But its subscribers shouldn't complain on that account.

- The full moon, which occurs to-morrow (Saturday), will be that wonderful thing known as the harvest moon, and for several successive evenings it will cast its mild refulgence athwart the earth during the entire night. Very generally there is an hour's difference from one night to another in the rising of the moon, but for a few days after the September full moon this rule does not hold good.

--Western Pennsylvania contributed seven more lumates to the Penitentiary and four to the Workhouse this'week. Of these, three from Indiana and two from Lawrence county were taken to the first named institution on Monday, and the other two from this county on Wednesday, while Lawrence and Cambria each furnished two to the Workhouse. Lawrence county also sent two to the Reform School.

-With an impudence that is really refreshing the Hollidaysburg Register avers that the evils of which the labor reformer complain "can be best regulated in the Republican party, which has always been the friend of the workingmen." This too in face of the fact that there is scarcely a curse upon the country to-day that has not been brought about by the misrule and debauchery of the party in power.

-Our big bodied and warm hearted friend Mr. Jacob Stoltz, of Chest township, delivered at our residence, on Monday last, as a present to the printer man, a bushel of excellent apples, half sweet and half sour, and a like quantity of choice potatoes ; for which it is needless to say he has the sincere thanks of the editor's household, all of whom may not pray for him, but some of whom feel like praying for a few more like him.
