NOBLE TRIBUTE TO AN HONEST MAN FROM A UNANIMOUS COMMITTEE AND A UNANI-MOUS HOUSE-GRACEFUL CONDUCT OF REPUBLICAN MEMBERS.

Washington, June 12 .- The feature in the House to-day was the report on Mr. Kerr's case, submitted by Chairman Clymer. It was the unanimous work of the

The report states that, after a full inquiry into the facts, and after a thorough examination of Lawrence Harney, the only witness making the charge, of Augustus P. Greene and divers other witnesses, it appeared that, in 1866, while a member of the House of Representatives of the Thirtyninth Congress, Mr. Kerr did, in the exercise of his right or privilege, nominate Greene for an appointment in the regular army. The committee, however, had found no difficulty in reaching the conclusion that the charge as to the payment of money to Mr. Kerrstood fully exonerated from all implication affecting his personal honor or of-ficial integrity. The committee had found nothing in the whole progress of the investigation to impair or detract from the well-established reputation of Mr. Kerr for unquestioned personal integrity and unsullied purity. Mr. Clymer remarked that the conclusion reached was the unanimous guests," and that, in addition to its glaring judgment not only of the committee, but of the House and the country.

Mr. Danford (Ohio, and a Republican member of the committee) said that it afforded him real pleaseve to be able to subscribe to the report, not because of the unfortunate illness of Mr. Kerr, but because it was an act of simple justice to that gentleman. He spoke of the unfortunate circumstance which presented itself at the threshold of the inquiry (as to Mr. Kerr, a Democrat, from Indiana, giving the nomination to Greene, a Republican, from New York), and said that had it not been for that circumstance the committee would not have deemed it worth while to even enter on the investigation. He was happy to say, however, that he had no idea that, so far as the corruption of Mr. Kerr was concerned, there was a single scintilla of truth in Harney's testimony. It was a falsehood taken advantage of by a bad man for the purpose of attempting to blacken the reputation of a good man. [Applause.] He spoke of these investigations, used by bad men like Harney, as being the very worst instruments that can be used in a country like this. > LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS .- What is "A Newspaper" in Contemplation of Law.— Another decision has just been rendered in regard to what in contemplation of law is a newspaper and as to the legal publication of legal advertisements. The case was before the Burlington county, (N. J.) court. A legal advertisement was published in a paper in that county, with a patent outside printed elsewhere, under which certain property was sold; and the question arose whether, 1st, the publication had been legally made, and 2nd, whether the title vested in the purchaser. The defendant to the suit, who had been divested of the property by the sale, put the plea that the sale of the property advertised was not according to the mode provided by the statnte, which declares in New Jersey (and in Pennsylvania also) that all advertisements must be published in a paper printed in the county and of general circulation in the county-his counsel maintaining this had not been done, and hence the proceedings in the case were void and the title did not

It being proven that the paper in which the advertisement was published was partly printed ontside of the county, and had but little circulation in it, was not therefore a paper of general circulation, the exception of defendant's counsel was sustained by the court, and costs, amounting to $32.50, were charged to plaintiff in the case. - Exchange.

DISCOVERY OF A VALUABLE PAINTING. -Incredible as it may appear, there has been discovered here in our city of New Orleans "The Last Supper." La Piece des Pieds, a picture painted by Raphael shortly before his death, which occurred in the year 1520. Seven years subsequent to this date the city of Rome was sacked by the Spaniards, and simultaneously with the sacking the painting disappeared. It was believed the picture had been carried into Spain and that the captors had no knowledge of its authorship. Later on the work found its way hither, when Louisiana was a possession of the Spanish crown. It has perhaps lain here until the late discovery y the fortunate owner, Mr. C. J. O'Hara,

o. 119 Carondelet street. The Count de Turenne, who was here a few weeks ago, saw the picture and pronounced it genuine. He is said to be in treaty for its purchase by the French government. The painting had been rudely cut from its original frame and adjusted to one of smaller capacity. A fold in this way was made to extend itself all around the margin. Under this was found Raphael's own monogram. This and other proofs of antiquity and genuineness, as well as the work itself, may be seen by the curious at Mr. O'Hara's office. - N. O. Picaguns.
