

Our friends King and Jones, of lightning rod fame, have opened a lively, feed and sale stable in Johnstown, and if the gorgeous "cut" at the head of their announcement in a local print means anything it means that they have horses which can be ridden bareback a la circus style. Be that as it may, we trust that good luck will attend them in their new venture.

A young man whose name we did not learn attempted to jump on a freight train at Portage Station, on Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock, but missing his footing fell with one of his feet under the wheels, several of which passed over that member and crushed it so badly that amputation had to be resorted to. One of his legs was also broken at the same time.

The holidays are coming, the gayest of the year, with their joyful greetings and their ever pleasant cheer, and the man who seeks to welcome and in their glorious presence bless himself and loving kindred will buy a suit from Hess, who has a stock of the equal can no where else be seen, and at prices which no one can excel, we mean—S. J. Hess, Oak Hall Clothing Store, 241 and 243 Main street, Johnstown.

Mr. George Zane, son of our friend and patron, Mr. Redinger Zane, of East Conemaugh, made a narrow escape from severe injury if not from death on Saturday last. He was standing on a board or plank on the coal scaffold at that place, when the board suddenly broke and let him fall to the ground, a distance of fully eighty feet. Strange to say, he sustained no worse injuries than a dislocated shoulder and a few contusions about the body.

No man or youth need permit the holidays to overtake him with shabby clothes upon his back, now that Myers & Lloyd have just received the largest and finest stock of clothing ever brought to Ebensburg. The same may be said of the ladies, for a splendid assortment of dress goods of various grades are also among the recent openings at that popular mercantile mart. Myers & Lloyd sell strictly for cash, and that's the reason why they sell so awful cheap.

Messrs. Lemmon & Murray have in store an abundance of choice articles for holiday gifts, such as fancy goods, toys and other handsome books, the most elegant and varied array of Simon pure jewelry to be found in the town, and many other desirable knick-knacks. They have also received a fresh invoice of drugs of various kinds, which will be found especially useful after the holidays in reconstructing the physical systems of those who have gorged themselves to more than repletion with the good things of life.

We would have been glad if the opportunity had been afforded us to chronicle the election of our friend N. F. Carroll, of Salina, Kansas, as County Treasurer, for which he was candidate on the Democratic ticket, but inasmuch as he was defeated by only seventeen votes in a strong Republican county, he has good reason to be proud of the run he made. Mr. Carroll is a Johnstown boy, and is well known to many of our readers, having been in the mercantile business for a number of years in his native place, as well as in Altoona.

On Monday last, about noon, James Inselo and Martin V. Fry got into a quarrel while playing cards in the saloon of August Danges, Johnstown, and the finale of the trouble was that the former stabbed the latter three times—once in the back, once in the left breast, both severe wounds, and slightly on the right side of the forehead. Inselo made his escape, but was arrested the same evening, and is now in jail here, having been brought up on Tuesday evening. The wounded man will recover. He and Inselo are brothers-in-law.

Miss Reiber, aged about thirty years, was dangerously shot while returning from a recentcoon hunting expedition in Somerset county. She was walking alongside of Eli Crosby, a young man, in one of those peevish was a small pistol which by some means became discharged, and the ball penetrating Miss Reiber's face below the jaw bone, and passing upward, broke out all the teeth on the side of her mouth, and passing through the roof of her tongue, lodged in the cheek on the opposite side of the face from which it had entered. Her condition is critical.

In the bed of Black-legs creek, bordering on the farms of Mr. Ray and Mr. McDowell, in Conemaugh township, Indiana county, is a rock of peculiar formation, which attracts the attention of all who may happen in that vicinity, when the stage of water is such as to permit an inspection of its surface. It contains three fish-shaped orifices in its surface, evidently wrought there for a purpose. As it is near the place where a large crucible was found, it is surmised these basins were used for the purpose of crushing or grinding the ore of some precious metal.

With sincere regret we announce the death of the wife and one child of our well known friend and associate of Johnstown Echo fame, R. Emmet Smith, eldest son of Capt. G. Nelson Smith, which sad events occurred at the residence of that gentleman in Georgetown, D. C., on the 27th and 28th of November, respectively. We knew Mrs. Smith in her girlhood and early wedded days as an amiable, kind hearted and affectionate lady, and now that she has been called from time to eternity, we cannot but hope that her immortal spirit has met with a favorable judgment.

Captain Morgan McDonald, of Loretto, has presented to the Catholic fair which opens its doors in this place on Monday evening next, a pair of well trained goats and a very elegant wagon and two sets of harness to match—for all which he was offered the sum of $100 if he would deliver the same in the city of Philadelphia. Good for the Captain! Joseph Hogue, Esq., of Allegheny township, has also contributed through us a handsome table cover for the benefit of the same enterprise, for which he will receive accept thanks. Who's next?

Our people were surprised on Tuesday last to learn that at a late hour on the night previous, R. L. Johnson, Esq., and Wm. B. Bonacker, Esq., the latter of whom was summoned by telegraph from his home at Johnstown, had been cited before Justice Kinkead to answer the charge of compound felony, brought against them by Geo. C. K. Zahn, Esq. The alleged offence grew out of the signing of a document in which they agreed to exonerate James B. Zahn from prosecution for having embezzled funds from the banking house of Collins, Johnson & Co., in which the gentlemen named are partners, on condition that he (Zahn) would return certain valuable papers belonging to said bank. The accused waived a hearing and entered into recognizances in the sum of $500 each to appear at court and answer the charge.

Mr. Jacob Brallier, the express messenger who unfortunately smothered two valuable hunting dogs and several fine chickens long since at Philadelphia by closing the door of the express car, fell from his car between Shady Side and East Liberty, on Saturday morning, while arranging the goods in the car. His collar bone was broken and he received several bruises on the arm and face, but he managed to walk to the next station, where he telegraphed another messenger to take charge of the car. Brallier lives in Johnstown. He was assessed $25 and costs for the express car, and for the animals in smothering the dogs and chickens.

Rev. Mr. Domene, Catholic Bishop of this diocese, arrived safely in Rome on Friday last.

A WANT SUPPLIED.—The American mind is active. It has given us books of fiction for the sentimentalist, learned books for the scholar and professional student, but few books for the people. A book for the people must relate to a subject of universal interest. Such a subject is the physical man, and such a book is "THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVICE," a copy of which has been recently laid on our table. The high professional attainments of its author—Dr. R. V. FERRIS, of Buffalo, N. Y.—and the knowledge he has of our country and our practice would alone insure for his work a cordial reception. But these are not the merits for which it claims our attention. The author is a man of the people. He sympathizes with the people in all their struggles, efforts, and attainments. He perceives their want—a knowledge of themselves—and believing that all truth should be made as universal as the sun, he has written this book of learning and experience he has produced a work in which he gives them the benefits of his labors. In it he considers man in every phase of his existence, and from the moment he emerges "from a ray of light" until he returns to the earth, he traces the path of the individual and the people, and the exercise of which furnishes subjective and objective immortality. Proceeding upon the theory that every fact of mind has a physical antecedent, he has given an admirable treatise on Cerebral Physiology, and the bearings of the facts thus established upon the individual and social welfare. The author believes with Spencer, that "as vigorous health and its accompanying high spirits are larger elements of happiness than any other things whatever, the teaching how to maintain them is a teaching that yields no other whatever," and accordingly has introduced an extensive discussion of the means by which we may preserve the integrity of the system and secure the benefit of the onset of disease. Domestic Remedies—their preparation, uses, and effects—form a prominent feature of the work. The high quality of the matter, the clearness of the important subject, and receives attention commensurate with its importance. Nearly all diseases "to which flesh is heir" are described in simple and plain language, and proper directions are given for their treatment. To reciprocate the many favors bestowed upon him by a generous public, the author offers his book at a price ($1.50) little exceeding the cost of publication. Persons can obtain this practical and valuable work by addressing the author.—N. Y. Tribune.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We do not suppose that the following clippings from four of our exchanges will induce any of our delinquent patrons to turn from the evil of their ways, but it is nevertheless gratifying to have such kind words spoken about us by those who know how it is themselves, and especially so as only one of the papers quoted in the above political harangue is the FREEMAN, two or three being taken from journals and the third independent in politics. Such disinterested advice from outside parties should be heeded; but will it be heeded? It is the wish of the publisher, however—read and consider them well!

BIO. MCPHER, of the Cambria Freeman, talks very plainly to his patrons in his week's paper, and they know where to go to come from, if he is to continue its publication. He is a man of the future, and he has fully determined to pull up stakes. The Freeman, two or three being taken from journals and the third independent in politics. Such disinterested advice from outside parties should be heeded; but will it be heeded? It is the wish of the publisher, however—read and consider them well!

CHARLES HALL is charged with having been on the streets of Johnstown, Pa., on Monday last, and selling the same from kegs not properly stamped. He is charged with selling the same from kegs not properly stamped, and with having stamps in his possession which had been used by other persons. VIOLATING THE REVENUE LAW.—Deddy-Marshal Harris went over to Altoona yesterday morning, and arrested a number of persons who were charged with violating the Revenue Law. An information was made against each of the persons arrested, and they were brought over for a hearing to-day.

THE FIRST OF DECEMBER.—The first of December is a day of many memories. It is a day when we think of the many who have passed on, and of the many who are still with us. It is a day when we think of the many who have passed on, and of the many who are still with us.

HOMEICIDE IN WESTMORELAND COUNTY.—Our friend and brother, Mr. J. A. Kitchell, of Westmoreland county, sends us, under date of Nov. 26th, the following particulars of a homicide which occurred about a year ago in the town of Huntingburg, Pa.

A RELIC OF THE REVOLUTION.—We were shown Saturday, by Dr. C. N. Hickok, of Bedford, the British flag which floated over the town of Bedford in 1781. Tradition is not clear as to the precise time of the capture of this flag from the British, and written history has nothing to say on the subject. But it is a relic of the Revolution, and it is a relic of the Revolution.

ROBBERY AT PINE FLAT.—A village in Indiana county, known as Pine Flat, enjoyed quite a sensation a few days ago. The store of Mr. Evan Williams was entered at night, and goods of considerable value carried off. The robbers were seen by a young man, and he called to the aid of a neighbor, who shot at the robbers, and they fled.

OBITUARY.—CARNERY.—Died, on Wednesday morning, Nov. 21, 1876, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, at the residence of her parents in Munster township, Allegheny county, a young lady, the second daughter of John and Rose Carnery, aged 22 years, a month and 3 days.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Are you suffering with Consumption, Coughs, Severe Croup, or any other of the ailments of the Throat and Lungs? If so, go to your Druggists, Lemon & Murray, Ebensburg, or to Wholesale & Son, Wilmore, and get a bottle of BOTTLE'S GREAT SYRUP FOR THE THROAT AND LUNGS. It is a medicine which has been introduced from Germany, and is selling on its own merits. The people are going wild over its success, and druggists all over our country are writing orders for it by the wagon load.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.—Those who are arranging for their home papers for the next year, will do wisely to send for Sample Copies of the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, Daily or Weekly, as it will be seen to their advantage. It is published in Pittsburgh. It is the oldest, being nearly ninety years old, and has kept pace with all phases of modern newspaper progress. It is printed on good type, and on clean, white, handsome paper. Its news is specially full, and accurate. It receives Cable news from Europe, and Dispatches from all parts of the world. It has special correspondents in Washington during the session of Congress, and at Harrisburg during sessions of the Legislature, and will give full reports of that which is interesting and important. Its editorial is complete and varied, yet chaste and pure. Its Editorials contain trenchant discussions of all current subjects, and deal independently with all important questions. Its paper is Republican in Politics, but holds that the party is superior to cliques and rings. Its Market Reports are specially full and accurate, and are published daily. Its Reports of the Live Stock market are also the best in the city. In frequent instances, parties in the country have saved or made considerable sums of money, by the purchase of reports of prices, given in the GAZETTE, in making their sales. It also contains Agricultural, Household, and Family reading, and is a paper of great excellence and rare cheapness of price. Its circulation is the largest of the Pittsburgh press. The GAZETTE is furnished at the following rates, and we are glad to afford them to our subscribers, when the size and quality of the paper are considered.
