Our readers need no assurance of the The Cause of the Present Distress.

If the Republicans had desired to restore head this week the name of Hon. John the Government to a peace footing after Reiliy, who, as we briefly announced in the close of the civil war, the road lay our last issue, was renominated for Con- broad open before them, and the task was gress on Thursday by the Democratic con- easy. All they had to do was to apply the axe to the roots of what may be called the ference of this district, then in session at military system, recur to the expenditures Bedford, Pa. Mr. Reilly, as we all know, of 1860, with the necessary additions, and was not a seekon after the position-in fact start the work of retrenchment. That is his own personal interests and inclinations what the country asked and expected, as it had a right to do after the sacrifices which had been made during the war.

The leaders and the managers who had upon him-but being a true man in every | revelled on patronage, contracts, and jobbery for four years, had no idea of relinquishing their sources of wealth. They had become enormously rich by the war, had so triumphantly elected him two years and would gladly have kept up the fightago, and with that ever present desire to | ing, which, while exhausting the blood and treasure of the people, was a source of unfailing profit to the corrupt combinations in and out of Congress.

These sinister influences prevailed in legsubmits with grace and diguity to the will islation, and instead of a rigid system of economy, such as was at once adopted in France under a similar condition of things, a vicious ingenuity was employed to keep on the first ballot, but which is none the up the expenditures to the highest possible less hearty and in accordance with the point, to create offices, and to expand in every direction. Of course the appropria tions had to be reduced from the war foot ing, but no thanks to those in power, for ballot. Of the nominee himself we deem the country would never have submitted to it superfluons to speak at any great length. | the continuance of such burdens.

But this diminution was never honest or earnest. Every million of reduction had to be extorted, and wherever one was majority which Cambria county rolled up yielded, two at least ought to have been obtained. This truth was demonstrated at the last session by the facility with which the House cut off at a single blow forty millions of dollars, and would have struck every respect of the confidence reposed in at fifty millions but for the dogged and bitter hostility of the President and the Senate, who finally succeeded in impairing the work of the people's representatives to the extent of ten millions of dollars.

The howling of discharged officeholders, the outery of Rings deprived of their accustomed plunder, the resentment of officials thieves and their confederates at short appropriations, and the lying of the the Democratic majority in the lower house, Administration about crippling the service, only mean that honest and resolute men he deserves to be returned because he has have commenced a practical reform, which proved eminently true to every trust and caunot stop until the rotten and profligate because he has left out of view his own system is torn up root and branch. The personal interests in order to subserve the ose corporation that has been running interests of the people of his own district the Government for sixteen years, and would never admit outsiders to its secrets in particular and of all other districts in or its dividends, is very much disturbed at general. He is the most popular and unthe actual situation, and a great deal more QUIET as it is kept, we feel safe in saying questionably one of the purest men that so at the outlook, which plainly reveals

It makes the blood mount up with hot indignation to think how the people of this country have been cheated, robbed, betrayed and misled during the last eleven years of so called peace. These are palpable facts which cannot be disputed. They put the responsibility of the present hard times on the Republican party, and ment comic. Patent soap peddlers and they prove that retrenchment is the short and sure cut to reform. In view of this demonstration, which the plain people see and know to be true, it is no wonder that there is distrust of the men who brought on this prevailing distress, and a lend and general demand for a change of administration, of measures, and of men. -N. The Germans, like other adopted citizens, regard Hayes as completely identified with a secret proscriptive Know-Nothing organization, which has for its leading dogma "the exclusion of all foreigners from office" and no toleration for Catholics. They also consider Hayes as representing the fanatical temperance interest, which the male and female crusaders in Ohio carried to an extreme of folly, and as favoring sumptuary reasons may be classed as partially personal.
