printer man in the fulmess of his generous heart, and bids us believe, as we can well do, that he is one of the happiest mortals that ever made love to'a pretty damsel. Well, we certainly feel like saying Amon to his brightest anticipations, and heartly hope that all the Shields that a kind providence can interpose to protect the newly wedded from the cankering cares and troubles of this world may be freely vouchsafed, feeling sure as we do that a few little Shields at proper intervals will in themselves be sufficient to bring additional joy and gladness to what in all other respects cannot fail to prove a happy and contented houeshold. There, Bob, thats our benediction; and while we are sure that you have secured an aminble and loving young wife who will make you happy for all your life, it may add somewhat to the 'true inwardness' of wedded bliss to know that we wish you and your fair bride a long career of unalloyed felicity in this world and an eternity of unfading joys in the world to come. joys in the world to come.
