At night the old gander takes a position on the from porch of the house and it is said to be a veritable fact that the very moment Mr. Myers sets foot upon the floor in getting out of bed in the morning, the gladsome "quack! quack!" of his weel-footed friend is about the first sound that greets his ears. And what is still more singular is the alleged fact that no other footstep in the house meets with a like recognition, or indeed any recognition at all, from the same source. This singular manifestation of love for a human being on part of one among the least impressible of all domestic fowls, strikes us as a rather a strange anomoly, and as such we commend it to the attention of those who take an interest in what seems to be more than a manifestation of mere brute instinct.

... THE LLOYD BANKRUPTCY CASE .- On Thursday last, in the U.S. District Court, Pittsburgh, the case of Thomas L. Richey et. al. vs. Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., came lup again. Certain creditors asked, and leave was granted, to file intervening petitions. On the 21st ult., the Court made a decision, published in our last, finding that the creditors petitioning were short $90,000 of the statutory amount to throw Mr. Lloyd into bankruptcy. The additional petitions filed on this occasion amounted to $127,000. Friday a rule issued to show cause why the record should not be amended as respects the filing of petitions under order of the 8th ult,, so that the date of filing should be made August 23, 1876. On Saturday the Court ordered the petitioners to show cause why the petition left with Register Shaffer, at Altoona, should not be referred to the Regis-Returnable the 10th inst. On Monday the order of reference made on the 3d inst.

was revoked. This case drags itself along very slowly, and if it takes Judge Ketcham as long to render a decision on the offer to amend the record and grant the prayer of the petition-ing creditors as in the first instance, another year will have elapsed ere these interested will know whether Mr. Lloyd's affairs are to be wound up in bankruptcy, or at the hands of his assignees, as first proposed.-Altoona

-In giving place two weeks ago to a communication from Mr. A. J. Rhey in which he took exceptions to certain conclusions reached by the Auditors in their statement of the receipts and expenditures of the county, the FREEMAN did what it always does, needed the right to criticize the acts of people's servants, no matter whether friend or foe might feel aggrieved thereby. Not so with the Johnstown Tribune, how-ever, which seized upon Mr. Rhey's communication as a sweet morsel to roll under its slanderous tongue, and with that contemptible spirit which it always manifests sentatives, and seemingly forgetful of the fact that a Republican Auditor approved and endorsed the errors, if errors they were, that paper hastened to lay the communication referred to before its readers; but when Mr. F. P. McCormick, one of the County Auditors, replied through our last issue to Mr. Rhey's strictures, as was right and pro-per he should do, the Tribune did not have manliness enough, which of course could not be looked for in that direction, to publish the rejoinder and give its readers the opportunity to judge for themselves whether Mr. Ricey's position was well taken or not. Could blind partizanship go further?

.... -We have received a reply from Mr. A. J. Rhey to Mr. F. P. M'Cormiek, but as we have already given both gentlemen a hearing, and do not think it worth while to continue the controversy through our columns, we respectfully decline to publish the communication in question. We deem it proper, however, to remark that Mr. Rhey declares that he paid through his own exertions every cent of the amount he was in default to the State as County Treasurer, and that he considers it unkind to refer to the matter at this time. Beyond that we have no comment to make, except to remind those whom we are told look upon our publication of the first article as rather a breach of friendship, that we deem all the official acts of a public servant fit subjects for discussion, and if the gentleman who may possibly feel aggrieved was a brother instead of a warm personal friend of our own, we should not have hesitated about doing what we did do.

Communication. THE MURPHY MOVEMENT. MR. EDITOR—During the past two weeks Ebensburg has undergone an experience in "temperance reform" the like of which was never known before in this community. The movement began by two prayer-meetings held in the Presbyterian and Congr.gational in the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 27th and 28th.

The meetings have been conducted on the plan inaugurated by Francis Murphy, the great apostle of temperance. The basis of the work is "the help of God," and the motto of the workers, "with malice toward none and charity for all."

for all."

Starting with such principles, the movement has been very successful. Horetofore the great ties of "the common brotherhood" of men have been to a great degree ignored and disregarded: The drinking man, the dronkard, and the vender of intoxicating liquors, have either been made a laughing-stock or held up to scorn. In the present reformation the heart of fellowship and love and the hand of help and assistance are extended to all classes of men. No ance are extended to all classes of men. No sectarian principle or political prejudice enter into the work, and nothing is recognized save into the work, and nothing is recognized save man's love for man.

On Thursday night, March 1st, the Murphy pledge was first offered to the people of Ebensburg. Meetings have been held nightly since that time and up to the present writing 446 persons have signed the pledge, and a goodly proportion of whom have heretofore been hard drinkers.

On Sabbath night the work was taken charge of by Mr. Mark Wilson, of Beaufort, S. C., who, being a reformed drunkard, did efficient service in the cause, and by his manly bearing, his sincerity and carnestness, no less than by the thrilling recital of his experience, brought many of "the boys" to sign the pledge. He was assisted for two nights by Mr. J. C. Gobright, a reformed arunkard and former editor of the New York Path-Finder.

On Tuesday evening "the boys" were temporarily organized into "The Young Men's Temperance Union," when the following officers were elected: President, Lem. Davis; Vice President, Lewis Rogers; Secretary, Festus Lloyd; Executive Committee, Sam'l W. Davis, Jas, M. Singer and Jno. Griffiths. The work still progresses and the meetings will be continued decing the present week. Davis, Jas, M. Singer and Jno. Griffiths. The work still progresses and the meetings will be continued during the present week, and on Thursday evening speakers will be present from Pittsburgh, among whom will be Maj. Butier, Master of Union Depot.

The best feeling prevails on all hends, for "the boys" are working on the motto "with malice toward none and charity for all," and we are sure that all are willing to say "God help the boys."
