The mother of the little unfortunate went to a neighbor's for a bucket of water, leaving the child in front of the stove sewing a muslin patch, and when she returned she found nothing but the charred remains of her darling child. How the sad accident occured is only a matter of conjecture, but the presumption is that the little one opened the stove door with the piece of musiin and that it caught fire and communicated the flames to her clothing with the terrible result stated. A younger child, a mere infant, was sitting on a table crying bitterly when the mother re-entered the house, and the Detectives in Chicago are on the lookout. -This seems to be rather an unhealthy season for the Rager family, no less than six of that name having of late got themselves into rather unenviable positions. The first of them, John Rager, we need scarcely remind our readers, went into the affidavit business with very poor success just before the recent election, two others of the name, Charles Rager and one of the Misses Rager, have fallen victims to the viles of a sharper named King, the probabilities being, however, that the lady in question is not a very ght to use Dichl's smoke consumer innocent victim, the fourth on the list, Jordan S. Rager, has just been tried and found guilty of burglary, the fifth one, Thomas S. oris in Johnstown. We Rager, of Jackson township, was brought to jail here on Wednesday night last on a charge of fornication and bastardy, while the sixth and last, a consin of the defeadant, Miss Mary Ann Rager, appears as prosecu trix in the case. The Ragers, it would seem from this, have struck rather a bad streak. -John King is the name of an individual who will be called upon when arrested, if he ever should be, to answer the double charge of bigamy and swindling, he not only having entered into the bonds of matrimony with a certain Miss Rager, of Jackson township, this county, while his own lawful wife was still in the full vigor of womanhood, but having also obtained a watch from Mr. Charles Rager, of Conemaugh township, by representing that he had money in a Johnstown bank which he intended to draw out on Saturday last, at which time he promised to meet Mr. Rager in that place and make it all right. This he failed to do, however, owing to the fact that he had in the meantime found it convenient, if not absolutely necessary in order to avoid trouble, by betaking himself to other scenes. An information charging him with the offence was nevertheless made before Esq. Strayer on the same day by Mr. Rager, which charge was preceded on the day previous by that of bigamy preferred before Esq. Custer, of Jackson township, by King's own wife who supplemented the proceedings on the day following by bringing a like suit before the same official against Miss Rager, who, the Johnstown Tribune alleges, has no better excuse to offer for her conduct than that King had told her"he never married that other woman, but only picked her up in Pittsburgh, and ", and anticipating as it were | was merely living with her." -Five tramps were passing up Main street, Johnstown, about dusk on Saturday evening last, when two of the party grabbed each a pair of boots hanging in front of Dibert's store, after which they and their associates started on a full run in the direction of Clinton street, and when opposite the clothing store of Judge Barnes another of the party grabbed a coat from the rack out-side and made off with it also. They had not gone far, however, before three of them with the stolen articles in their possession were overhauled and eventually consigned to the care of Chief-Police Harris, who took them to the lock-up, where the other two eventually appeared and virtually gave themselves up-the evident, may, the expressed purpose, of some of the party in committing the thefts to secure lodgings for the winter, they all alleging that they would rather be inside the walls of a comfortable prison than to be tramping the country at this inclement season of the year. -Some six months or more ago a heartless wretch in female form came to this place with an infant in her arms, for whom she expressed a desire to secure a home in some respectable family, alleging as a reason that her husband was kept very busy (what at we believed she failed to tell) and that she, being obliged to assist him in his work, was unable to give her child the attention required. She was directed to the residence of a young married lady living in Cambria township to whom she proposed to pay ten dollars a month if she would take charge of the infant and keep it until called for. This proposition was willingly accepted, the heartless mother, if mother she be, paying five dollars in hand and stipulating to send the amount agreed upon at regular intervals every month. She then took her departure and has not only remained away ever since, but the poor woman who was so badly imposed upon has not heard a word or received a dollar from that day to this. That is not all, nowever, nor by any means the worst, as our readers will readily admit when we assure them that within a week or two the discovery has been made that the little waif is totally blind, and there is also said to be good reason to fear that it is idiotic as well. A clearer case than this of heartless desertion on one side and of confiding innocence on the other has never came to our knowledge, and we sincerely hope that the inhuman wretch who committed this ignoble act may yet be made to feel the penalty which she so richly deserves.

USE YOURSELF WELL .-- The sufferings of the chronic invalid are of such varied kinds as to enlist the sympathy of every one who loves his fellow-man. A month's good treatment, however, such as is given by Dr. Keyser, of Pittsburgh, will do more to cure than whole years of complainings, especially as the doctor has investigated and treated chronic ailments for over thirty years. Dr. Keyser is the only man in Pennsylvania who has given the subject of consumption a thorough and complete investigation to any practical purpose, and it may be said of him. that when that disease can be cured, he can cure it. One of the great means of cure which he uses, is a discovery called DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, which cleans out the blood, renews the tissues, makes the ulcers in the lungs heal, and furnishes the blood with plastic material to renew the powers of life.
