-For three nights in succession, ending on Monday night, or rather at an early hour on Tuesday morning, this vicinity was visited by thunder and lightning storms of almost unequalled ferocity, the one on Mon-day night being especially terrific and destructive -in fact such a storm as has seldom if ever been experienced in this latitude, Considerable damage was done to growing crops in various parts of the county, and small bridges were either swept away or badly demoralized, but beyond that, so far as we have learned, little or no loss was sustained, if we except the drowning of a few chickens in the East Ward. -Nobody questions the superiority of W. & D. Rinehart's No. 1 Long Cut Smoking

-Judge Jeremiah S. During the celebrated Porter-Ritner campaign of 1838 Judge Black made a speech in this place such as few men but himself could or can make, and at its close a well known citizen of the county, who is still living, rose to his feet and moved that that speech be made over again but as such a proceeding, even if practicable, was not possible, the speech having been entirely extempore, the motion dld not of course prevail.

-Thousands consumers know the superiority of W. & D. Rinehart's Peerless Navy and Fine Cut. -Rev. Father Bowen, of St. Francis' College, Loretto had, we are sorry to learn, the misfortune to be thrown and trampled upon by a horse, on Sunday evening last, a very painful though not serious injury to the left shoulder being the result. The Rev. gentleman, who was at the time on his way to attend a sick call, stopped at the wateringtrough east of Loretto to give his horse a drink, and while there another horse and rider halted at the same place for a like purpose. This proceeding did not meet the kindy approbation of the first comer, which manifested its displeasure by elevating its hind feet in the effort to kick the other animal, thereby causing the girth to break and beringing on the disaster above noted.

-All good judges admit the superior quality of W. & D. Rinehart's Peerless Navy and Fine Cut.

-During the terrible storm of Monday night, the lightning entered an old-fashioned chimney at the residence of Mrs. Silas Parrish, in Munster township, and passing down the flue, set fire to a piece of tape which was used in keeping a large iron crane out of the way of the kitchen stove pipe, and after making a tour of the stove itself, which stood in the fire-place, knocked a few spawls from the stone hearth and buried itself in the earth beneath at a spot within a few inches of the kitchen floor. Our esteemed friend and patron, Mr. Thos. L. Parrish, of Altoona, who was sleeping in the house at the time, informs us that the building seemed to him to have been raised several inches from its foundation, but apart from this no unpleasant sensations were experienced, except that Mr. Parrish and the lady of the ise were afflicted next morning with a dull headache, though none of the other inmates of the house were in any way affected. -Ask your grocer for W. & D. Rinehart's Peerless Navy and Fine Cut. All first class grocers keep it.

-The Greensburg Argus says that new developments have come to light within the past week concerning the robbery, by a gang of whites and blacks, of the Miller family, near New Alexandria, on the night of June which reveal the fact that the person of Mrs. Miller, of Indiana county, who happened to be on a visit, with her busband, at the Miller mansion, was brutaily outraged by the fiends, and rumor has it that she died from the effects of her injuries on Thursday or Friday of last week. These facts, the Argus avers would have been revealed much sooner were it not that the Millers are ultra-Covenanters in religion, one of the peculiarities of which faith is an inordinate friendship for the negro, several of whom were participators in the hellish act referred to. The guilty parties are now in jail, but the paper from which we quote hints very strongly at a resort to Lynch law should the reports in regard to the death of Mrs. Miller prove to be correct. -Nothing but the best material is used in -The glorious Fourth came and went so tap of a drum or the tread of a soldier, and yet it was a pleasant day pleasantly spent, notwithstanding the lowering clouds and slight fall of rain in the morning. At the Catholic pic-nic the best of enjoyment and good feeling prevailed throughout the day, and the abundance of substantials and luxuries provided for the occasion were eagerly sought for by the hungry and thirsty crowd in attendance, while the music and dancing found many well pleased votaries, though not to the same extent as in former years. All in all, it was a decided success, and we are glad to know that quite a handsome sum was realized for the good cause. At the Congretional Sabbath School pic-nic, held in a grove north of town, a like degree of pure enjoyment and good cheer prevailed, and the lit-tle folks and their adult friends returned home in the evening well pleased with the recreations and festivisies of the day. -No. 1 Long Cut Smoking is not made from trashy lugs, but of the very best ma-terial. W. & D. Rinehart guarantee their brands. -On Monday last the new and elegant Court House at Hollidaysburg was dedicated with apropriate ceremonies, the occasion bringing together a large concourse of people to witness the interesting event. Most of the members of the bar from Cambria and Huntingdon counties were present, as was Judge Jeremiah S. Black, who held the first Court in the new county of Blair in July, district and Judge Hall, of the Bedford district. A very able and interesting address on the judicial history of the county was delivered by Judge Dean, in which he eloquently referred to the distinguished career f Judge Black in the different public positions he has filled. Judge Dean also, as was eminently appropriate, paid a feeling and well merited tribute to the ability and integrity of his predecessor on the Bench Hon. George Taylor. Judge Black did not deliver a prepared address, as it was published he ould, but made a few remarks in his own witty and peculiar style. The citizens of Blair county are to be congratulated on the dedication of their new Court House, which has been erected at a cost of about $125,000, and is said not only to be a model in its way, but as near perfection as anything built by human hands could possibly be,

"THE CONFLICT OF AGES."-Men differ on nearly every issue. There have always been opposite parties in politics and religion, though the measures fought over one day may be universally adopted at another, and those sacrificed regarded as heroes and martyrs. Medicine has also been subject to revolutionary disturbances. When Drs. Harvey and Jenner announced their discoveries, they were held in contempt and ridicule by an incredulous and ignorant public, yet to-day they are received and honored by all as benefactors. When Dr. Pierce annonneed his Discovery, many seemed to doubt, and were skeptical concerning all medicines and doctors, but proof of merit has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the Golden Medical Discovery is the standard remedy in curing the most obstinate diseases of the liver and blood, having almost entirely superseded the old-time sarsaparillas by reason of its superior merits.

NEGOTIABLE PAPER. - An Impotent Deision by the Supreme Court. - The Supreme Court, sitting at Harrisburg, rendered an important decision last week in the case of Woods vs. North, error to the Common Pleas of Huntingdon county, which is of great interest to bankers and business men, as it involves the validity of indorsements of promissory notes containing what is known as the five per cent collection clause, which was given by Judge Sharswood, and is as fellows:

It is a necessary quality of negotiable paper that it should be simple, certain, unconditional, not subject to any contingency. It would be a mere affectation of learning to cite which have established this principle. It is very important to the commercial community that it should be maintained in all its rigor. Analysing it to the note Sued moon in this Applying it to the note Sued upon in this case, we are of the apinion that it violates this rule. If it had been payable at sixty days, with five per cent., it would have been objectionable as usurious on its face. It would not, however, on that account have invalidated the note or destroyed its negotiability. A negotiable note may be made payable with interest from its date, and if more than lawful interest is stipulated for, it does not, in Pennsylvania, make the contract void, but only the usury. Hence such a note is sufficiently certain. It is payable at maturity with lawful interest. But in the paper now in question there enters, as to the amount, and undoubted element of uncertainty. It is a mistake to suppose that if the note was unpaid at maturity the five per cent, would be payable to the holder by the parties. It must go into the hands of an attorney for collection. It is not a sum necessarily payable. The phrase "collection fee" necessarily implies this. Not only so, but this amount of per centage cannot be arbitrarily determined by the parties. It must be only what would be a reasonable compensation to an attorney for collection. This, in reason, and the usuage of the legal profession determined the maint of the note. sion, depends upon the amount of the note-five per cent would probably be considered by a jury as a reasonable compensation upon the collection of a note of three hundred and seventy-seven dollars. But if it were three thousand dollars they would probably think otherwise, and certainly so if it were thirty thousand dollars. Now, then, can this note be said to be certain as to its amount, or that amount unaffected by any contingency? Interest and costs of protest, after non-pay-ment at maturity, are necessary legal incidents of the contract, and the insertion of them in the body of the note would not affect its negotiability. Neither does a clause waiving exemption, for that in no way touches the simemption, for that in no way touches the simplicity and certainty of the paper. But a collateral agreement as here, depending, too, as it does, upon its reasonableness, to be determined by the verdict of a jury, is entirely different. It may be well characterized, like an agreement to confess a judgment was by Chief Justice Gibson, as "luggage," which negotiable paper, riding as it loes, on the wings of the wind, is not a courier able to carry.

If this collateral agreement may be introduced with impunity, what may not be? It is the first step in the wrong direction which costs.

These instruments may come to be lumbered

These instruments may come to be lumbered up with all sorts of stipulations, and all sorts of difficulties, contentions and litigation results. It is the best rule obsta principles. Judgment The case came up on writ of error from Judge Dean, of Huntingdon, who had decided such paper to be negotiable.

It is asserted by a Philadelphia paper, that the amount of such notes corrent in the interior and western counties of the State, represent not less than five million dollars. This is possibly an exaggeration, but it is well known that the amount is very large. ....

SAD SUICIDE IN BLACKLICK TOWNSHIP.

-An intelligent and respectable young man named William Cameron, son of Mr. John Cameron, of Blacklick township, committed suicide on last Saturday afternoon by entting his throat from ear to ear with a razor, thereby severing the windpipe and causing almost instant death. The victim of this shocking tragedy, who was aged about 27 years, followed the occupation of school teaching for several years past, in which we are told he was quite proficient, but at the close of the recent term at Brallier's school, manufacture of W. & D. Rinehart's in said township, of which he had charge, he went to Alleghany county, where he became paster of a Methodist congregation, far as Ebensburg was concerned without the having previously, we believe, preached on several occasions with great success, but whether as a probationist or a licensed minister we are not prepared to say. Be that as it may, however, he gave up his charge in Allegheny county in course of a few weeks and returned to his home in Blacklick town ship, where he has ever since been laboring under a disease of the mind which was not only painfully apparent to his friends, but of which he himself was fully aware, as is evidenced by the fact that he requested his family to keep a close watch upon his move-ments, as he feared that he would do himself bodily harm. Matters continued in this way until the time above mentioned, young Cameron's friends meantime scarcely per mitting him out of their sight, when he and his father, in company with two neighbors named Empfield and Bracken, paid a visit to the eld gentleman's saw-mill, near which his father and Mr. Empfield seated themselves on a log, while young Cameron and Mr. Bracken continued their walk for some distance further, the former finally, how ever, bastily excusing himself and abruptly parting with his companion, who hastened back and informed the other two gentlemen of the circumstance. Alarmed at this time of events, Mr. Cameron, accompanied by Messrs. Empfield and Bracken, went in search of the truant, whom they soon after found in a dense laurel thicket, with his throat cut from ear to ear, as already stated, and life totally extinct, the unfortunate young man having evidently perpetrated the rash act and then crawled into the thicket while his life's blood was rapidly oozing away. That he was not in his right mind when he committed self-murder is of course beyond question, and that his mental derangement was the result of close and severe study seems to be equally certain. Being a man of more than ordinary ability and great promise, and possessing as he did the respect and good will of all who knew him, his sad and shocking death is one of the most lamentable we have ever been called upon to chronicle; and it is almost needless to say

> .... DEATH OF A VENERABLE LADY.-We copy from the Johnstown Democrat the fol- | Physician in Chief to the King and Preserver lowing notice of the death of the venerable mother of a large family well known and greatly esteemed in that vicinity, among whom we may name Messrs. David and John Dibert, two of the most enterprising and successful citizens of Johnstown. The Democrat savs : Mrs. Rachel Dibert, of Johnstown, departed this life on Monday morning, June 25th, at one o'clock, aged 73 years, I month, and I2 days.

Few persons were better known to this community that the deceased. Her birth-place was in the neighborhood of Dibertsville, Somerset county, where she lived with her father, Mr. Christian Blough, a Mennonite farmer, un-til the age of twenty-two years, when she be-came united in marriage with Mr. John Dibert, For nearly twenty years they resided in Diberts-ville; Mr. Dibert being there engaged in farming, milling, and tanning. In April, 1846, they removed to Johnstown; Mr. D. here actively engaging in merchandising and manufacturing. For a few years they also resided in and kept the old Mansion House, corner of Portage and Franklin streets.

The husband of the deceased, Mr. John Dibert, is well remembered by our older citizens as an earnest, industrious, exemplary man.

He was a descendent of a Hollander, who emigrated from Amsterdam over a centur and seemed to have inherited the thrift, verence, and other good traits proverbial with the Dutch people. He died in November, 1849, aged 49 years.

Mrs. Kachel Dibert lived to attain the ripe age of three score and thirteen years—to be a blessing and soloce to her children and grandchildren, of whom seven children, forty-three grand-children and one grent-grand-child, are itving: One family now residing in Topeka, Kansas; one in Lancaster, Pa.; and one in Tren-ton, N. J.; while the others have their homes in Johnstown.

The deceased was niways known as a kind mother and a good christian woman. From early life she was a consistent member of the church, and was ever dearly beloved by tho who were associated with her. As a friend h said "her religion was demonstrative, cheerful and happy; and she so demonstrated the chris-tian graces as to earn the respect and confi-dence of the whole community, irrespective of Social or religious peculiarities." Her funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon

At two o'block her remains were taken from her late residence on Locust street to the First M. E. Church where appropriate services were conducted and a sermon delivered by Rev. Wm. Lynch, and from thence to Sandy vale Cemetery, where she was by tender hands and bereaved hearts laid in her last resting place until the hearts laid in her last resting place until last trumpet shall awaken her to giories held in reservation for the pure in heart—the ever blessed.

Her relatives and friends will ever retain a sweet remembrance of her character and worth. -Many of the eggs brought to market these days are a little too tipe.

Letter from the West.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, June 25, 1877. EDITOR FREEMAN-Almost three years have passed and gone since I "shd" from the top of the Alleghenies and landed in the prosperous the Alleghenies and landed in the prosperous State of Iowa; but as I have recently taken a new departure which has added a couple of hundred miles to my "western experience," be-ing now a dweller in the extreme western por-tion of the State, and as Council Bluffs is a place of considerable importance and interest. I have cluded to indite you a short epistle of a descriptive character.

First, then, Council Bluffs is, as you are aware from personal observation, having been here on a flying visit on one occosion, the western terminus of all the eastern railroads, as well as the eastern end, as the Supreme Court has finally decided after pondering over the subject for four years, of the great Union Pacific railway. You see the city of Omaha, just across the Missouri river, contended and insisted that the road terminated within its limits, all of which would if successful have here. would, if successful, have been "some"—in fact
"a big thing"—for the city aforesaid; but as Council Bluffs declined to see it with those opties, the result was a long legal contest which finally culminated in a victory for "our side," and as a consequence the U. P. Co. are about to erect a magnificent depot at this point, which, when finished, will be the finest structure of the kind west of Chicago.

Council Biuffs takes its name from the fact that it is Council Bluffs takes its name from the fact that it is in close proximity to the bluffs which in years agone were the scene of a great council participated in by the tnen "noble red men" of this vast region. The town is within a mile of the Missouri river, over which and plainly visible from this place is the big bridge of the U.P. B. H. U. P. R. R., a most marvelous piece of work-manship. It is about a mile in length and cost some $3,000,000. The fron piers upon which it rests are sunk into the sangy bottom sixty feet in order to secure a solid foundation, and then tower upward from low water mark a distance of sixty feet more. The approach to the bridge on this side is about as steep as the grade around "Horse Shoe Bend," on the Pa. R. R., and the labored puffing required of an engine in drawing a train up is only equalled by the ease and celerity with which it brings one down.

Council Bluffs is a city of over 15,000 inhabitants Council Bluffs is a city of over 15,000 inhabitants, and notwithstanding the present great depression in business, is exceedingly prosperous and progressive. It contains several fine buildings, among which may be mentioned the Ogden House, a new hotel recently fluished, containing 125 rooms or thereabouts and elegantly furnished and supplied with all the modern improvements, thus making it the most complete and extensive of its kind in the great northwest, and the Public High School building, which is located on the most elevated spot in town. The reasons for placing an institution of learning so high up are obvious. First, it gives the scholars good exercise in reaching it, and, secondly, it is thereby enabled to turn out its graduates with a higher and more exalted knowledge of what they have really learned by knowledge of what they have really learned by climbing the educational "ladder." By ascending one of these bills a magnificent view of the country for miles around, as well in Iowa as Nebtaska, is obtained. The fertile fields of the granger and the busy workshops and far-reaching railroads of the mechanics ap-pear before the vision-a vast and beautiful panorama of nature's handlwork coupled with the fruits of industry and civilization

This portion of Iowa is one of the most productive in the State, the crops here never havidg at any time been a failure. Little fear is entertained in regard to the grashoppers, as the late Spring cold snaps "laid them out" by the millions, and every means of extermination is now being employed to exterminate them, the latest and simplest method being the smearing of a plank with tar and drawing it over the fields, and woe betide the festive "h per" that so far forgets himself as to hop to this "infernal machine," for once on he becomes forcibly convinced of the isomeopurate a nice thing to tie to, and as a consequence makes up his mind to ride "it out that line if it takes all summer," Yours, C. S. C. it takes all summer."

I Written for the CAMBRIA FRREMAN. I TO "ROB ROY" MCCORMICK.

The far Nevada mountains fling Their westward shadows o'er your home, And pierce with high upreaching peaks The lofty arch—the skycy dome; And rivers course Pactolian plains That glitter with the golden grains.

Far different the scene from that. On which your earlier manhood gazed, Our quiet Pennsylvania hills By Shasta's side would stand amazed, And our tall pines that kiss the breeze Are small beside your giant Trees.

The broad Pacific rolls its waves In foam against your Golden Gate, And white-winged navies bear abroad products of your mighty And fire upon your mountains tall Wave signals to the nations all But still the skies are all the same:

That makes old Conemaugh so bright, And eyes both here and there still turn To where Arcturns' glories burn. But here or there, what matter where? Life's duties still are plain to view.

And in the light 'twixt wrong and right May we be found both stoat and true.

That when we're gone some one may say "These men wrought well in their brief day.

The same bright moon looks down at night On Mariposa's flowing stream

How sweetly on the evening air The perfume comes from roses east; I would that thus the memory Would linger round me of the Past— The merry days so freely spent When we, Rob Roy, were "first acquent, AUGUST FLOWER.-The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as a sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c. Go to your Druggists, Lemmon & Ebensburg, or to P. M. Woleslagie & Son Wilmore, and get a 75 cent Bottle of August FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you.
