THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

Ebensburg, Pa.,

FRIDAY, - - MARCH 2, 1877.

DEATH OF MISS LIZZIE G. EASLY.

It was sentiments of sincere sorrow we record the death of the excellent young lady above named, which sad though not unexpected event took place at the residence of her father, Hon. David Easly, in Johnstown, about six o'clock on Friday evening last. The deceased, who fell a victim to that remorseless destroyer, consumption, was a sister of C. W. Easly, Esq., local editor of the Johnstown Tribune, and of Jas. C. Easly, Esq., of Carrolltown, and was also closely related by marriage to the editor of this paper. She was of course human and therefore imperfect, but it may with truth be said of her that she was kind hearted, amiable and affectionate in an eminent degree, and that her sphere in life was bounds except those which her position in life placed upon it. More than that, she was the life of the household and the light of a spirit which kept her alive long after Death had marked her for his own. Faithful in the discharge of the duties she owed to God and humanity, and blessed as she was with abundant time to prepare for the long journey before her, in which she was powerfully aided by the heartfelt prayers and the fervent and sympathizing friends, it is not presuming too much to believe that she has found favor in the sight of God, and that her entrance upon the shores of eternity if not immediate is at least assured. Her funeral, which was one of the largest ever witnessed in Johnstown, took place on Monday morning last, and after a solemn requiem mass for the repose of her soul and a deeply touching and impressive sermon from her pastor, Rev. Father Gallagher, all that was mortal of the good and gentle Libbie Easly was consigned to its last earthly tenement in St. Columbkille cemetery in Conemaugh borough, there to rest in the ashes and eternal rest to the immortal soul of her whose sufferings and death coupled with the interpositions of one dear to her as well as near to her in the great Creator of us all, has we trust, secure for her the never-fading crown of blissful immortality.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Here, There, and the Other Place.

-Fort Evan now contains twenty-nine federated inmates.

-There is a probability that the office of Jury Commissioner will be abolished.

-The Lutheran church in Hollidaysburg has thirty-one to its membership on Sunday last.

-T. Blair Patton, the newly appointed Postmaster of Altoona, has taken charge of the office.

-The Peerless Plug and Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco should be found in every store in the country (Pittsburgh).

-There is not a miner in the country who does not prefer W. & D. Rinehart's No. 1 Plug Cut Smoking Tobacco (Pittsburgh).

-Judge Bradley, of electoral commission fame, received several votes for constable in Hollidaysburg at the late municipal election in that borough.

-Stop that coughing; if you do not it may kill you. A bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup only costs you 25 cents, and its timely use may save your life.

-Two or three inches of snow fell in this county on Saturday night last, and for several days sleighing and sledding was tipped and largely indulged in.

-Wherever you see Iron Works, Coal Mines &c., you will find the Long Cut Smoking Tobacco of W. & D. Rinehart, Pittsburgh, the most popular.

-The two wolves recently seen near Miller's mill, a mile or so from this place, believed to have gone back to their old haunts in Blacklick township.

-A man living on Mosquito creek, Clearfield county, has twelve dear in a pen, several of which are badly torn by the dogs while he used in running them down.

-Show me the man who has not used W. & D. Rinehart's Peerless Plug or Fine Cut Smoking Tobacco, and I'll show you one whose education has been sadly neglected.

-Ask your grocer, or your merchant, for Peerless Plug and Fine Cut Smoking Tobacco, manufactured by W. & D. Rinehart, Pittsburgh, best in the United States.

-Chicken fat is said to be a sure cure for consumption. However that may be, we are willing able to prove that a fat chicken is a sovereign remedy for an empty stomach.

-A Western relative, recently deceased, remembered Jesse B. W. Ickes, of Altoona, to the tune of $1,000. Would that he had a few hundred relatives of that kind.

-The case of Luke Platt, of Susquehanna township, this county, who is charged with passing counterfeit money, has been continued until the next term of the U. S. District Court.

-Elmer Geesey, of Altoona, was arrested early last morning for adultery, his wife being the complainant. The accused was found in bed with a frail fair one at a house on Ninth street.

-Peter Boylan, of Cambria borough, is a very mad boiler over with indignation at an obstreperous mule which kicked him in the abdomen the Wednesday forenoon and left a very sore and very painful wound.

-Col. Jas. F. Milliken has not resigned the District Attorneyship of Blair county at all, nor does he intend doing so unless he should, as he contemplates, remove to Philadelphia.

-Dr. Hoffman, surgeon dentist of this place, will be in Wilmore on Saturday of next week, March 10th. Persons in that vicinity needing his professional services will do well to consult him on the above occasion.

-A large number of pine, cherry, ash and oak logs are now being delivered at the saw mill of Messrs. Garman & Wilson, in this place, by Philip McDonald, Barle, John Hileman, Joseph Brown and others in this vicinity.

-Several young men of this vicinity "let" themselves and bound on Tuesday morning last to go to Iowa to work. Two or three of them intend their destination is said to be Iowa started for that, but, probably do not propose to go very far in that way.

-Rumor has it that Mr. James Campbell, one of the editor of the Johnstown Voice and Echo, contemplates establishing a weekly paper at Houtzdale Clearfield county on the first of April next. If so he certainly has our best wishes for success.

-Fred. Sherbert, who lives on the Brush mountain, near Hollidaysburg, has been arrested and held to bail for refusing to support his wife, who is in delicate health and from whom she was forced to leave and go home to her father in order to keep from starving.

-There seems to be no doubt after all that the assessors and constables chosen at the late election will have to stand back and see their predecessors fill the offices for another year. At least that is all that can be made out of Attorney General Lear's decision on the subject.

-We are sorry to learn of the death on Wednesday evening last of a little daughter of our esteemed friend and earnest patron, Dan. Kearney, of Altoona, a gentleman well known and greatly appreciated as a popular conductor on the western division of the Pa. R. R.

-Quite a crowd gathered in Altoona yesterday morning to get a peep at his Excellency, Returning Board Hayes, who was expected to pass through that city on his way to Washington, but the great receiver of stolen goods was not on the train, the Fast Line, and of course could not be seen by the gaping multitude.

-Mrs. King, relict of Dr. A. T. King, deceased, a lady aged about 60 years, was so severely burned at her home in Greensburg, a few mornings ago, by fire accidentally communicated to her clothing while engaged in putting coal into the cooking stove, that she died in great agony about eight o'clock the same evening.

-A young physician of Livermore, Westmoreland county, betook himself to other climes on Saturday last, leaving a wife and child behind him and as is supposed, taking a young lady of Allegheny City with him. The elopement has very naturally created no little excitement in the neighborhood in which it occurred.

-The difference between a McPike and a pickerel pike is of course apparent to all, but when we found a relative James A. McPike in Pittsburgh the other day who happily married some years ago to a lady named McAdams we could not help coming to the conclusion that a McAdams-McPike at least was the result.

-Wm. D. Fettinger, son of our old and esteemed friend Henry Fettinger, died of consumption, at the residence of his father in Altoona, on Friday last, aged about thirty years. The deceased was the original first newsboy on the Pennsylvania railroad.

-Miss Lillie Arnold, of Lancaster, has been appointed to take charge of the school in this place which was until recently taught by Mrs. Jane Clark, who is at present in Philadelphia undergoing a surgical operation for cure of cancer in the side, with which she has long been afflicted.

-Not being able to send us the post-office, Hon. Wm. A. Wallace has done the best he could by sending us a small mail-bag filled with valuable public documents, for which he will please accept our sincere thanks, as will also, we trust, Hon. John Reilly, who has very kindly, very acceptably and very frequently remembered us in the same way.

-Col. E. B. M'Crum, of the Mifflintown Tribune, formerly of the Altoona Tribune, was married, or was to be married, on Wednesday last to a lady named Frow. This is the Colonel's third venture matrimonial, or as the Altoona Mirror facetiously remarks, his third frow, but if it was his twenty-third we could not wish him better luck than we do on this occasion.

-Temperance meetings have been held attentively in the Presbyterian and Congregational churches in this place during several evenings of the present week, and efforts, with fair prospects for success, are now making to secure the presence here in the near future of several recognized ladies in the great temperance revival now agitating the country, as also, if possible, the renowned Francis Murphy himself.

-Four or five tramps paid a visit of condolence on Tuesday last to the eleven tramps confined in our county jail, whom they supplied liberally with tobacco. It is not at all probable that the visiting party was acquainted with any of their breathren in durance vile here, but the presumption is that an organization exists among the fraternity which requires them to extend aid and comfort to each other while in distress.

-Johnstown has a case of small pox, a little daughter of Mr. John W. Logan, the marble manufacturer, being the victim. Two children in the family of Mr. Gouden, of New Germany, Croyle township, are also said to be afflicted with the loathsome disease, which it is alleged was brought from Pittsburgh either in the clothing of the gentleman or his son, who it will be remembered died in that city a few weeks ago from the effects of this terrible scourge.

-We are under obligations to Mr. Jesse S. Bolsinger, librarian in charge, for a ticket which entitles us to the free reading for a twelvemonth to come of all books comprised in the fine library of the Dauntless Fire Company of this place, and for which privilege the remarkable low price of one dollar per year is all that is now charged any one who has the good taste and desire to take advantage of the facilities thus afforded. Library open every Friday evening from 6½ to 7½ o'clock.

-Mr. George Huntley, of this place, who is often mistaken for ourself, and vice versa, was met the other day by a gentleman from the north of the county and congratulated in our name on the fact that all the Democrats in that section were red-hot for him as the next candidate for County Treasurer, which Mr. H. was of course highly gratified to hear. We trust the gentleman knew whereof he affirmed, and as for ourself we will see to it that there is no mistake about our identity when the proper time comes.

-John Wagner, Esq., of Cheat Springs, has instituted proceedings against the Auditors of that borough for failing during the past two years or more to publish a statement of the financial condition of said municipality, and a hearing in the case is to be had at Gallitzin to-morrow forenoon. There is little doubt but what the recusant Auditors will have to pay pretty dear for their whistle, and all other parties interested will do well to take heed in the future and not permit themselves to be caught napping in like manner.

-Friends from the farms, friends from the villages, friends from the cross-roads, and friends from everywhere and everywhere else, are all invited to call and purchase made-up wearing apparel at the great clothing bazaar of Godfrey Wolff, next door to the post-office, Altoona, where, our word for it, can at all times be found a stock unsurpassed for quantity, unexcelled in quality and unequalled for cheapness. No one who buys from Mr. Wolff will never have reason to believe that his money has not been put where it did most good for himself.

-We can scarcely impute to ignorance the assertion put forth by the Johnstown Tribune that an effort will be made to have a special train run from Cresson to this place on Monday morning next for the accommodation of parties coming to Court and in order to avoid a three hours' wait at the former place, for it is a fact patent to all that since June last such a train has invariably been run on Monday morning of each week of Court, and will no doubt continue to be run for all time to come without any effort being made in that direction by outside parties.

-John G. Hassinger, of Johnstown, and two lads named John and James Hassen, of Conemaugh borough, were brought here on Tuesday night last and lodged in jail. The former is charged with appropriating to his own use eighty-six dollars and some cents belonging to a secret society of which he was treasurer, and then betaking himself to Pleasantville, Bedford county, where he was subsequently arrested, and the two latter await trial for the alleged beating and robbing of another lad named Edward Slick, from whom they stole a fifty cent silver piece and ten cents in currency.

-Here is good advice well worth following: Keep the money in circulation. Don't salt it away. Pay your debts as fast as you can. Encourage home industry and enterprise and buy all your goods from home merchants, which of course includes Messrs. Myers & Lloyd, who well deserve the consideration and custom of the entire community, because they make it a point to please all with the style and quality of the commodities sold by them and to profit by the very low prices at which they dispose of everything in their line, comprising all needful articles in the way of dry goods, clothing, notions, groceries, etc.

-The Murphy movement which is just now taking Johnstown somewhat by storm is quite a different thing from the Murphy movement which has been going on in that city for many years, and of which Jas. J. Murphy of Star Clothing Hall, is the head centre and acknowledged leader. The latter movement, as our readers well understand, relates exclusively to the constant going in and coming out of customers at the popular clothing establishment above named, where no one has ever yet failed and no one ever will fail to get full value for his money in the way of good clothing and the best of furnishing goods. Let this Murphy movement at least go on, whatever may be the fate of the new departure.

-About the hour of noon on Wednesday of last week the dwelling house of John H. Hileman, Esq., of Frankstown township, Blair county, caught fire from a defective flue, and was not only totally destroyed, but sparks from the building set fire to the barn and other outbuildings which were also burned to the ground with nearly all they contained. The loss is estimated at $4,000, on which there was no insurance. Mr. Hileman, who is one of the commissioners of Blair county, and, as some of our readers may be interested in learning, a brother of Mrs. Thos. Hartsock, of Johnstown, was absent from home at the time of the fire, and when his neighbors reached the scene it was too late with the appliances at hand to save any of the property.

-'Squire Lingenfelter has explained to the Hollidaysburg Standard that wonderful Greenfield township hog story which originally appeared in the Register. The tree was cut down on the evening of a certain day. It was a very large tree and a very hollow one. Here and there, scattered through the trunk, seemed to be an acorn. At any rate a wandering hog came along and found his way into the tree until he had worked himself some seventy feet from the butt. Here he stuck fast, and as he couldn't turn around and hadn't sense enough to back out, he just remained where he was until the choppers returned and extricated him from his close fitting quarters. And thus a seemingly wonderful tale takes its proper place in the ranks of the commonplace.

Communications.

WILMORE, Feb. 28, 1877.

MR. EDITOR—In your last issue I find a communication from A. J. Rhey in which he misrepresents facts in reference to the Auditors' report of the receipts and expenditures of the county, and by false deductions seeks to make the public believe that the Auditors have endorsed the squandering of the public funds. Mr. Rhey claims that our predecessors made an over allowance to Mr. Criste, and that we have followed in their footsteps by giving Mr. Freidhoff an over allowance. We shall see how that is.

Mr. Henry's bill entitled "An Act for the collection of taxes in Cambria county" enumerates the following on which said taxes are to be levied, viz: "Seated real estate and personal property," and section 9 (I think that is the one) reads as follows: "The Treasurer shall be entitled to 5 per centum on all taxes collected and paid out under this act." Now this question arose, did this act include unseated land taxes? Mr. Freidhoff and his counsel, Geo. W. Oatman, Esq., maintained that it did, while the Commissioners and their counsel, W. H. Sechler, Esq., took an opposite view. As but two of the Commissioners were present at the time, Mr. Cambell was telegraphed for in order to have a full board in attendance. The arguments on both sides were then heard, but as their views were diametrically opposed to each other it was agreed to allow the Treasurer 3 per cent. on all unseated land taxes collected and paid out by him, and at the next term of Court to present the case to Judge Dean and see what decision he would give in the matter, and if any wrong had been done to have it corrected at the next settlement. This proposition was accepted. The next question was what portion of said taxes had been paid out by him, and after a careful examination of the books it was found that road and school taxes were the only ones paid out of this fund, Mr Sechler concurring in that opinion. The Treasurer was therefore allowed a commission of 3 per cent. on $3,954.35, the amount that he had paid School Treasurers and Supervisors. This was all of the unseated land taxes paid out by him, the balance still remaining in his hands awaiting a legal decision. But Mr. Rhey would make it appear that he had or should have paid out the entire amount, $8,859.22, and to this fund he would add the taxes collected on seated lands (which come clearly under the head of seated real estate mentioned in Mr. Henry's bill), together with amounts received from constables, which also comes under said bill, for it provides that all taxes remaining unpaid after a certain period shall be put in the hands of constables for collection, whereupon said amounts are collected under the act aforesaid. It also provides that the Treasurer shall receive 5 per cent. on all taxes collected and paid out under this act, and no board of Auditors or Commissioners can deprive him of it. And when Mr. Rhey tries to make it appear that the Treasurer has received the entire amount of unseated land taxes collected by him when more than half of it still remains in his hands and that seated land taxes and amounts received from constable should be classed under the same head, and that he (the Treasurer) should receive a commission of only 3 per cent. on the two latter amounts, when the law plainly says he shall receive 5 per cent. he states what he knows to be a falsehood.

With regard to exonerations, commissions, etc., to constables, which he speaks so glowingly of the Treasurer is required when he puts these taxes in the hands of constables for collections to furnish duplicates, which even is a considerable sum and requires a great deal of time and labor to make out said duplicates, besides requiring several entries which would not have to be made had the taxes been paid at the proper time; and he claimed that it was simply an act of justice that he should be allowed a commission for the same. I referred the matter to the Commissioners and they unanimously agreed that he should receive it. With regard to the county bonds the Auditors have no control whatever over them and the Commissioners did what they considered for the welfare of the county—they redeemed over eight thousand dollars worth last year and the balance will be redeemed the early part of the present year; and I will venture to say few counties in the State can show so good a record financially as Cambria.

Mr. Rhey also asserts that Mr. Criste received an over allowance, but does not pretend to show how or in what manner it was done. In the present case he presents an array of false figures to bolster up his assertions, but in Mr. Christe's case he has none whatever. I am perfectly willing for the books to be examined.

The trouble with Mr. Rhey, if we are to believe his own words, is simply this, when he was Treasurer he came out six thousand dollars behind, while Mr. Christe by being economical was enabled to purchase a farm. If Mr. Rhey was a defaulter that is no reason why Mr. Criste or Mr. Freidhoff should follow in his footsteps;

In conclusion permit me to say that the board of Auditors endeavored to do their duty honestly and faithfully and to gain all necessary information from able counsel, in accordance with which they acted,

F. P. MCCORMICK

FEBRUARY 26, 1877.

DEAR FREEMAN—In last weeks issue appears an article from A. J. Rhey correcting somewhat the County Auditors' settlement, which article prompted me to make a little examination, the result of which is as follows, viz:

The amount paid out by the Treasurer entitling him to 5 p. ct. was $49,935.75.	42 496.78
And am't of unseated land tax, $3 952 35, at 3 per cent.	118.67
Total amount of commission	$2,615.45
The am't allowed by the Auditors was	2 769.56
Loss to the county by order	$ 154.11

Surely the Treasurer would not claim as his legal percentage a commission of 5 per cent. on money retained by him, or on the $783.28 for deeds. And yet it seems to me that the Auditors did allow him 5 per cent. on these two items, the law to the contrary notwithstanding. Yours, &c., TAXPAYER.

Letter from California.

TURLOCK, Stanislaus Co., Cal., Feb. 23, 1877.

DEAR FREEMAN—My last letter was written on the 22d of January. I now write on the birthday of Washington, this being about the only privilege left me as an American citizen. The Electoral Commission has built dozed every right that freemen ever had, and I would feel greatly disheartened, only for the cheerful climate here, which buoys up the spirits and inspires a faint hope that the masses will soon get their eyes opened as to the deep and dark designs of the Washington thieves.

SUN RISE.

I say cheerful climate for there can be nothing more cheerful in nature than a California sun-rise. The surface is level, and though the Sierra Nevada mountains are high, yet we absolutely look down to see the sun rising. The distant snow-covered mountains shine like white caps on the ocean, as the glorious orb of day commences to ascend the blue walls of the orient, while the bright light, bursting suddenly upon our plains, cast shadows miles in length, and gives the signal for ten thousand feathered warblers to join their voices in the hymn of thanks to the Author of all good. Then this light, falling upon the ten millions of wild flowers which carpet the plains, reflect back a mixed radiance of red, white and blue, which, not unlike the light refracted by blue glass, imparts a healing and curative power to body and mind, restoring the tone of languid nature and making one feel new all over.

THE CONTRAST.

Contrast this state of things with your climate of deep snows, cold winds, penetrating moisture and ice, and the reflection chills the heart of the writer and almost freezes the ink as it flows from his pen. While we are plowing and killing snakes, flies and mosquitoes, you are shoveling snow, piling up the coal on the grate, poking the stove, buttoning your overcoat, and breaking your teeth eating frozen bread. The wheat that was sown ten days ago is up beautifully, and already gives a green tinge to the up-turned surface, while that sown a month ago is decidedly green.

AT WORK.

Our men are still busily engaged plowing and sowing at the rate of one hundred and fifty acres a week, and will not be through till the first of March—perhaps not until the fatal 4th. Last week they plowed and sowed a barley patch, which, owing to the level nature of the ground, does not seem larger than a garden, but which is half a mile long and one hundred and fifty rods wide, and contains one hundred and fifty acres. Farmers are sanguine in hope, and it needs hope here—strong hope. We have not had sufficient rain to saturate the soil completely, but we hope almost against hope to have a shower yet in February, and perhaps one in April or May. It seldom rains in March here. This is a month of high winds, much like in the state. "The stormy March has come at last" is as true of California as of Pennsylvania. Cold northwest winds blow nearly all the month. I should say "cool," not cold. What you mean by cold is shivering over a hot fire with an overcoat on. What we mean by cold is when we take off both coat and vest, and open the button of one's shirt collar, or when rattle-snakes cease to go abroad. We killed one the other day which had eight rattles, just as many as Louisiana had fraudulent electoral votes. This is significant. We may yet bruise the head of the serpent.

Yours, ROB ROY.

ABIDE WITH ME!

Dedicated with the highest respect and esteem to Hon. R. L. Johnston.

"Abide with us for it is toward evening and the day is far spent."

Abide with me, fast falls the eventide;
The darkness deepens, Lord with me abide;
When other helpers fail, and comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O abide with me!

Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see;
O Thou who changest not, abide with me!

I need Thy presence every passing hour;
What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who like Thyself my guide and stay can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, Lord abide with me!

I fear no foe with Thee at hand to bless;
Ills have no weight and tears no bitterness;
Where is death's sting? where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still if Thou abide with me!

Hold Thou Thy Cross before my closing eyes;
Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies:
Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee;
In life, in death, O Lord abide with me!—Amen.

HYMENIAL.

THOMAS—DAVIS.—Married, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. I. Hughes, on Wednesday, Feb. 21, 1877, Mr. JOS. O. THOMAS and Miss CATHARINE J. DAVIS, all of Cambria township.

OBITUARY.

PARRISH.—Died, at his residence in Munster township, on Sunday morning, Feb. 25th, 1877, Mr. PETER PARRISH, aged 62 years and 8 months.

The subject of this notice, whose death was preceded by less than three days' illness, or at least by partial confinement to bed for that length of time only, was one of the most upright and God-fearing men that we ever knew—a perfect model, indeed, of Christian meekness and unassuming though not unappreciated manhood—and living as he did in the full enjoyment of the confidence and esteem of all his neighbors and acquaintances, his death could not fail to call forth, as it has, the heartfelt sympathies of the entire community of which he had so long been an honored part. The deceased was born and passed his entire life in the neighborhood in which he died, and as it can with entire truth be said of him that he kept the salvation of his own soul and the well being of those about him, relatives as well as neighbors, at all times in full view, it is far from presumptious, now that his long and useful career is ended, to believe, as we honestly do, that he has found favor in the sight of that Heavenly Father whose mercies are unbounded. His mortal remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Loretto on Tuesday forenoon, whither they were followed by one of the largest funeral processions that has ever paid tribute, in this county at least, to moral worth and true Christian fidelity. The deceased was the father of a large family, all of whom are full grown and well worthy of such a sire. May he rest in peace eternal.

SKELLY.—Died, near Wilmore, on Friday, Feb. 23, 1877, of typhoid fever, CELIE, youngest child of John and Catharine Skelly and adopted daughter of Daniel and Agnes Skelly, aged 10 years.

Our Celie is dead, her spirit has fled,
And our homes are now dreary and lone;
We listen in vain for a voice sweet and glad,
Which for ever and ever is gone.
We long for a glance of her beautiful eye,
Which has closed in a long, dreamless sleep,
And never again with the love light will beam,
And never again waken to weep. E.

EASLY.—Died, in Johnstown, on Friday evening, Feb. 23, 1877, ELIZABETH G., youngest daughter of Hon. Geo. W. Easly aged 29 years, 11 months and 23 days. Requiescant in pace.

KAYLOR.—Died, in Munster township, on Tuesday last, of dyptheria, MYRTLE CECELIA, youngest daughter of Henry and Mary E. Kaylor, aged 2 years 10 months and 1 day.

WANTED—FARMS TO SELL. —I have hundreds of applicants for FARMS just now. Also, rentable city properties to exchange for Farms. Hundreds of people crowd into my office, and I cannot get sufficient Farms. I have lots of customers for good improved farms—all cash. Write or call as soon as possible, and, if not too far distant, I will go and see the property. S. M. JAMES, Farm Agency, 134 Smithfield st., Pittsburgh, near the Post office. [2-23 -1y.]
