

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENBURG, PA.,
Friday Morning, - - Nov. 10, 1876.

In the campaign just closed no man did more effective service for Tilden and reform than Pennsylvania's eloquent and patriotic son, Hon. Wm. A. Waller. All honor to such faithful and fearless Democrats.

PENNSYLVANIA has gone Republican by a very meagre majority—probably not more than 8,000 and certainly not more than 15,000. Outside of Philadelphia the Democrats have a clear majority in the State of not less than 6,000 or 7,000, while in that city Rowan, the radical ring candidate for Sheriff, has been defeated by about 20,000.

We are not able as yet to give the official vote in this district on Congress, but the reported majorities in the several counties outside of our own, the returns of which are of course official, foot up as follows: Bedford, for Reilly, about 400; Somerset, for Campbell, 1,340; Blair, for Campbell, about 750—making the latter's majority in the district, which is able under ordinary circumstances to give 1,000 majority for that party, little if any beyond 300. In the Senatorial district our candidate, Mr. Conrad, is defeated by eight or nine hundred. And that is about all the information we can give on the subject at present writing.

If there is any one thing more than another for honest men of all parties to rejoice over, it is the defeat of the desperate radical ring which has done so much during the campaign just closed to demoralize and bring reproach upon the people of this county, not only in a political but in a moral sense of the word. The unparring and unblushing use of money and the open and shameless buying of voters like sheep in the shambles, to say nothing of a free flow of intoxicating beverages, were the means adopted to accomplish the end aimed at and that all their disreputable doings have proved inadequate to the task is indeed a subject of congratulation and sincere thankfulness which honest and true men, no matter what their political sentiments, should take an earnest pride in wherever the facts are fully known and properly appreciated.

The true and faithful among the Democracy of Cambria county, and their name is legion, deserve to be congratulated in an especial manner upon the success of our whole county ticket and particularly upon the election of our candidate for Sheriff, against whom the most infamous and relentless war was waged and the basest means used to accomplish his overthrow. Never in the history of our county has such a revolting picture been presented as the one held up to public gaze by the desperate radical ring which fought for ascendancy and endeavored by ways that were dark and tricks that were vain to capture one of the best officers of Cambria. And that they did not succeed is owing entirely to the unremitting efforts of the faithful sentinels upon the watch-tower of Democracy, to the largely increased vote of the county, and to the fact that nothing was left undone to secure a full poll and an honest expression of public opinion. Were it not for all these reasons combined we might to-day be called upon to deplore a radical victory won by one of the worst elements that has ever entered the political arena in Cambria county. Thank God, however, that their lavish expenditure of large sums of money to corrupt Democratic voters, their oft repeated attempts to secure their cherished object by parading affidavits which were either false in themselves or without application to the matter at issue, and their thousand and one other plots and counterplots to defeat Mr. Ryan, have all failed to bear the much wished for fruit. Of Mr. Davis himself, now that he has by the will of the people been forced to retire once more to the shades of private life, we have no wish to say a disparaging word, knowing full well that the defeat he richly merited, if not for his own sake at least for the sake of the desperate ring that surrounded and goaded him on to his own political ruin, is a load sufficiently heavy for even his broad shoulders to bear. We cannot but express the hope, however, that he has learned a lesson that will either keep him out of politics for all time to come or else induce him and his friends to conduct future campaigns on a much higher plane of political principle and moral rectitude than has marked the one that has just closed with so much disaster to the desperate men of the radical faith who took an active part in it.

PROCLAIM THE GLAD TIDINGS O'ER LAND AND O'ER SEA!

DEMOCRACY HAS TRIUMPHED, THE PEOPLE ARE FREE!

Tilden and Hendricks UNDOUBTEDLY ELECTED!

BAYONET RULE AT AN END.

PEACE AND GOOD WILL PROCLAIMED.

On the morning after the election the Republican press and people very generally conceded the victory to Tilden and Hendricks, but on Thursday morning the political atmosphere grew more Hayes-y, and up to nearly noon on Friday the news was of such a character as to leave the matter in doubt, though the probabilities of a Democratic triumph were by all odds the best. At the time mentioned, however, the matter was set at rest by the receipt of a dispatch from Lake City, Florida, announcing that the Democrats had carried the State by about 1,700, thus securing for Tilden and Hendricks four more electoral votes, which, added to the 184 already conceded to them, gives the Democratic candidates 188 votes, or three more than is really necessary to elect. In addition to all this, there is every reason to believe that Louisiana and South Carolina are all right for the good cause, and that their electoral votes, 15 in all, will be added to the Democratic column. With this gratifying intelligence we put our paper to press, confident as we are that no turn of events can possibly change the present aspect of affairs.

With the glad tidings of Tilden's election and the glorious triumph of the Democracy of Cambria over the despicable radical ring in this county, comes the sad thought that a good and true man has been stricken down in the person of our noble and faithful young Congressman, Hon. John Reilly, against whom not a word of disparagement could be uttered and to whom the people of this district owe a debt of gratitude which they should have been proud and anxious to repay by electing him to Congress. Why this has not been done is useless now to inquire, but certain it is that no net of Mr. Reilly has alienated from him the confidence and trust of his fellow citizens of all parties, and his defeat therefore cannot be accepted as any reflection upon his honor and integrity. Cambria county, we are glad to know, has done her entire duty toward him, and if his own county had come up to the work with anything like that unanimity which she owes to herself and her honored citizen, there would be quite a different and much more creditable story to tell at this juncture.

TILDEN'S HUMANITY.

A little incident which illustrates the innate humanity of Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, is thus related by one of our most prominent physicians: "Not long since a poor woman who earned a precarious living by sewing died of cancer. During her life, among the families who employed her was that of Mr. Tilden. When I was first called to see her I found her in a little room in a tenement house suffering from a painful cancer. Soon it became difficult for her to work, yet she was still employed at the gentleman's house, being permitted to do only what little she could without harm to herself, she being too proud to accept direct charity. Her good employer was elected Governor of the State. At this time the poor woman was impossible. Many would now have advised and urged her to go with her health some cancer to the hospital. Not so with Mr. Tilden. She was taken from the tenement house to enjoy the comforts of that luxurious home in Twentieth street as long as she was willing to stay. There I attended her, and at that time, although never having had the privilege of seeing him, yet knowing a little of his heart through this one loophole, have ever since admired Samuel J. Tilden."

A man is true to his fellow-men in the dangerous hour of pride of elevation to a great dignity, and amid a fierce struggle with city and State corruption, can be trusted with the care of a suffering nation.—N. Y. Sun.

FACTS ABOUT ANTONELLI.

THE FORTUNE AND FAMILY OF THE DYING CARDINAL—DEVOTED LIFE.

In a paragraph of this morning's issue of the Sun, says a writer in the paper, reporting to give biographical sketches of the dying Cardinal Antonelli your informant, among other inaccuracies, says: "Although receiving, with other Cardinals, a salary of $4,000 per annum, he is provided with so many wealthy benefices that he has accumulated an immense fortune." I am certain that, like all true-hearted Americans who are lovers of the truth for its own sake, you would not willingly and knowingly utter a word that could injure the good name of the lowliest member of the community—especially if he were one of the dead-beats of Rome. Antonelli—perhaps at this moment before the judgment seat of Him who shall weigh the merits and demerits of us all—is most dear to the hearts of two hundred millions of Catholics, six millions of whom are American Catholics, for no other reason, because he has been the life-long and honored servant of the Holy See, and has clung to the fortunes of the illustrious Pius IX. with a constancy that no weight or succession of calamities could shake, and with a courage that has defied the threats of the assassin and the slanders of a hostile press.

You, sir, are not one who would learn history from a Nicolina, a Gavazzi, an Edmund About, or a Leggo; you would not condemn, still less hang, a dog of your own kind. Yet, the editor of the Sun, each lying voice re-echoing the utterance of its predecessor—from which our popular press have received the now widespread opinion that Cardinal Antonelli "has accumulated an immense fortune" from the benefices bestowed upon him by the Pope, and his clever manipulation of the Papal finances. What is the truth about Cardinal Antonelli's fortune? He is the son of an Italian nobleman, noted throughout Italy for his great wealth and talent as a financier. The family is not a new one; their name dates back to the twelfth century. Cardinal Antonelli was born in the college of Cardinals in the last century, and at the beginning of the present, when the celebrated statesman was a babe; even then the family was neither obscure nor impoverished. Giacomo Antonelli inherited, like his brothers, a splendid fortune from his father, which he applied to his business. When he entered the service of the church he brought his princely wealth with him, and used it as those best acquainted with the facts can testify, in a princely spirit. Even were he a poor man, disposed to give much to the good cause, his office of benefices, the times on which he fell, the gradual impoverishment and final suppression of all such benefices would have left Cardinal Antonelli but few opportunities of enriching himself or his family. As it was, even before the Piedmontese revolution, he received, in some, the yearly salary of $4,000 allotted to each Cardinal from the revenues of the church, with the additional salary of $1,400 enjoyed by the Secretary of State, cannot strike any of your first-class Protestant pastors of New York as exorbitant.— However, the salary of the Pope for Cardinal Antonelli, nor indeed any one of the high officers of the Papal Court, ever accepted one dollar of salary from the usurping royal government. The heroic Secretary of State may have filled the duties attached to other onerous offices, with the exception of the duties of Secretary of State, but these additional labors, while increasing his rewards in another way, obtained him in this only such misrepresentations as that into which your informant was led innocently.

Still less can you see such men as Cardinal Antonelli and the late Archbishop De Merode employed the princely patrimony they brought with them to the service of the Holy See in its darkest and most needy hour? There are still, in spite of ruthless suppressions and confiscations, many noble families, and in six colleges in Rome, many a devoted priest, and bishop, even here in our America, who could thrill your own and all American hearts, naturally so generous, with numberless instances of the most delicate and beautiful charity on the part of the great pontifical statesman, as well as on that of his old associate in the pontifical ministry.

To be sure, Cardinal Antonelli dwelt in an historical palace painted and furnished by Italian genius; so did De Merode; and so does the Pope himself, for that matter. But the style of life of the great Pontifex, and his princely abatement minister, and Antonelli's life was devoted to Pius IX. and for this we Catholics honor and revere his name; his presence was ever accessible to the injured, and his purse opened to the distressed; and for this our common humanity will bless him. It was the kindliness of the beginning of our second century of national life, if those who aspire to serve the State could bring to it a fortune that should place them above dependence, temptation and corruption. Let us wait and see whether or not the dying Cardinal will have given to the needs of his aged master, and the service of the universal church the remains of the fortune received from his father.

When the bandits made their recent raid in Minnesota at the North Star bank they captured near Mankato an innocent German named Danning. After he had piloted them to a roadway which they wished to find, they calmly debated the question whether they should permit him to go on his way, or kill him on the spot. After the question had been discussed quite freely a ballot was taken, and the German's life was saved by the vote of Charley Pitts, the robber, who was subsequently killed near Madelia. Danning was compelled to take an oath that he would never speak of the robbery, and being a religious man never mortal man so dreadfully scared. I could not shake off the panic terror. He hoped about for a few weeks after the memorable interview, and was in momentary dread of the return of the bandits. He finally sold his effects, packed his chest, and started for the East, fully determined to put the ocean between himself and his captors.

RESCUE AT SEA.

TERRIBLE SUFFERINGS OF A SHIP'S CREW—THREE DAYS WITHOUT FOOD OR DRINK—LIVING ON SHARPS—RESCUE BY THE BRIG NELLIE WARE, CAPTAIN ASHBURY.

The brig Nellie Ware, Captain Ashbury, from Minutitan, arrived at New York Thursday after a stormy voyage of forty days. Captain Ashbury made the following statement: "We had fine weather Thursday, October 19, when off Jupiter inlet we encountered a hurricane from east-northeast, blowing dead on shore, which was not very far distant. We carried considerable sail until it was all blown away. Kept constantly hauling the lead and trying to get a bottom, but it could not tell the depth. The last sounding we supposed to be about seventeen fathoms. At two A. M. our last sail was blown away and we were drifting to leeward very fast. At four A. M. the wind shifted to the southeast, and we made some way toward land by five P. M., October 20, forenoon, a terrible gale was blowing from southwest which came in heavy pulls. At four P. M. that day the wind moderated and it cleared in the west. We got all hands to work and cleared the wreck. On Saturday, October 21, we made what sail we could, and were up for New York. The next day, Sunday, at seven A. M., in latitude 28 deg. 42 min. north, longitude 77 deg. 33 min. west, we saw a dismasted vessel about six miles to windward of us. In the afternoon we beat up under our main sail to the schooner Edward T. Bond, of Tremont Me. The captain and crew were from Brunswick, Ga., for St. Jago (Cuba) with a cargo of pine lumber. She was in a most deplorable condition, her masts and jibboom gone and her decks swept clean. We sent a boat to her and she took aboard a wife and crew and brought them to this port.

Captain Leopus was interviewed and stated as follows: "We sailed from Brunswick, Ga., on Sunday, October 15, with light westerly winds and fine weather. That night the wind shifted to the north and next morning it blew a heavy gale from the northwest. We put the vessel under short sail and as she was leaking badly all hands were put at the pumps. Wednesday morning the wind moderated and came more from the eastward. At ten A. M. we were ship to the northward and set the jib, but a heavy sea running from the southeast and the vessel laboring heavily and leaking badly. At this time we were in latitude 29 deg. 12 min. north, longitude 77 deg. 36 min. west. On Thursday, at noon, the wind and weather stood the same. In the afternoon the wind shifted to the north, and it blew a gale from the northwest. By midnight it was blowing heavy, the vessel being under three reefs sails, and all hands at the pumps. Friday, at daylight, there was every sign of a hurricane. All hands were kept at the pumps until ten A. M. the vessel was thrown on her beam ends, and we had to cut away the mainmast to right her, which carried away the foremast. When she righted the decks were swept of everything—deck load, forward house and loose spars and gear. The water was at a level of water. It was blowing a hurricane. At 11 A. M. the barometer stood very low and the sea making a clean breach over the vessel and through the cabin, staying the bulkheads and everything in the cabin, and driving all hands on the top of the house, and the vessel was in a most deplorable condition. My wife with her child in her arms was washed off the house, but having a rope made fast around her she was hauled on board, but without the child, which was drowned. Myself and another child were washed in the cabin and nearly drowned. When I recovered myself the child was gone, having been washed through the cabin. At midnight the wind shifted to the northwest, which made the wreck lay easier on the side and the vessel was kept from capsizing by the heavy sea. The weather moderating we took a look around and found the provisions, except a can of tomatoes and the water, all gone, and the deck split open. Saturday, the 21st, we kept a lookout for a sail, but none came in sight. At two P. M. we were six miles from land; at three P. M. we were six miles from land; at four P. M. we were six miles from land; at five P. M. we were six miles from land; at six P. M. we were six miles from land; at seven P. M. we were six miles from land; at eight P. M. we were six miles from land; at nine P. M. we were six miles from land; at ten P. M. we were six miles from land; at eleven P. M. we were six miles from land; at midnight we were six miles from land. The weather moderating we took a look around and found the provisions, except a can of tomatoes and the water, all gone, and the deck split open. Saturday, the 21st, we kept a lookout for a sail, but none came in sight. At two P. M. we were six miles from land; at three P. M. we were six miles from land; at four P. M. we were six miles from land; at five P. M. we were six miles from land; at six P. M. we were six miles from land; at seven P. M. we were six miles from land; at eight P. M. we were six miles from land; at nine P. M. we were six miles from land; at ten P. M. we were six miles from land; at eleven P. M. we were six miles from land; at midnight we were six miles from land.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Governor, '75. President, '76.

COUNTIES.	HARRISON, D.	HARRISON, R.	TILDEN, D.	TILDEN, R.
Adams.....	3009	2477
Allgheny.....	13246	18246
Armstrong.....	3121	3605
Beaver.....	2532	3088
Bedford.....	3099	2906
Berks.....	13433	6864
Blair.....	3466	3711
Bradford.....	4265	6713
Butler.....	7825	6159
Butler.....	3891	3796
Cambria.....	3309	2325
Cameron.....	476	522
Carrington.....	2795	2597
Centre.....	3504	2097
Chester.....	5005	7015
Clarion.....	3221	2196
Clinton.....	3373	3819
Clinton.....	2983	1771
Columbia.....	3757	1643
Crawford.....	5236	6146
Cumberland.....	4309	3653
Dauphin.....	4764	6274
Delaware.....	7079	4075
Elk.....	1655	703
Erie.....	4744	6889
Essex.....	4238	3267
Fayette.....	419	397
Franklin.....	3954	4074
Fulton.....	981	684
Greene.....	2699	1517
Huntingdon.....	2295	274
Indiana.....	1795	3540
Jefferson.....	2248	1923
Junata.....	1771	1198
Lancaster.....	7351	7293
Lancaster.....	1327	2535
Lebanon.....	2698	3859
Lehigh.....	6738	4630
Luzerne.....	1115	989
Mechanicville.....	464	3488
McKean.....	976	940
Mercer.....	4267	4911
Monroe.....	1796	1346
Montgomery.....	2639	3692
Morris.....	8339	8394
Mt. Vernon.....	1322	1062
Northampton.....	7248	4394
Northumberland.....	4967	3691
Perry.....	2448	2129
Philadelphia.....	4780	6292
Pike.....	1056	454
Potter.....	1619	1283
Schuylkill.....	9537	7293
Somerset.....	1376	791
Snyder.....	1689	2889
Sullivan.....	719	336
Susquehanna.....	2931	3317
Taylor.....	1695	983
Union.....	1174	1784
Venango.....	2940	2952
Warren.....	2140	2057
Washington.....	4783	4917
Wayne.....	1735	1854
Westmoreland.....	6242	4957
Wyoming.....	1610	1357
York.....	8285	6238
Total.....	22245	30415

DEATH OF CARDINAL ANTONELLI.

A dispatch from Rome dated Nov. 6th announces the death of Cardinal Antonelli, the same dispatch reports Cardinal Constantino Patrizia, Vicar General of the Pope, dying.

Giacomo Antonelli, was born at Sarno, Italy, April 24, 1806. He was educated for the Church, and at an early age displayed marked ability. After entering the novitiate he filled in succession several important offices. In 1858 he was appointed Minister of Finance. He also held other important posts under the late Pope Gregory XVI. In 1847 he was raised to the dignity of a Cardinal Deacon by Pope Pius IX., under the title of St. Agatha. In 1858 he was Prime Minister, and after the death of Rossi, constituted the majority of the Holy Father to Gaeta, where he negotiated his return under French protection, on April 12, 1859. In 1858 an attempt was made to assassinate him. In 1867 he was made Curator ad interim of the Sacred Apostolic Palace, in 1868 he succeeded Cardinal Ugolino as Dean of the Cardinals. He protested against the withdrawal of the French in 1870, against Victor Emmanuel's success, and against every revolutionary measure. The Ecumenical Council was planned and carried out by him, and he has been credited with the enunciation of the dogma of papal infallibility. At the time of his death he was Secretary of State to the Pope, President of the Council of Ministers, Prefect of the Sacred Apostolic Palaces and of the Sacred Congregation of Loreto and of the Consistoria. He was virtually the Prime Minister of the Pope, controlling all formal and official transactions, and influencing all matters relating to the diplomatic intercourse of the Papal court with the rest of the world. He was one of the most gifted statesmen of Europe.

A DEMENTED SON SHOT DEAD BY HIS FATHER.—In the jail at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is an ignorant mountaineer named Stephen Cooper, aged 55 years, who is confined with the clearest and most complete charge of murder that was ever recorded in Dutchess county. He was not regularly committed until late on Saturday afternoon. He is a resident of the locality in the town of Dover known as Cooperstown, and was the head of a family composed of his wife and his mother, the latter 89 years of age, and a son, Stephen Cooper, Jr., aged about twenty-five. Like many other of the mountains of Dutchess county, this one was of a low, ignorant character, and the members thereof supported themselves by doing odd jobs for the farmers thereabouts and by picking berries in their season. Some time ago the son, Stephen, Jr., became partly insane, and was at times abusive to members of the household, and in other ways was very annoying. Last spring he violently assaulted a man named Duell, a prominent citizen, and was arrested and committed to the Albany Penitentiary for three months, being released on August 1, 1876. He had had several quarrels with the father, and on Monday had another, the result being death to him at the hands of the old man, who shot him on his own doorstep.

NEWS AND OTHER NOTINGS.

The Centennial buildings are to be sold at auction on December 1st.

A salmon was recently caught in the Susquehanna, near Harrisburg, weighing ten and a half pounds.

Two negroes, named Hayes and Wheeler, had a fight in Charlotte, N. C., Friday. Hayes got licked.

Pompey Graham, colored, of Walden, Orange county, New York, is 167 years old as newly as can be calculated.

A young man of Northumberland county, named Leshier, recently husked 120 bushels of corn in ten hours.

John Barr, of Wellsville, Allegheny county, recently struck his sister in a fit of anger, and in remorse shot himself.

A young man named Daniel Weidler has been arrested in Lancaster county for setting fire to four barns in one night.

Monsignor V. Vanutti, Under Secretary of State, has been appointed successor ad interim of the late Cardinal Antonelli.

She then carried off a bear. Six were recently killed in Tioga county, one of them weighing over five hundred pounds.

Will Heilman, a promising young man of Little Rock, Ark., on Friday fell sixty feet from a peach tree and was instantly killed.

All marriages of Catholics in the diocese of Baltimore, according to the decision of Archbishop Bayley, must take place in daylight.

There is a Franciscan convent and a monastery of the same order, composed entirely of Indian converts, at Cross Valley, Md.

The coal-mining town of Sugar Notch, near Wickesburg, was nearly destroyed by fire on Saturday night, the work of incendiaries.

Rev. Mr. Murphy, a Baptist preacher at Medien, Conn., has become a Roman Catholic and will soon be ordained to the priesthood.

Bishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, was recently presented with a magnificent oil painting of himself, by a few of his personal friends.

A box constrictor eight feet long was captured, forthwith in the hold of a ship that arrived at Greenock, Scotland, from the West Indies.

The number of postal cards issued during October was 23,116,000, the largest for any month since the introduction of the cards, three years ago.

George K. Hays and two sons, of 119 Congress street, Brooklyn, have been arrested, charged with an attempt to poison the husband and father.

Jacob Donaldson, of Washington county, while gathering nuts a few days ago fell from a tree, a distance of fifty feet, and escaped with only trifling injury.

Charles Stafford, of Meadville, for outraging a girl, has been sentenced to the penitentiary in Allegheny for five years and to pay $1,000 fine—the full extent.

The government has cost five millions for a trip over fifteen thousand miles.

It is now said that a young man, with a continental, and now is a millionaire.

Mr. Isaac Ray, the father of a negro-mistress, died in Kentucky last Wednesday, in the seventy-second year of his age. He lived long enough to be ashamed of his offspring.

John J. Jeffords, a young man aged about twenty years, book-keeper for McOmber & Taber, of Parker, was suddenly stricken blind while posting his books Friday afternoon.

Forty years ago the entire Catholic population of St. Louis, Mo., heard mass in a single chapel. Now it is said, there are 160,000 Catholics in St. Louis and about sixty churches and chapels.

A party of negroes broke into the residence of Mr. Hausman, near Aiken, S. C. Friday night, and murdered Mr. H. and his wife. After robbing the premises they fled. The negroes were captured, and are being tried at St. Louis.

The farmers of Wyandotte county Kansas, having been for several months annoyed by horse thieves, appointed an extermination day, hanged two of the culprits, and drove the rest out of the county.

Edward J. Bane, a second rate German boarding house in Little Rock, Ark., was destroyed by fire on Sunday. Two men—Patrick Slick and John Cooney—perished in the flames. They were both stone cutters.

A confused dog at Wallingford, Conn., last Thursday, leaped in through a large pane of glass in the folding doors of the postoffice, and almost immediately leaped back through the pane of the other door and ran away.

Henry Harney was lately arrested at Oll City charged with stealing a large quantity of coal from the Pennsylvania Transportation Company and was now under investigation by a committee of the associated pipe lines.

Mrs. Bridget Fay, a female pug-nug, climbed up the face of the Workhouse flag, a cat and rang a bell at a height of thirty or forty feet for three hours, in defiance of the Workhouse Master.

A passenger train going west on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, on Saturday afternoon, collided with a freight train near Zionsville, Indiana, and an engineer and fireman were killed and several passengers sustained slight injuries.

A Christian Convention is called to meet in Chicago this month, to which representatives of the various evangelic denominations are invited. It will be conducted by the direction of Mr. Moody and the pastors of the city.

There seems to be an opinion now that the Centennial Exhibition will be kept open for a considerable time after the 10th instant. Such a course would be of great profit to the numberless trinket sellers, engaging them to "unload" to good advantage.

The bones of a skeleton in a sitting position were recently exhumed by workmen near Salem, Massachusetts. The skull was of immense proportions. The relics were delivered over to professors, and were examined, and are puzzling their wide old heads over them.

Nine cars and a locomotive were precipitated through a bridge a distance of thirty feet on the Baltimore and Ohio road two miles east of Mountville, O., Friday night. The engineer, Wash, Hamilton, was killed, and a strange man on the engine seriously hurt.

A valuable mine of barites has been discovered near Fort Littleton, Fulton county, Pa. There are thousands of tons of this valuable mineral used annually in the United States in the manufacture of paints, and these have been supplied principally from Germany.

With the exception of the pyramid of Cheops, the spire of the Strasburg Cathedral, 464 feet in height, has hitherto been the most elevated building in the world. It has now been exceeded by the lately completed tower of the Rouen Cathedral, which is 490 feet high.

A wedding occurred a few days ago at Cojuth, Miss., in which the groom was a German Catholic, the bride an American Presbyterian, the attendant a Baptist, the clergyman an Episcopalian, and the ceremony was performed in a Methodist church by a mixed assembly.

The Philadelphia Item of Sunday morning contained a lengthy account of an imaginary robbery of the Main building of the Centennial. The article gave the most minute details of the "robbery," and stated that $30,000,000 worth of goods had been stolen. Upon reading the account through it was found to be a gigantic joke gotten up to make the paper "take."

It is proposed to introduce... cards as being more easy to... original invented for the... suit in blue, black and red... to red hearts, green diamonds... and yellow clubs... do a little fast traveling last... to keep his engagements in... to St. Louis. After filling his... train for the West, and in two... six minutes he overtook the... 96 miles from Pittsburgh.

General Giles A. Smith, dis... of the late war and... at Bloomington, Illinois, yet... served with distinction at the... Forts Henry and Donelson, at the... with, Shiloh and on other... Sheridan, and was wounded at... A dreadful accident occur... of Gibson, Illinois, and... were unbiting a double... at the leaders and Myers at... bolt of lightning struck Simon... horses, killing them instantly... the fourth horse were only slightl... entitled to a place among the... of the world. A few weeks... while in the act of going... her husband, and led the anim... the dying man into an... She then carried off a bear... in her arms, but he died... About midnight on Saturday... married German named... aged about 34 years, and... laborer by a Democratic farmer... Simon Cameron, reading an... Catholic and will soon be ord... ter county, was attacked on... Marietta, by three or four... drels and beaten almost insens... —A vessel sailed from... there, laden with Canadian... tures, mostly wood and iron, and... furniture, farm implements... engines and many articles of... which have already been... Australia. The shipment is... to be the pioneer of an extensive... which arrangements have alread... made.

The Philadelphia Export... the... master has given such a... number on it and keeps an... books to correspond, so now... comes the Pole takes his... to exchange tickets for their... money.

A gentleman named Jose... Harrisburg on Friday from... in search of his wife and daughter... five years, and found them... wife eloped, Mr. Jones had... home. The young girl... chimney to put it out, when it... and burning it in a horrible... Ellis and a son five years old... badly burned in trying to extinguish... flames. The young girl... —Seth Green, the fish... years ago put some shad by... flowing into Lake Ontario, and... that he would pay $25 for the... taken from the lake weighing... two and one-half pounds. A... man, living at St. Paul, Pa.,... a shad in the lake a few days... four pounds, and has proposed... Green along with the former... —One of the most wonderful... world is Bankok, the capital of... center was the prevailing... mused in regular spins and... tossed as far as the eye can... upward of 70,000 feet into the... one floating on a compact raft of... and this whole intermediate space... and is even dense mass of... boats of every conceivable shape... size.

A Mr. Stuvard, with all... children were murdered in their... the house burned to conceal the... Woodville, Miss., Wednesday... Brewer was of the prevailing... were captured, one hanged and... shot in attempting to escape. ... ored citizens assisted in the... were with great difficulty... throwing the prisoners into the... cells.

Etienne Galadin, now living... his county, Ohio, was born in... Canadian hamlet between the... and Montmorency rivers, below... The great battle between his... English was fought near his father... and, although then only six... a perfect soldier. In 1790... ped first near the Niagara r... twice wounded in the battle... Lane during the war of 1812.

The Catholic Church in the... met with a severe loss in the death... Don Gabriel Bergier, who was... vannah of the prevailing... Brewer was of the prevailing... and the Superior of the... Order, and was a truly pious and... priest, fully alive to the inter... order, and by his courage and... so far completed his arrangements... have made his monastery almost... He offered his life a sacrifice for...

During the progress of a fire... not long ago, two boys who were... it from a cliff, lost their... fell over. One of them was... small tree, and during the... trouble, however, for the other... tumbled the whole distance to the... about two hundred feet, was pick... injured. Probably neither... will get near the edge of high... soon again.

A substitute for gunpowder... invented in England, in the shape... impregnated with a chemical... of chlorate of potash, nitrate of... and chromate of potash, contain... little charcoal and timber in the... rolled around, and these latter... trees for cartridges. The advan... ed are that no danger of explosion... except from actual contact with... interior of the arm is not... and less rebound is made... powder, and less damage... humidity, and the latter has been... of the new material.

The biggest tree in California... the Yosemite Valley. George H... in Fresno county is 5,000 feet... sea, and its walls, which are... feet high, are very... of colossal... a new discovery. One of... ecipices all that have been... the Pacific coast. Its circumference... high as a man can reach, and... line around, is a few inches... This is beyond all... of the world. A California... light is estimated at 160 feet... of the top lying on the ground is... feet in length.