-Several dozen mothers came direct to famed Star Hall, with several dozen little boys to make their usual call, and there from out the splendid suits each boy selected one; each mother and child; was pleased to see what they had done. And this they well indeed could do, for goods are sold so veryilow that at almost half the usual price finest clothing can be bought, we know. Go thou and do likewise at Jas. J. Murphy's Star Clothing Hall, 109 Clinton street, Johnstown

-The well known "Calian House", property at Cresson was disposed of at executor's sale, on Tuesday last, for the sum of $5,000, our friend John H. Clark, of East Conemaugh, being the purchaser. There is no doubt about the investment being a good one, as in the hands of such a man as the new owner it cannot fail to be a well kept and very successful summer resort. Mr. Callan held the property at $12,000 during his lifetime, and is said to have at one time refused $9,500 for it. -We believe it was Ben. Franklin who advised taking care of the pence and the pounds would take care of themselves, and we know of no better means by which to test the virtue of this wise axiom than by buy-ing all the ready-made clothing you may need from the oldest and most reliable dealer in Blair county, Mr. Godfrey Wolff, whose mammoth clothing emporium, next door to the post-office, Altoona, is always filled to repletion with the best goods in his line at n Another column of the assignee's sale of Geo. C. K. Zahm's real estate to morrow, at the store-room recently occupied by Mr. Zahm, in this place. The property to be sold comprises a most desirable homestead, a fine store-room and a square of ground in Ebensburg, besides one tract of sixty-five and another of fourteen acres (not seven, as heretofore stated,) in Cambria township, as well as four valuable lots in Salina, Kausas, all which will be sold without reserve. -The hotel At Summitville recently owned and occupied by John C. Boland, dec'd, was sold at public outery, on Saturday last, to Mr. Jas. Gillin for $759, who subsequently turned it over to our old friend John Carney, of Munster township, at the same price, which is just $1,050 less than Mr. Boland paid for it a few years ago. Mr. Carney, we understand, disposed of his fine farm in Munster township to some gentleman from Johnstown for the sum of $6,000, and intends, we presume, to remove to and occupy as a private residence the property bought by him at the Summit. -It looks as if there was a deficiency or $8,756.37 in the accounts of S. J. Miller, late Treasurer of Westmoreland county, and he cannot tell how the deficit has occurred. o'clock p. m. county will lose nothing, however, as The the bondsmen are perfectly good. Mr. Mil-ler asks for a suspension of public opinion until further light, if possible, is thrown on the subject, and declares his willingness to turn over all his property and assets in order to make up the loss, if such there proves to be. It is thought possible that vouchers may have been stolen from his office by designing and unscrupulous persons for sinister purposes. The etherial mildness, so to speak, which has for the most part characterized the present winter thus far has no doubt prompted many of the sterner sex to put off the purchase of comfortable clothing which they really needed, but now that grim old omfortable outfit, which can now be bought at the lowest of panic prices, as a clearance Mr. Hess desires, no matter what the sacri--In the Blair county court last week no less than eight persons were sentenced to Dunn, were convicted of arson, the first receiving one year and nine months, the second two years and three months, and the latter four years and three months' imprisonment. Four of the others, to wit, John Ehringer, Jacob Brown, Frank Leroy and James Henderson, were found guilty of larceny and were each sentenced to an imprisonment of one year and three months' duration, while the eighth and last, Robert Barnard, was granted the privilege of sojourning in the same institution for a period of one year and six months. -The Democrats of Altoona, in convention assembled on Monday evening last, renominated Hon. David A. Gilland for Mayor and placed the name of Mr. Wm. Galbraith on the ticket for City Treasurer, both by acclamation. Among the other nominees we notice the names of Messrs. John Rockett and Thomas Carland for constable of east and west sides respectively, and Mr. T. I. McKiernan (thanks to us for the "1") for Judge offElection in the Fourth Ward. Mr. Geo. J. Akers, local editor of the Mirror, was unanimously chosen Chairman of the City Executive Committee. The ticket for the most part, we have no doubt, will go through like a jiffy, a fact which almost makes us wish we were back in Altoona so that we could get a share of the loaves and fishes which seen, to be beyond our reach in this vicinity.

TERRIFICE SMASH UP ON THE BRANCH ROAD. - One Man Killed and Several Injured. -The first steident of a fatal character that has ever occurred on the E. & C. R. R. took place on Wednesday morning has at the Loretto plank road creasing, about one-half mile this side of Cresson station. The particniars, as we learn them, are that the Branch train going south was considerably behind time on the morning in question, and the conductor of what is known as the gravel train, Ehrenfehft by pame, seeing a train on the main time which he mistook for the Branch train, ordered his engineer to proceed in the direction of this place (whither they were coming for the purpose of taking on a load of ties) and soon after reached the point indicated under a full head of steam, where the two engines, which it seems whistled for the crossing at the same mo-ment and thus prevented the respective engineers from recognizing the presence of each ther until only a few yards distant, suddealy came in collision with terrific effect, the result being the instant killing and shocking mutilation of Mr. John Parrish, of Gallitzin, the engineer of the gravel train, the serious injury of his fireman, James Hopkins, son of Mr. Turner Hopkins, of Holfdaysburg, and also of Mr. Bart. M'Cabe, of Cambria borough, engineer of the Branch train, as well as the slight injury of Messrs. Richard Humphreys, fireman, Max. Ritter, brakeman, and Charles Lattener, passenger, all of this place. Of those injured Messrs. Hopkins and M'Cabe fared the worst, the former having had one of his legs so fearfully crushed that no less than two amputations had to be resorted to forthwith, the first below and the last above the knee, besides receiving several other severe injuries about the body, while Mr. M Cabe had six of his ribs broken and a large piece of flesh toru from each side of his brow, above the eyes, as neatly as if they had been cut out by a knife. He is also, it is feared, injured the very lowest cash prices. --Attention is directed to the advertisement Mr. Hopkins, is believed to be rather preiternally, and his condition, like that of carious. The injuries of the other three gentlemen are principally about the face and are not of a serious character, those of Mr. Ritter being in the nature of a burn, received by being thrown against one of the stoves in the passenger car. Both engines were badly demoralized, several trucks more or less damaged, and many of the seats in the passenger car were considerably used up by the force of the collision, while the "shook" with which the trucks from this place were laden were scattered in all directions. To the fact that these trucks were next to the engine may no doubt be attributed the escape from injury, if not from death, of those on woard the passenger car. As it was they were all shook up considerably and of course badly frightened. Mr. Parrish, whose death was instantaneous, his entire body being horribly crushed, was a brother of Mr. Silas Par-rish, deceased, a former engineer on our Branch road, and was for many years a faithful and trusted employee of the P. R. R. Co. He was a widower and seaves a family of small children. His age was about 42 years. Messrs. M'Cabe and Hopkins were taken to their respective homes for treatment, and the others returned to this place for the life of him Mr. Miller declares that on the train, which reached here about 5

A GRIM MYSTERY .- Dead Body Found-Foul Play Suspected. - By the side of an unfrequented road leading from an old stone quarry on the Adams' estate to the town-ship road, about one mile east of Summitville borough and probably a quarter of a mile from the turnpike, was found, on Friday afternoon last, the lifeless and decomposed body of an unknown man, about whose tragic taking off an air of mystery prevails which in all probability will never be solved in this world. The discovery was made by Mr. Charles Johnston, who for the first time in many months passed along the road referred to on his way back from an examinater has assumed undisputed sway and tion of several traps he had set for game in Mr. Groundhog has been, gone and seen his shadow, there is no further excuse for de-clining to call at the renowned Oak Hall Clothing Store of S. J. Hess, 241 and 243 Main street, Johnstown, and investing in a from the head, evidently by the crows, there was still enough left to indicate that the skuli of shelves for the coming spring stock is what had been crushed in, possibly by accident, but seemingly by a club in the hands of : second party. Near the remains were found an old pistol without a pivot, an open pocket-knife and a box of matches, all apparently the penitentiary for terms ranging from one year and three months to four years and there to evade suspicion, while on the ground. three months. Three of these, namely, Martin Feighter, John Smith and Thomas four cents and a little further on still another cent was picked up. The clothes on the deceased were sufficiently well preserved to show that they were of no mean quality, while the hat and shoes were also of rather superior make. The body had no doubt lain where it was found for several months, and the discovery recalled the fact that a very offensive stench was noticeable in that vi cinity early last fall by persons picking berries near the spot. John Sharbaugh, Esq., of Summitville, being notified of the discovery, empanelled a jury and held an inquest, but as no light could be thrown upon the mystery a verdict of "found dead" was the only one that could be rendered under the circumstances, the remains being too much decomposed to permit even the slightest clue to the cause or manner of

The whole stone cost 20.6 dollars; and dividing the surface, as stated above, in the proportion of 7.85, we find that A grinds off 347.50744 square inches, B 397.16136, and C 248.2125 square inches. "A CENTURY AFTER "-Part Nine .-Keeping pace with its predecessors in the beauty of its typography and illustrations, Part IX. of this most excellent and desirable work is now issued from the press. Promi. nent among the most effective of its charming engravings are the Charitable Institutions of Philadelphia, its Hospitals, Girard College, University of Pennsylvania, the New Building of the Young Men's Christian Association, and the Lincoln Monument. Part X. will be published before the close of the month, and the subsequent issues of the work will be given to illustrations of important localities in the State, with the exeption of the final number, which, as a fitting close to "A Century After," " will contain views of the Exhibition Buildings from original sketches. Mr. Stoddard's graceful, descriptive letter-press of these beautiful and wonderful triumphs of archidescriptive letter-press of these tectural genius and the entire correctness of the drawings will be to the fortunate possessor of this tasteful volume an enduring souvenir of the great Centennial Exposition of 1876.

To be completed in Fifteen Parts, at Fifty cents each. Sold only by subscription. A splendid chance for agents, who are wanted everywhere in the State.

Residents of localities where agents have not been appointed can subscribe by address-ing Allen, Lane & Scott and J. W. Landerbach, Publishers, No. 223 South Fifh Street Philadelphia.

EDITOR CAMBRIA FREEMAN-Dear Sir: As there has been so many fa'se accounts in vari-ous Binir and Cambria county papers about the fraces at Bennington on New Year's eve, I would like to say a few words on the subject. The party, as stated by the Bennington correspon-dent of the Altoona Mirror, was a select one, invitations having been sent out some days previous to those who were wanted there.dent of the Altoona Mirror, was a select one, invitations having been sent out some days previous to those who were wanted there.-Everything passed off quietly until a party of roughs, said to be twenty-eight in all, made their appearance and began to show off in their usual way. They came there determined to rid the house, but failed to do it, so after firing several shots they disappeared. Two of them helonging to "The Patch" claimed to be shot. Whether they were of not remains a mystery, as I have seen no one yet who could substanti-ate the story. Two of the party invited, be-longing to Tunnel Hill, were slightly wounded. None of those roughs, however, belonged to Tannel Hill, and there was only one from here who was not invited, and he took no part in the fraces, and the balance, who were invited, did their utmost to settle the squabble before any harm was done. Therefore I think the Beanington correspondent should not unjustly condemn young men who are too often put down for errors committed by others. I have the names of both parties in my possession and I defy "Ben Nington" to prove anything con-trary to what I have here stated. "Yours, respectfully. JAS. WM. KILLDUFF. Yours, respectfully. JAS. DEAR FREEMAM-"Lofetto" tries to convict me of a grievous error in the pigeon question and also endeavors to evade the real issue. and also endeavors to evade the real issue.— In the first place, my orthography was correct as I wrote tredecillons. It was simply a type-graphical error, something similar to his "pure stick," and if he was possessed of ordinary in-telligence he might have inferred that much. Secondly, I did not state the number as my es-timate, but merely as the remark of one who thought he knew. Thirdly, it's none of my business where the pigeons found food, but as it is about the only original problem, except "Rob Roy's," which has appeared in the Puzzie Department, I would like some of the contribu-tors to that column to solve it. OBITUARY.

SKELLY.-Died, in Summerhill township, Jan. 18, 1876, of paralysis, Miss NELLIE SKELLY, aged 71 years.

The subject of this notice was a daughter of Philip Skelly, a soldier of the American Reco-lution, and was born, reared, lived and died near what is now the borough of Wilmore, this county, then virtually a trackless wilderness, the abole of wild beasts, and a stranger to the echo of the human voice. Her remains were Interred in the Catholic Cemetery at Wilmore, whither they were followed by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances who had knowh her in life Long will she be remembered for fidelity to her faith, her maidenly purity and her exemplary conduct.
