A New York come pondent of the Chicago Tribune writ s as follows in regard to certain tests he has made of General Pleasanton's blue-glass cure:

"A lady of my family, about six weeks ago, had a violent hemorrhage of the lungs, and for ten days raised more or less blood daily. She was very much weakened by the loss of blood, and considerably frightened withal, i obtained some blue glass and placed it in the window where she was in the habit of sitting, the blue glass constituting one-half of the lower sa h of the window. The lady sat daily in the associated lights, allowing the blue rays especially to fall upon the nerves of the back of the neck for about an felt a peculiar sensation in the back of rensation were off next day, and since then she has not remained so long at it a time under the blue glass.

"But from the first she began to grow stronger, her face soon gained its natural fullness, and in a week she was, to all appearances, as well as ever. Of course she was not cured of the trouble in her lungs in so short a time, but the soreness in her chest has passed away, and she begins to feel well again. After sitting in the associated light for a week, a large number of red pumples came out on her neck and shoulders, an indication that the treatment was bringing out to the surface the humors of the blood. In a letter to me Gen., Pleasanton says: 'I am satisfied that if this treatment shall be continued through the winter and spring any tuberculous development that may exist in the lungs will be arrested, its pas absorbed into the circulation, and pas absorbed into the circulation, and the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever then thrown off from the blood in the published."—Haston Hardd. "Hope nestled in the bottom of Pandora's box. the tubercles will be cicatrized and the lady restored to a condition of good health. 'In the same letter General Pleasanton relates an agreeable incident which occurred to him but a few weeks since. A lady and her daughter called to see him, and announced that they had come from Corning, N. Y., to Phila., for the express purpose of thanking him for saving the daughter's life. Four years ago she was afflicted with a violent attack of spinal meningitis. had been resorted to during these four years, but the patient received no ben efit. Her nervous system at last became so disordered that the slightest sound or the most gentle agitation of the air threw her into the most agonizing suffering. She was wasted away in flesh, she could not sleep at night, had no appetite, and her life was des paired of. Hearing of General Pleasanton's discovery in associated lights, her parents determined to try it. A bay window was fitted with alternate I lates of blue and plain glass, and the young lady sat daily in the light which streamed through them. Her physicians, of course, laughed at the idea, pronounced the whole thing a humbug, etc., as is the habit of professional gentlemen whenever any new idea is bronched. The physician was dismissed, and the young lady relied entirely upon the blue glass treatment for her restoration to health. The lady says that upon entering the room thus lighted the pains from which she was suffering almost immediately ceased, then would return in a modified form on leaving the room, but grew less from day to day. Very soon her condition legan to improve, her appetite returned, and with it her strength. The began to gain flesh, her sleeplessness disappeared, and, in short, she was speedily restored to health.

"A singular feature of this young lady's case, was that her hair came out and she became as bald as an egg. Her physician examined the scalp with a microscope, and declared that there were no roots of hair remaining, and that, consequently, she would never again have a natural head of hair. Under the blue-glass treatment, however, the hair did begin to grow, the young lady discarded her wig. and when she called upon General Pleasanton she showed him a luxuriant growth of bair, which any young Luly might envy."

A PUTTY REMEDY FOR BADLY FIT-TING Doors .- When blinds and doors do not close snugly, but leave cracks through which draughts enter, the simplest remedy, recommended by the Building Commissioner in Dresden, Germany, Mr. Shnetse, is this: Place a strip of putty all along the jambs, e wer the edge of the blind or door with chalk, and shut it. The putty will then fill all spaces which would remain open and be pressed where it is not needed, while the excess is removed with a knife. The chalk rub bed on the edges prevents adhesion, Pure Spices, &c. and the putty is left in place, where it soon dries and leaves a perfectly fitt-

of this valuable Hair Preparation: which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kent fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preptration for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all scuptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use the hair grows thicker and stronge: a baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, s it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

And other valuable preparations, entered upon his professional career with the important ad-vant ge of a regular Medical Education in one of the oldest and best schools in Philadelphia vant ge of a regular Medical Education to the oldest and best schools in Philadeiphia and perhaps in the world. He subsequently served a furthful term of practice in the Philadeiphia Dispensary, and for many years attended also in the Hospital. In these institutions he enjoyed the most ample opport: these of obtaining an insight into diseases in a their various forms as well as for ascertaining the best methods of their treatment. In offering, therefore, to the people of the United States the fruits of his extensive professional experience in the medical compounds as the best results of his skill and observation, that he feels that he is but proffering a boon to every family throughout the land, resting, as he does, confidently, in the merits and efficacious virtues of the remedies he herewith commends. The vast amount of testimony from all parts of the world has proven "Dr. Swayne's Compound of Wild Cherry" the most efficacious remedy known, and it is admitted by our most eminent physicians, and all who have witnessed its wonderful healing proporties. The Wild Cherry, in all ages of the world and in all countries where it is known, and the state metalle and other test for its wonderful vorid and in all countries where it is known, has been justly celebrated for its wonderful medical qualities, but its great power to cure some of the worst and most distressing diseases among us, was never fully ascertained until the experiments of that skillful physician. Dr. Swayne, had demonstrated its high adaptation, in combination with Pine Tree Tar and other equally valuable vegetable ingredients, which, elemically combined, renders a section tenfold more certain and benefich i in curing all uses of the throat, breast and lungs. Swayne's Wild Cherry Compound strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and knineys to healthy actions, in-vigorating the nervous and shattered constitu-It does so without prostratin or weakening the body in any way. A REMARKABLE CURE. ABRARAM HUNSICKER, two miles from Skippackville, Montgomery county, Pa., contracted a serious cold, which settled upon his imags, with a violent cough, pains in side and breast, and short breath. The symptoms became very alarming; an abscess formed in the lungs and made its way through the side, and discharged large quantities of pus externally, so that his physician thought that the power or functions of one of his lungs was totally destroyed, and therefore supposed the case entirely hopeless. This mournful state of things continued for a ong time, until he was wasted and worn to a keleton. He was advised to make use of Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and through its use was restored to health.

In every section of the country there are persons who have been cured of consumption, in its several stages, by the use of Dr. Swayne's Medicine. Many have been restored to health after being confined to their beds, reduced to mere skeletons, and troubled with cough, night sweats, heetic fever, and all other indications of an advanced stage of disease. It is true that in all cases where cures are affected the patient ist have some lungs remaining, but thous-

This is indeed a cabable book one that

This is indeed a valuable book, one that will give all our people proper ideas of the growth and character of our nation and its free institutions.

From the first voyage of the Northmen to be coasts of Labrador and Massachusetts, to the opening of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia; from the birth of Columbus to the admission of Colorado as the Centennial State, the stream of narration flows on in a smooth current, with fitting combients and sufficient explanation, every page enlivened by genius and glowing with an ardent pa-

Here is the whole history and character of one of our most noted pioneers, gathered from his autobiography and half a dozen other works, but condensed to one brief pithy paragraph:

"The new president, though not yet thirry years of ago, was a veteran in every kind of valuable human experience. Born an Englishman; trained as a soldier in the wars of Holland; a traveler in France, Italy and Egypt; again a soldier in Hunzary; captured by the Ferks and sold as a slave; sent from Constantineple to a prison in the Crimea; killing a taskmaster who beat him, and then escaping through the woods of Russia to Weftern Enrope; going with an army of adventurers against Morocco; limily returning to England and joining the London Company—he was now called upon by the very enemies who had persecuted and ill-treated him, to rescue them and their colony from destruction. A strange and wonderful career! John Smith was altogether the mest acted man in the early history of America." pithy paragraph:

An ardent patriotism vivifies every page. Particularly does this appear in his closing review, which is an admirable summary of the present condition and prospects of the United Statet.

"The visions and dreams of the Revolutionary patriots have been eclipsed by the luster of actual accomplishment. The territorial domains of the Republic enclose the grandes, belt of forest, valley, and plain that the world has in it. Since the beginning of time no other people have possessed such a territory—so rich in resources, so varied in products, so magnificent in physical aspect. Soil and climate, the distribution of woods and lakes and rivers, the interposition of mondain ranges, and the ferinterposition of mountain ranges, and the fer-tility of valley and prarie, here contribute to give to man a many-sided and powerful devel-opment. Here he finds bays for his shipping, rivers for his steamers, fields for his plow, iron for his forge, gold for his cupidity, bandscapes for his pencil, sunshine enough for sorg, and snow enough for courage. Nor has the Anglo-American fatied to profit by the advantages of his surroundings. He has planted a free government on the largest and most liberal scale known in history. He has esponsed the cause of liberty and right. He has fought like a be-for the freedom and equality of all men. He has projected a civilization which, though as yet but dimly traced in outline, is the vastest and grandest in the world. Better than all he believes in the times to come. So long as a man is anxious about the future, the future is secure. Only when he falls into apathy, sleeps at his post, and cares no longer for the morrow, is the world in danger of relapse and barbarism

While the great ability displayed in the text calls for our chief admiration, it is by no means the only merit of the book. There is also an objective presentation of the subject by a series of colored Chronological charts-which show at a glance what men and events were contemporary. Upwards of fifty topographical diagrams show the vicinity of every battle and important event; and a series of excellently drawn and colored maps show the political divisions of the country, from time to time. These maps are only geographical but civil and historical. The publishers have, in the make-up of the county, Pa., says: I have made use of Dr. The publishers have, in the make-up of the Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for many years, and it always proves effectual in art of book making has attained. It is an art of book making has attained. It is an its low price brings it within the reach of all it should be read and studied by every citizen who would be informed of the history and greatness of his country and his duties towards it.

> THE GREAT EXPOSITION. - We have recrived from the publishers, Messrs. Hubbard Bros., of Philadelphia, advance sheets of a terest every American. It is entitled "THE CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION DESCRIBED AND ILLUSTRATED," and is a complete history and pictorial representation of this grandest world's fair the world has ever known.

The exhibits of the various nations are taken up in the order of their prominence. commencing with the UNITED STATES, the most notable and characteristic of whose exhibits are carefully noticed, whether in the MAIN BUILDING, MACHINERY HALL, AG-RICULTURAL HALL, GOVERNMENT BUILD ING, MEMORIAL HALL, or in the numerous smaller structures erected all through the grounds by American exhibitors. In the same manner is treated Great Britian and her Colonies, Germany, France, Russia and Brazil, minor European states, South American republics, Africa, Asia, so that nothing that is of striking and prominent interest is Snitable space is devoted to a description of the different State Buildings, and of the interesting ceremonies of the great State days, celebrating the individual prosperity the original thirteen States, and also of the MEMORABLE PARADES AND ANNIVER-SARIES which have been held in Philadelphia by the different organizations, societies &c., in honor of the Centennial commemoration of our national independence.

An interesting account is given of the remarkable LIVE STOCK EXHIBITION; Biographies of the prominent Officials who have conducted this great enterprise with distinguished ability; particulars of the Awards granted to the Exhibitors; the superb and enduring Medals commemorative thereof; and to complete this memorial volume, a graphic delineation of the imposing closing ceremonies of the Exhibition.

It has been prepared from material gathered on the grounds, by the most careful, patient, and laborous research, and from official sources, and though it does not claim, as some do, to be by official authority, it commands confidence thereby, Gen. Hawley announced that no book has any right to such a claim.

But the interest and value of the book lie largely in its profuse and brilliant illustrations. In this multitude of finely executed engravings, the main features of the Exhibition are vividly impressed on the mind of the reader in a way that words cannot do. It is next thing to seeing the great World's Fair itself. We advise our readers to examine the book carefully should they have an opportunity. We presume the publishers want agents in this vicinity, and we hope some of our energetic young men will improve what seems to us an extraordinary opportunity to favor our citizens and profit handsomely by it.
